Olympic Games Halted After Attack by Terrorists

MUNICH (AP) — Arab terrorists with submachine guns broke into the Olympic village today and killed two Israelis. They held a dozen others hostage against a demand for release of Arabs held for terrorists activity.

The Arabs carried boxes of explosives. They threatened to kill all the hostages unless 200 Arab terrorists held in Israel were released.

One deadline passed, then another. Meantime the Olympic Games were continuing, but it was announced that the competition will be suspended. A memorial service for the Israel dead will be held Wednesday.

Israel had asked that the games be halted and Premier Golda Meir denounced the attackers as murderers.

The deadline for action on the terrorists' demands was first set for noon, or 7 a.m. EDT. Then it was extended to 2 p.m., and later to 5 p.m.

A police lieutenant told AP correspondent Will Grimsley that there was a plan to storm the Israeli headquarters if the 5 p.m. deadline passed without resolution of the issues. Army tanks were pulled up in front of the building.

Chancellor Willy Brandt called a meeting of the West German Cabinet, then flew to Munich from Bonn to supervise in the negotiations.

Brandt appealed to all Arab nations to do everything they could to help achieve safe release of the hostages.

Police surrounded the Israel building and negotiated with the terrorists. Israeli diplomats rushed to Munich from Bonn. The Arabs refused to surrender.

Coach Dead

One of the dead Israelis was identified by the Bavarian Interior Ministry as Moshe Weinberg, 32, a wrestling coach. He was shot twice in the head and once in the stomach as the Arabs broke in before dawn.

The raid, a daring and apparently well planned operation, was carried out by about five men with blackened faces. They climbed over the fence surrounding the village and made straight for the building, also occupied by the teams of Uruguay and Hong Kong.

The terrorists tossed a paper out of a window of the Israeli quarters. It bore the title "Communique" and listed five points of an ultimatum:

1. West Germany must declare itself prepared to bring the Israeli hostages to a place to be specified by the "revolutionary forces" inside the Olympic village.

2. West Germany must provide the guerrillas with three airplanes. The Israelis would be divided into three groups and placed aboard each of the planes. After the first plane left, the other planes would in succession leave as soon as word was received that the previous one had reached the as-yet undisclosed destination.

3. Any attempt to interfere with the operation would result in the killing of the hostages. West Germany would bear full responsibility.

4. The ultimatum deadline would run out within three hours.

5. In the event the ultimatum is not heeded, orders would be given "to carry out revolutionary and just force in order to give the war chiefs of the Israeli war machine a hard lesson."

The communique ended with the appeal: "Revolutionaries of the world, unite."

Dr. Manfred Schreiber, Munich's chief of police, told reporters the West German government offered the terrorists an unlimited amount of money to free the hostages, but the Arabs refused. They also declined an offer to send in substitute hostages if they would free the Israeli athletes.

The Interior Ministry called the negotiations "very, very difficult."

The Middle East news agency said an organization called Black September took responsibility for the raid, calling the operation "Ikrit and Berem."

These are the names of two villages on the Lebanese border where Israel has refused to allow the return of Arab Christians evacuated in 1948 for security reasons.

Black September, formed in late 1971, assassinated Premier

Controversial Bills Faced by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back at work after a two-week break, the Senate prepared today to vote on granting a cash award to families of policemen and firemen killed on duty, while the House was set to decide on financing the antipoverty program.

Returning following the recess for the Republican National Convention and Labor Day, senators were scheduled to vote on a bill to provide $50,000 tax-free for the family of any policeman, fireman or other public safety officer killed in the line of duty.

House members slated action today on a compromise bill authorizing $4.8 billion for a two-year extension of the antipoverty program.

Run Into October

Congressional leaders are shooting for adjournment by the end of the month, but it is likely the session will spill over into October because of a number of controversial issues still to be resolved.

The first measure to be voted on by the Senate provides, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1967, for a $50,000 federal payment to the widow or other dependents of public safety officers killed while on duty.

In addition to policemen and firemen, this would include prison guards, national guardsmen and members of the armed forces assigned to maintain civil peace.

An almost-unbroken rise in police killings in the last decade led the administration to request the legislation. Justice Department records list 126 policemen killed in line of duty during 1971, compared to 37 a decade earlier.

The bill also would provide for a payment of $25,000 to an officer for the loss of a foot or a hand or blindness in one eye, and $50,000 for double dismemberment. None of the payments would be subject to federal income taxes.

The estimated cost of the bill is $6 million to $8 million a year. But since it would be retroactive to 1967, an appropriation of $40 million is authorized for the first year.

Another bill to be voted on by the Senate is designed to take the profit out of cargo thefts by authorizing treble-damage suits and other antitrust-type remedies by victims.

The Justice Department said this could serve as a deterrent against fencing and purchase of stolen property. Losses from cargo thefts are estimated at more than $1.5 billion a year.

Another bill would add methadone-maintenance programs to the methods of treatment that federal judges could order for heroin addicts under the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act of 1966.

The House already has passed this bill, and only Senate approval is needed to send it to President Nixon.

Agnew to Follow McGovern Before Southern Governors

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — The Southern Governors Conference hears more talk about presidential politics today with the arrival of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Agnew will address a dinner at the conference — two days after Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee came to this island resort for a three-hour parley with the governors.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, wounded in an assassination attempt last May, arrived Monday afternoon and also will be at the dinner. He was brought by helicopter to the 18th hole of a Hilton Head country club, where he was met by about 200 persons.

The conference, scheduled to end Wednesday, has been dominated by talk of presidential politics.

Two Endorsements

McGovern said he sought no endorsements but received two — from South Carolina Gov. John West and Gov. Bob Scott of North Carolina. Scott was the first Southern governor to announce that he would chair the South Dakotan's campaign in his respective state.

Scott, whose term expires this year, called a news conference Monday to criticize Democratic politicans who have shied away in large numbers from supporting the national ticket.

"I don't have much use for those people who are too weak to get out and support the party that has given them an opportunity to serve," said Scott.

Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, who earlier had endorsed McGovern, told newsmen he felt the two Deep South endorsements represented a "dramatic breakthrough" and he said he anticipated more.

But Mandel agreed with Southern governors who told McGovern that President Nixon currently was far ahead of him south of the Mason-Dixon line.

"It is a very good thing that the election is not being held now," said Mandel.

Presidential adviser Harry Dent arrived Monday and immediately began lobbying among the governors for President Nixon and Agnew.

He told newsmen that Scott put his political career in jeopardy with his McGovern endorsement.

"I don't think it was a wise decision if he has any future political plans," said Dent.

He said his soundings indicate the Republicans will carry every Southern state. Only Texas is in any doubt, he said, "and we can't see conservative Texas suddenly voting radical."

Olympic Officials Guard Hero Spitz

MUNICH (AP) — "I'm four years older and own seven gold medals," Olympic hero Mark Spitz said today in comparing his flop at the 1968 Games to the glory of Munich.

Spitz conducted a 40-minute news conference shortly after Palestinian terrorists stormed Olympic Village and killed two members of the Israeli team.

"I think it's very tragic," said Spitz, who refused to stand in the open at a microphone. "I have no further comment."

Following the conference, German soldiers escorted Spitz out of the huge Olympic press building and he was taken to a downtown Munich hotel.

Take No Chances

"He is much too popular to take chances," a spokesman for the German Olympic Organizing Committee said.

Spitz is a Jew of Russian-English heritage.

Relegating the questioning to swimming subjects thereafter, Spitz said he was "under a lot of pressure, but now I feel great."

The handsome, 22-year-old Californian swept finals in the 100 and 200-meter freestyle, 100 and 200-butterfly plus three relays. All came in world record time.

Asked who, including himself, was the greatest swimmer of all time, Spitz grinned and then answered, "I don't think I'm in a position to say who's better or worse than I am."

Spitz predicted before the Mexico City Olympics that he would capture six gold medals, but the then 18-year-old Indiana University freshman took only two relay and a silver and bronze individual medal on almost unbeatable teams.

In Munich, he won everything but the swimming hall.

Packed Crowd

As Spitz answered questions, he sat in the relative security of the packed crowd. His personal coach, Sherm Chavoor of Arden Hill Swim Club in Carmichael, Calif., was on one side, the U.S. men's coach, Peter Daland of the University of Southern California, on the other.

"I'm pleased to see this crowd and it's a great honor for me," the pre-dental graduate said. Asked about his public image, he said, "I tried to do my best. I have no control over what people think."

A small boy hung what was called an "eighth gold medal" around Mark's neck. Spitz explained only that "a lot of little children got together and wrote saying they liked how I swam."

A reporter said that Spitz and chess world champion Bobby Fischer now are the top American sports heroes and asked Mark what he thought of the other sportsman.

"I admire Bobby Fischer," he said. "And, I'm not going to take up chess."

Nixon Takes 'Nonpolitical' Side Trip

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — "Nonpolitical trips" by presidents seeking re-election are almost as old as the country — and Richard Nixon is making one today, to San Francisco.

Nixon decided to stop in the bay city en route back to Washington to meet aboard a ferryboat with members of his Citizens' Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality.

The focal point of Nixon's San Francisco stopover is his proposal to create a Golden Gate National Recreation Area — a plan awaiting approval by Congress.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that because Nixon would be wearing his presidential hat during the day and attending to official duties, the taxpayers rather than the Republican party would pay for his round-about flight back to Washington.

No Appearances

When Nixon flew to California the day after last month's Republican National Convention, the GOP picked up the tab because his schedule en route had heavy political overtones.

The San Francisco schedule calls for no public appearances, airport rallies or other things normally associated with overt electioneering.

The Environmental Quality Committee is headed by Laurence S. Rockefeller and includes pioneer aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, entertainer Arthur Godfrey and former astronaut Frank Borman.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were joining committee members aboard the ferry appropriately named "Golden Gate" for a brief meeting.

The Nixons and committee members planned to be aboard the vessel for 35 minutes, presumably taking time to view some of the waterside acreage Nixon wants to turn into a park.

The President and First Lady spent a quiet Labor Day at their San Clemente home — at least until evening when they invited reporters and photographers who cover their activities to attend a poolside cocktail party.

Fischer Gets $154,687 Chess Purse

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — "Bobby has a check for his prize," says an aide to Bobby Fischer, the new world chess champion. "He'll probably cash it and spend it all. But he'll need a wheelbarrow to take it away in."

Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Russian champion Fischer defeated, both got good news Monday. They are getting the $122,500 in prize money put up by the British financier, James D. Slater.

Slater announced in London that the Bank of England had granted him permission to export the 50,000 pounds he offered as prize money toward the match. Fischer and Spassky will get the money in any currency they want.

Fischer's share from Slater is $76,562.50, making his total purse $154,687.50. Spassky's loser's purse came to $92,812.50, counting the $45,937.50 he will get from Slater.

Fischer plans to stay in Reykjavik for at least a week. Spassky plans to return to Moscow on Thursday.

Sunny, Cooler Weather Ahead

Fox Cities — Fair and cooler tonight, mostly sunny and continued cool Wednesday. Low tonight in the mid 40s, high Wednesday near the mid 60s. Wind north at 6-12 m.p.h. tonight and Wednesday. Precipitation probability 10 per cent tonight and 5 per cent Wednesday.

Appleton — Observations at 9:30 a.m. for the preceding 24 hours: high 70, low 58. Barometer 30.07 and rising. Wind west at 6 m.p.h. Humidity 84 per cent. Dew point 56. Skies overcast. A trace of rain.

Sunset today at 7:23 p.m. Sunrise tomorrow at 6:22 a.m. The moon rises at 5:13 a.m. tomorrow near the star Regulus.

Early next month, the planet Venus, now high above Regulus, will be seen quite near that star. And in November, Venus will appear near the star Spica.

Man Killed In Chemical Plant Blast

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — One man was killed and three others critically burned today in an explosion and fire at a chemical plant, police said.

The body of the dead employe was found under rubble in a burned-out section of the Ware Chemical Co. an hour after the explosion.

A newsman at the scene, near the Connecticut Turnpike, said the roof was blown off and walls and windows shattered, and part of the roof landed in a parking lot across the street. Windows in nearby buildings also were broken by the blast.

Fire officials said unexploded tanks of chemicals remained in the building.

Half an hour after the blast, flames could be seen shooting 80-90 feet up from the interior of the small building.

Residents as far away as 10 miles said the blast awakened them.

Cheap Tickets on Soviet Airline

Tourists Stranded, 'Imprisoned'

MOSCOW (AP) — Bargain-hunting foreign tourists have discovered that cheap tickets on the Soviet airline can mean cheap service and even imprisonment in a Moscow hotel when the line runs out of plane seats.

About 100 travelers from the United States, Britain, Japan, West Germany and other countries had that experience over the weekend.

U.S. and British consular officials who went to the airline hotel Monday were told that the Americans and British among those stranded had finally taken a flight to London.

There was no official Soviet statement on the situation.

The passengers had all bought tickets on Aeroflot, the Soviet government airline, and were supposed to change planes in Moscow. Since they were not stopping over in the Soviet capital, they had been issued no Soviet entry visas. But when they arrived in Moscow, they found that Aeroflot had sold too many tickets and no seats were available for them for several days on outgoing flights.

Soviet visas usually take weeks to get, so the stranded passengers were put under guard on the four top floors of the transit hotel run by Aeroflot. Some were kept there from Friday to Monday, or longer.

Entrances to the floors were locked, and Soviet officials made room checks. The foreigners were not allowed to make or receive telephone calls, but some finally managed to notify their embassies. They were taken to the hotel restaurant in shifts.

"We are not the guests of the Soviet state, we are its prisoners," said a West German schoolteacher who managed to contact a newsman.

Aeroflot refused to put the travelers on foreign airlines with space available because the Soviet line would have had to reimburse the Western lines in hard currencies and paid the standard fares.

Although one of the biggest international carriers, Aeroflot does not belong to IATA, the International Air Transport Association, and can sell tickets on its scheduled flights at less than IATA fares.

One stranded passenger said he paid only $475 for a $1,760 round trip ticket from New York to Tehran and return.

Transatlantic travelers elsewhere had their problems over the Labor Day weekend.

Trans World Airlines said the last 20 of an estimated 100 passengers stranded in Madrid without reservations left for New York Monday. Some had waited four days for seats. A U.S. Embassy official in Madrid said seven of those stranded had reservations, and they were put up at airline expense.

The Canadian government removed 31 passengers, including some Americans, from a Toronto-London charter flight Monday because they had been sold tickets in violation of regulations. Twenty were later allowed to rejoin the charter group for compassionate reasons.

Reginald Gee of Jefferson, Ohio, and his family had to buy new tickets to London on a scheduled airline. Gee said he had dealt with the Toronto charter firm by telephone and mail and when he picked up his tickets he discovered they were the return portions of tickets of passengers who had flown to Canada from England on Aug. 12.

Mrs. Michael Resnick of Rochester, N.Y., was ordered off the charter flight at Toronto but later allowed to fly after Canadian officials warned her she would have to take her chances getting home. She said she had paid the charter firm only $179 for a round trip to London.

"This is the last time I'm traveling on a charter," she said.

Not Swayed by Meany

Unions Think for Selves: They Still Support Nixon

BY LOUIS HARRIS

By 49-40 per cent, union members across the country are inclined at the moment to prefer Richard Nixon to George McGovern for the presidency. On the surface, this would seem to say that the rank and file of labor are prepared to follow the lead of AFL-CIO President George Meany in opposing McGovern. Yet the facts simply do not bear this claim out.

When asked if they tend to agree or disagree with Meany's political point of view, union members nationwide tend to disagree with him by a 3-2 margin. When asked how Meany's opposition to McGovern might affect their attitudes toward the Democratic nominee, 10 per cent said it made them feel more like supporting McGovern, 11 per cent said it made them feel less like supporting him, but a sizable 71 per cent said Meany's position won't affect their attitudes one way or the other.

An in-depth examination of union members' attitudes on key dimensions of the 1972 election yields one basic finding: Although they are more interested in economic matters than the average voter, union members differ little with most of their neighbors in their views of the candidates and on the major issues. If the union vote is to be won by either Nixon or McGovern, it is far more likely to be on the basis of the overriding issue in the campaign than through specialized appeals designed for the so-called "por chop" vote, on the one hand, or for the so-called "hard hat" vote, on the other.

In this election up to now, the union vote has tended to shift at much the same proportions and at much the same points in time as the electorate as a whole:

Union Vote for President

| | Nixon | McG. | Pct. Not Sure |
|---|---|---|---|
| Aug. | 49 | 40 | 11 |
| July | 50 | 39 | 11 |
| June | 46 | 44 | 10 |
| May | 35 | 53 | 12 |

Back in May, the division of the union vote closely paralleled the way it went in 1968, when Humphrey received 53 per cent, Nixon 32 per cent, and Wallace 15 per cent. McGovern was ahead by a 53-35 per cent margin.

But then, as McGovern ran into increasing trouble over credibility of his welfare plan, which in turn fed his rising reputaton for being "too extreme" in his views, the union vote began switching over to Nixon. As the Nixon nationwide lead soared to over a 20 point spread, the union vote went from 8 points Democratic to 9 points Republician. This 17 point turnaround among union members was close to the 16 point shift among voters as a whole.

Here are some of the highlights of the in-depth probing among union members over the past few months:

— Union members tend to be more absorbed with bread-and-butter issues than most voters, with 69 per cent of the trade union rank and file singling out economic questions as most important to them, compared with 58 per cent of the public as a whole. By the same token, union members tend to be slightly less concerned about such issues as drugs, crime, welfare, and pollution than other voters.

— Members of organized labor tend to be more alienated than the average voter, particularly on economic matters. For example, although by 43-41 per cent most people think the country is finally out of a recession, union members still think the nation is in a recession by a 48-39 per cent margin. While 74 per cent of the public believes that "tax laws are written more to help the rich, rather than the average working man," a higher 81 per cent of the union rank and file feel that way. Compared with 68 per cent of the public who feel "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer," a higher 73 per cent of union people feel that way. Overall, 53 per cent of union members are alienated, compared with 47 per cent of the public as a whole.

— McGovern's best chance to make gains among union members clearly rests in the economic area. Compared with 57 per cent of the public who feel that "President Nixon is too close to big business," a much higher 66 per cent of union members feel that way.

— However, McGovern has as serious a credibility problem with union members as he has with the entire electorate. By 55-26 per cent, a majority of all likely voters feel that "McGovern has too extreme liberal views," a point of view shared by 55-27 per cent among union members. Even when asked whom they think would do better in checking the rising cost of living, union members prefer Nixon to McGovern by 39-29 per cent. When asked whom they would trust more in the White House, by a decisive 53-32 per cent, the rank and file of labor say they would have more confidence in the President.

Although they will undoubtedly be taking a closer look at both candidates in the remaining two months before the election, union members are far more likely to be making up their own minds than taking their cues from Meany. In early August, a cross section of 1,635 likely voters was asked:

"From what you know or have heard, do you tend to agree or disagree with the political point of view of Meany?"

| | Pct. Total Voters | Pct. Union Members |
|---|---|---|
| Agree | 18 | 22 |
| Disagree | 36 | 33 |
| Not sure | 46 | 45 |

Then the cross section was asked:

"As you know, Meany strongly opposed the nomination of McGovern at the Democratic convention. Does Meany's opposition make you feel more like supporting McGovern, less, or doesn't it make much difference one way or the other?"

| | Pct. Total Voters | Pct. Union Members |
| More | 10 | 10 |
| Less | 8 | 11 |
| No difference | 73 | 71 |
| Not sure | 9 | 8 |

Not only is the Meany opposition to McGovern unlikely to sway many union members, but when asked how they responded to the Democratic convention, by 53-23 per cent union members were favorable.

Baltimore Mayor Is Street Crime Victim

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor William Donald Schaefer got a first-hand look at crime in Baltimore when a youth ripped the watch off his wrist while he was stopped in his car at a traffic light.

The incident occurred Monday night while the mayor was driving his private car near his West Baltimore home. Schaefer, who was not hurt, gave chase to a youthful suspect and was later joined by a patrolman, but no arrests were made.

Medical Ejection

DeMont Suffers Setback In 'Mark Spitz Olympics'

By BOB JOHNSON

MUNICH (AP) — It was a gloriously climactic day for America's aquakids, what with Mark Spitz' magnificent seventh and triumphs by Mike Burton, Karen Moe and Melissa Belote—but the lustre of all that U S gold was tarnished by the spectre of doping charges

Rick DeMont, an asthmatic 16-year old from San Rafael Calif , who had already won the 400 meter freestyle last Friday was ready to go for gold and improve his own world record in the gruelling 1 500 meters

But only minutes before the race DeMont was 'medically ejected' for having taken Ephedrine, an asthma medication Its presence was discovered in a routine urine test after his victory in the 400

'I can't say anything ' DeMont said fighting—and failing—to hold back the tears 'I put it all on my forms I did everything anybody asked I have nothing else to say "

With DeMont out of the race, Burton of Sacramento, Calif , streaked to victory shattering DeMont's record with a clocking of 15 52 58

I m sorry Rick wasn t in the race " said Burton, who finished nearly six seconds ahead of Australian Graham Windeatt and I m not saying I would have beaten him

The ejection from the 1 500 was not, however, the major letdown faced by DeMont He faced possible loss of his 400 gold as well The International Olympic Committee s Executive Committee and U S swimming officials were meeting overnight and a decision was expected early today

The German word for the spectacular water hole here is 'Schwimmhalle," but it could just as properly be called the Spitzhalle "

The 22-year-old torpedo from Carmichael, Calif an Indiana University dental student, owns it outright Seven times he got into the water and seven times he came out a world record breaking winner

The finale on Monday was in the 400-meter medley relay Ahead of him backstroker Mike Stamm of San Diego and breaststroke specialist Tom Bruce of Sunnyvale, Calif , gave the American team the barest of leads over East Germany

Then Spitz hit the water for his 100 meter butterfly leg—and by the time freestyle anchorman Jerry Heidenreich took over for the final 100 the U S kids had an unbeatable 12 or 13 foot lead The quartet was clocked in a world record 3 48 16 beating out silver winning I ast Germany and third place Canada

Miss Moe, of Santa Clara Calif led a 1 2 3 US sweep in the women s 200 meter butterfly with her world record mark of 2 15 57 Lynn Colella of Seattle took the silver and Ellie Daniel of Elkins Park, Pa , the bronze

Miss Belote, of Springfield Va who earlier had won the 100 meter backstroke became a double gold medalist with her 200 backstroke triumph in 2 19 19 also a world record Susie Atwood of Long Beach Calif was second ahead of Donna Marie Gurr of Canada

If all this U S swimmers swept and new world record business seems repetitive it is The U S men for repetitive it is The U S men for example grabbed 10 of the 14 golds available and took eight silvers and eight bronzes And the women won eight of 13 golds plus five silvers and four bronzes In all world marks were set in 23 of 29 events and no record from Mexico City 1968 Games—not one—was left intact

US men should be so fortunate on the track They got aced out again Monday in a race which for decades virtually had a 'made in America' stamp on it

Edges Black

Valery Borzov who earlier won the 100 meter dash became the first non American to sweep the sprints as he won the 200 meters in 19 99 seconds beating Larry Black of Miami to the wire by a fifth of a second

Rick DeMont

Mike Burton

Valery Borzov

Despite being second best Black was not impressed by borzev 'To me is s a clown," he said 'He s always running and looking around to see who s next him If he can run and win that way, all right But the days going to come when he's going to look around too much "

Kip Keino, a favorite to repeat as champion in the 1,500 meters, won the 3,000-meter steeplechase, an event he tried for the first time just four months ago And 16-year-old West German Ulrika Meyfarth

No Time to Look Back

Packers Focus on Chiefs

BY LEE REMMEL
Post Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — In the fast changing world of pro football, there is little time for looking back

Regrettably, a victory cannot be fully savored And, happily, there is not time to brood over a defeat such as the 31-10 reversal the Packers encountered at St Louis Cardinal hands in Lambeau Field over the weekend

Another opponent, not infrequently more imposing than the one just met, always lies immediately ahead—such as the hulking Kansas City Chiefs, who await the Packers in their preseason finale at Milwaukee County Stadium Saturday night

New Cast

Thus instead of dwelling upon the depredations of Jackie Smith, Bob Moore and Johnny Roland the focus must be on the threat to be presented by Lennie Dawson, Otis Taylor, Jan Stenerud and Willie Lanter leading lights in a cast which is rated by many pro football pundits as the most talented in the game

Even if there were an inclination to dwell upon the errors of the most recent past, such reflection might well be what the politicos are fond of describing as 'counter productive "

Ken Bowman, the Packers veteran center leans toward this theory ' If you let that kind of game eat at you you'll have a repeat performance week after week ' he philosophized following M o n d a y s practice which saw the green and gold regroup for the first time since Saturday night's misadventure

"It was just one of those nights when we couldn't do anything right and they couldn't do anything wrong The defense did a remarkable job in holding them to 31 points with all of the mistakes we made

Not Indicative

' But I don't think this game was indicative of the quality of ball players we have here or the quality of our team When you lose, you start looking for excuses You can t look for excuses When you lose, there are reasons and it s up to the coaches to determine what they are "

And that, of course, is precisely what Dan Devine and his staff spent most of the weekend

Danville Wins Title

BY ROGER PITT
Post Crescent Staff Writer

DANVILLE, Ill — An infield unsuitable for play had an integral role in a 6-5, come-from-behind, Danville win over Appleton Sunday in the Midwest League playoff

Appleton exploded for five runs in the sixth inning to take a 5-0 lead in the final game of the best of 3 playoff won in two games by the Warriors, a Milwaukee Brewer farm team

' We weren't able to protect a lead like that It was our own fault," Bert Thiel, Appleton manager, said, not trying to find an easy out

The fact remained, however that on every score threat Danville had at least one runner reach because of the field

Rourke Singles

Appleton jumped on southpaw Jerry O Neill in the sixth Dan Rourke led it off with a single into center field Mike Buskey, with a two-strike count, placed a sacrifice bunt which O Neill threw to first, which eluded Gary Martz and Rourke moved to third

Bobby Bridges lined a 2 run double down the right field line and Lamar Johnson scored Bridges with a screeching double into center field Fred Norton promptly lined an O'Neill pitch to left center field which cleared the barrier about 380 feet away

Holly 19 year old righthander from Elizabethton Tenn was a master during the first five innings facing only 16 batters The long layoff for the Appleton sixth in the cool evening air may have caused him to tighten up some, though, as he lost something at the start of the sixth

Juan Lopez greeted Holly with a line double into right-center Pinchhitter Salvador Rosario struck out Alex Rodriguez lofted a fly into left center which appeared to be an easy out but the ball disappeared in the sky — the game started about 6 p m and it was beginning to turn dark — and fell between Norton and Stolarick for a double Duane Espy chased Holly with a line single into left

Lezcano Singles

Jeff Dusek entered the game and yielded a ground single to center to Sixto Lezcano Martz hit a grounder to Rourke which looked like a double play but neither the original throw or relay had good velocity because of the footing and when Lamar

Brewers Salvage Split With Bosox

By MIKE O BRIEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Amazing Luis Tiant continued his comeback assault on the record books Monday, but four Boston rejects interrupted the Red Sox' drive for what could be another impossible dream pennant

Tiant once a 21 game winner but released by Minnesota and Atlanta a year ago hurled a five hitter for his fourth consecutive shutout 2 0 over the Milwaukee Brewers in the first game of a doubleheader Carl Yastrzemski s two run home run in the third inning was all Tiant (10 4) needed to win a pitcher s duel from ex Boston ace Jim Lonborg (12 8)

But the Brewers struck back for a 6 2 nightcap victory as Ken Brett (6-10), who came to Milwaukee with Lonborg in a 10 player deal last fall worked 8¹ innings for his first victory since July 7

Three other Red Sox' discards provided the Brewers offense Syd O Brien broke a 2 2 tie with a two-run home run off loser Lynn McGlothen (6 5) in the fifth Joe Lahoud slammed his 10th homer in the eighth while George Scott collected three hits and drove in a run

The first game victory temporarily put the Red Sox in f rst place by one percentage point in the frantic American League East race but the defeat dropped them half a game back

Scott who starred when the Red Sox overcame long odds to win the 1967 pennant, predicted Baltimore would outlast the Sox, New York and Detroit this year

' I d love to see the Red Sox win because I could go home to my family and see the World Series but I don't think they ve got enough, ' he said

When the Red Sox won in 67, Yastrzenski won the triple crown and had a super year at the plate " he said ' We had a 22 game winner in Lonborg No one is doing that for them this year Then we had more bench experience with guys like Dalton Jones Norm Siebern and Jerry Adair '

Tiant s 36 consecutive scoreless innings, in which he has allowed just 16 hits, left the Cuban-born righthander far short of the league record of 56 held by Walter Johnson of Washington The major league mark is 58 2 3 set four years ago by Don Drysdale of Los Angeles

4 Straight

However Tiant s four straight shutouts are one shy of the league mark set in 1904 by one G Harris White of Chicago

Tiant strung together four shutouts for Cleveland in 1968 but a shoulder injury two years ago nearly ended his career He signed with Boston s Louisville farm last year after being cut by the Twins and Braves and the Sox called him up in midseason

I never thought of giving up I ve been in baseball 13 years Why should I quit? ' said Tiant whose shutout string has lowered his earned run average to 2 08

But I think I was losing confidence because I wasn't getting enough work," he said When you hurt your arm some people are afraid to give you a chance '

Brett, who is 2 1 with a 1 20 Red Sox admitted the ' adrenalin flows harder when you pitch against your old club You can t help it "

Second of Year

O Brien s homer was his second of the year and first for the Brewers, who obtained him from the California organization in mid - season The reserve infielder broke into the majors with Boston in 1969

Everytime I do something against a team it seems it s a matter of revenge because I ve been with so many clubs he said ' When I came to this club there were four guys involved in the trade and we were all throw-ins

Scott said he has agreed to pay the $500 fine assessed him by Manager Del Crandall for making an obscene gesture to a fan here Wednesday night

' Del and I talked it over It was a misunderstanding and he was right and I was wrong Scott said, adding he hopes for a fast finish to put him in bargaining position to recoup the $500 at contract time '

' All I want to do is win, he said If we do, that fine will be just money in the bank "

White Sox Drop Twin Bill; Orioles Split With Yanks

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pennant scramble in the American League East is so wacky that the four contenders who started play Monday with only one half game separating them finished the day with—you guessed it—one-half game separating them

—Baltimore split a doubleheader with New York winning 4 3 and then losing 5 2 That dropped the Orioles into a first-place tie with Detroit, which edged Cleveland 2 1

—Boston beat Milwaukee 2 0 but lost the nightcap 6 2 and trails the leaders by one half game and three percentage points

—The Yankees blew a chance to take over the top spot by blowing a late 3 0 lead in their opener against Baltimore and wound up instead in fourth place one-half game and four points out

Oakland opened up some more ground on Chicago in the West Division—the A s lead by 3½ games—by splitting a 10 5 12 twin bill with California while the White Sox were being swept 2 1 4-0 by Minnesota

New York s Fritz Peterson blanked Baltimore for six innings in the opener and was staked to a 3 0 lead But the Orioles erupted suddenly in the seventh on Boog Powell s single a walk and Andy Etchebarren s second home run of the season

Lyle Gts Lost

They pinned the defeat on reliefer Sparky Lyle with a run in the eighth on Don Baylor s infield single a wild pitch and Paul Blair s two out double

The Yankees bounced back to take the nightcap by snapping a tie with three unearned runs in the eighth inning on run scoring singles by Bobby Murcer Felipe Alou and John Ellis following an error by first baseman Powell

Murcer had a double and home run earlier and Rob Gardner pitched 2¹ strong innings before Lyle came on again to notch his 30th save a club record

Willie Horton paced Detroit s victory with a two run two out triple off Gaylord Perry in the sixth inning again preventing the Cleveland ace from winning his 20th game in his third try

Horton s boy but followed Tony Taylor s leadoff double and an intentional walk to Norm Cash with two out Woodie Fryman surrendered Cleveland s run in the eighth when Jack Brohamer struck out but reached first on a passed ball and came around on singles by Chris Chambliss and Ray Fosse

California pitchers had allowed only five earned runs in nine games but Oakland jumped on Clyde Wright for four runs in the first inning of the opener—Gene Tenace Reggie Jackson and Mike Epstein had run-scoring singles—and added four more in the second on two run homers by Matty Alou and Tenace Nolan Ryan fired a six hitter and fanned 11 in the nightcap as the Angels bounced back

Meanwhile, Minnesota dealt the White Sox a severe jolt behind the six hit hurling of Bert Blyleven in the opener and Ray Corbin s five hitter in the nightcap

The Twins rallied to take the first game with two runs in the seventh when Jim Nettles doubled home the tying run, took third on the throw home and scored the winner on catcher Ed Herrmann s wild pickoff throw Rick Renick lashed a pair of run scoring singles in the nightcap

John Mayberry and Lou Piniella socked two run singles for Kansas City to offset home runs by Jim Fahey and Tom Grieve of Texas

Duncan, Randolph Cut

Packers Get Widby, Thomas, From Pokes

GREEN BAY, Wis (AP) — The Green Bay Packers got punter Ron Widby and corner back Issac 'Ike' Thomas from the Dallas Cowboys in a trade today and cut punter Ken Duncan and veterans Al Randolph a safety and Randy Winkler a guard

Also cut as Green Bay moved within two players of the National Football League roster limit of 44 required by this afternoon were defensive tackle Jim DeLisle and free agents Paul Johnson and Moody Jackson both defensive backs

The Packers gave up an undisclosed 1973 draft choice to Dallas in the trade

Widby with a career punting average of 41 8 yards, will assume the punting chores immediately, a Packer spokesman said

Thomas a second round draft choice of Dallas in 1971, is also a punt and kickoff return specialist

Duncan who missed most of the 1971 season with an injury, fell out of favor after Saturday s 31 10 loss to St Louis when he fumbled the snap from center on one punt attempt, leading to a Cardinal field goal, then kicked short and low on a punt that paved the way for a St Louis touchdown.

Randolph, a seven year NFL veteran obtained from the San Francisco 49ers in a trade before the 1971 season, was a spot starter at Green Bay last year Winkler in the league four years was picked up on waivers from Atlanta in 1970 and DeLisle from Wisconsin was the club as a free agent

All six men have been placed on waivers, and could be reclaimed or placed on the Packers 1st squad if they clear the waivers

State Skipper Boosts Lead In Olympics

KIEL Germany (AP) — Harry 'Bud' Melges of Zenda Wis increased his lead Monday in the soling class competition of the Olympic yachting regatta

Melges outsailed a field of 26 boats to win his second of five race

Stig Wennerstroem of Sweden strengthened his hold on second by finishing as runnerup in Monday s event

Don Iverson Wins $273 In Hartford Open Test

WETHERSFIELD Conn (AP) — Don Iverson of La Crosse Wis ballooned to a 75 Monday to finish the Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament with a 283 total

Iverson, who had earlier posted rounds of 69 71 and 68, won $273

Oliver Overcomes Crying Act To Spark Bucs' Double Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Oliver stayed up half the night diapering the baby, then really pinned it on the Philadelphia Phillies.

"I'm thinking about getting up with the baby every night from now on," Oliver joked after spanking two 3-run homers that started the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 10-0, 5-1 doubleheader sweep Monday.

Oliver's swats in the opener were fashioned despite the agonies of little sleep, the typical tribulations of a young father.

"I was really tired before the doubleheader started," said the Pirates' All-Star centerfielder. "My month-old daughter, Felisa, put on her crying act Sunday night."

After sharing the hero's act with Steve Blass' five-hitter in the first game, Oliver took a backseat to Bruce Kison in the second. The baby-faced righthander completed Pittsburgh's ninth doubleheader sweep this year with a five-hitter.

"You hear so much about our hitters that people forget that we have one of the best pitching staffs in baseball," said Oliver.

Stargell Hits 33rd

"The only reason that we don't have a 20-game winner is that our pitchers don't start every four or five games," noted Willie Stargell, whose 33rd homer boosted his major league-leading RBI total ot 108 and helped the Pirates win the second game.

Pittsburgh's National League-leading East margin jumped to an out-of-sight 13 games after the Labor Day activities. The Chicago Cubs, second in the East, lost a game after splitting a doubleheader with the New York Mets—winning the first one 2-0 and losing the second, 7-2.

The West-leading Cincinnati Reds split a doubleheader with the Los Angeles Dodgers and improved their margin to 8½ games. After the Dodgers won the first game 6-5, the Reds came back to win the nightcap 8-4 and move up a half-game on Houston. The Astros lost 6-5 to the Atlanta Braves.

In the other National League games, the Montreal Expos trimmed the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second, 8-7 and the San Diego Padres tripped the San Francisco Giants 1-0.

Ferguson Jenkins, bidding for his sixth straight 20-game-winning season, hurled a four-hitter for his 19th victory as Chicago took the opener from New York. The Mets won the second game, featured by Gary Gentry's first victory since July 20.

Mota Doubles

Manny Mota doubled home Bill Russell from second base with two out in the ninth inning to give Los Angeles its first-game triumph. iCncinnati came back with a 12-hit offense in the nightcap led by Tony Perez' two singles and a double. The Dodgers committed seven errors in the second game, a record for the Los Angeles team.

Hank Aaron tied the score with a two-run bases loaded single in the ninth inning and Felix Millan sent home the winnining run with a grounder for Atlanta.

Foxes . . .

Johnson stretched for the relay his feet slid and he came off the bag. Price Thomas flew to left to end the inning.

Dusek retired the first two batters in the seventh on good plays by Rourke. But Lopez hit a bouncer off Rourke for a single, Dusek wild pitched, and Reynolds had a passed ball to put Lopez on third. Eduardo Rodriguez, the eventual winning pitcher, then bounced the ball up the middle. Graff made a good play but was unable to get his footing as his throw to first was high. Rourke made another good play to end the inning.

In the ninth, Charley Moore ledoff by beating out an infield hit. Mike Buskey only moved a small distance toward third but when he pivoted to make the throw couldn't get his footing.

A Shade Late

Price Thomas then flew to Roger McSwain in right field. Rick Oliver's line single into left put runners at the corners. Lopez grounded to Buskey, at short, who made the play to Graff for a force and the relay was just a shade late.

The Warriors still had men at the corners with two out and a good playing surface would have had three . . . either getting Moore on his lead-off hit or in an inning-ending double play.

But Bob Stedman, batting for Eduardo Rodriguez, walked to fille the bases and Alex Rodriguez lined a 2-run single into left to score the winning runs.

Spitz Captures Seventh 'Gold'

thrilled the "hometown" crowd in the 80,000-seat stadium by winning the women's high jump.

In men's 10-meter platform diving, Richard Rydze of Pittsburgh, fifth going into the final three dives, rallied to win a silver medal behind Italy's Klaus DiViasi, the first male diver ever to win a medal in three Olympic Games.

"Fantastic!" shouted U.S polo team Capt. Gary Sheerer of Menlo Park, Calif., after he and his mates captured the bronze, the first time in 40 years a U.S. squad has managed any medal in the event.

The California-recruited team did it with a 6-5 victory over Italy. Traditional rivals Russia and Hungary Bbrawled to a 3-3 tie with the Soviets getting the gold.

In boxing, middleweight Marvin Johnson of Indianapolis scored an easy victory over Ewald Jarmer of West Germany and light welterweight Ray Seales of Tacoma, Wash., scored two knockdowns against Ireland's James Montague en route to a unanimous decision.

But light flyweight Davey Armstrong of Tacoma had neither the strength nor experience to cope with Enrique Rordriguez of Spain and lost a unanimous decision.

doing in a Lombardi Avenue projection room.

Surprisingly enough, Devine emerged from that grim task Monday in a slightly more cheerful mood than he had been immediately following the game.

"It really wasn't that bad, after seeing the film," he conceded. "It was as bad only because you hate to see those little mistakes cost you so dearly.

Great Plays

"Some guys really played reat great for us. I don's feel it's fair to the guys who played well to say we played a poor game . . . Some didn't play well. of course, and some just got out-matched, too.

"But some played extremely well. MacArthur Lane's blocking for example, was outstanding, even remarkable. Gillie (Gale Gillingham) played real well again and Rich McGeorge blocked well.

"Defensively, Freddie Carr, Jim Carter, Clarence Williams and Willie Buchanon all turned in way above average performances.

"Our breakdowns, actually, were the case of one individual making a mistake . . . And it wasn't always a rookie.

Passing Game

"As far as our passing game is concerned, there was nothing wrong with it that a couple of good catches and a little better pass protection wouldn't have helped."

"Basically, two things killed us in this game — Johnny Roland, who not only ran well but blocked like a demon, and our poor fielding of punts. Those two things hurt us more than anything.

"The consolation is that the mistakes we made are ones that, by hard work and concentration, we can eliminate."

"If we played like this next week, I'd really be concerned," Devine conceded. "Regardless of the score, I'm hoping for a good performance against Kansas City."

Short Week

He admitted that his team could have been tired going into the game. "That may have been part of our trouble," he said. "We had a short week (after playing the Bears the previous Sunday night) and the practices were long, I'll be the first to admit that. But there's so much to do. Everything we've had to do here, we've had to start from scratch. It's been tough."

"We're just going to have to get better. We really don't have any choice . . . We want to have a winning football team this year. The experience just isn't there, so we have to play better without that experience.

"We have to cut down on our mistakes completely and we're going to do it," he grimly assured. "I don't exactly know how, but we're going to do it."

Comfort Hudson

Devine had a word of comfort for the author of two of those mistakes, Bob Hudson, the luckless rookie who mishandled two punts which resulted in St. Louis touchdowns.

"Aside from getting hit by one of those kicks and dropping that other punt, Hudson was by far the best we had on special teams against the Cardinals, both in his blocking, and tackling."

Ulrika Mayfarth, 16, of West Germany, goes over the bar at 1.92 meters (6 ft. 3½ inches) to tie the world record and win a gold medal in the Olympic Games women's high jump event at the Munich Olympic Stadium, Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

Shear Edges Trickle in 'Blue' Race

BY GARY VERCAUTEREN

KAUKAUNA — Joe Shear proved that Dick Trickle can be beaten at the Wisconsin International Raceway Sunday afternoon. The crew-cut 1972 Camaro driver bested Trickle in the 100-lap main event, 25-lap heat race, and during qualifications.

Shear, who has won five track championships at the Rockford, Ill., Speedway, paced the 43-car field all afternoon and brought the crowd of 5,851 spectators to its feet as he nipped Trickle by one car length at the finish of the 100-lap feature race.

Trickle, of Wisconsin Rapids, managed to hold onto his point lead for the 3-race series and became the official state champion with a total of 2,440 points. Shear piled up 2,110 which was good enough for second place in the "Red, White, and Blue" series.

33 Car Field

Larry Behrens of Northfield, Minn., paced the 33 car starting field for one-lap before Lyle Nabblefeldt took over. The Nekoosa veteran set the pace until the seventh lap when Tom Reffner of Rudolph roared past him in his 1970 Mustang 455.

Dick Trickle

Reffner held off Shear until the 22nd circuit.

Shear built up a quarter of a lap margin which was chopped in half on the 87th lap when starter Bob Frank waved the yellow flag in order to allow the track crew to remove debris from the first turn. On the restart Trickle began to whittle down Shear's lead and by the 97th round he was breathing down the leader's tailpipes. Trickle made a last lap attempt to slip past Shear, but fell one car length short at the finish line.

Regeth Wins

Shear's victory was worth $1,000 while Trickle picked up $700 for second. Third position went to Larry Detjens in his 1972 Dodge Challenger with Reffner placing fourth, Jim Sauter fifth, Jim Back sixth, Marlin Walbeck seventh, Rich Davis eighth, Behrens ninth, and John Scott tenth.

Roger Regeth of Kimberly ran away with the first heat. He outdistanced the pack for an easy win with his bright blue 1969 Camaro convertible. In the feature race Regeth saw any hopes of a victory go out the window when he was forced to make a pit stop to change a worn out tire losing two laps in the process. His 16th place finish was the best of all the Fox Valley entries.

The first heat was marred by a four car crash on the fourth lap in the third turn. Bob Abitz of Wausau and Ben Olson of Janesville tangled sending Abitz's 1970 Plymouth into the rail. Greg Delapp of Mauston and Baraboo's Roy Peterson joined the spill as they came around the turn. The track was cleared with Olson and Abitz returning to the pits for repairs. Lee Gregorie of Minneapolis, Minn. spun twice during the race causing two caution flag periods.

Don James of Bloomington, Minn. gunned his purple 1972 Chevelle to victory in the second 25-lap heat race. James swept past early leader, Rich Davis of Highwood, Ill., on the final lap.

3-Car Crash

The third heat was halted on the 14th lap when Boyce Sparkman from Loves Park, Ill. spun and rammed into the third turn wall. Marv Marzofka of Nekoosa piled his 1972 Camaro into the rear of Sparkman's 1972 Chevelle and was rapped from the rear by Dennis Burgan of Wadsworth, Ill. Sparkman's car was damaged too heavily to continue, but Marzofka and Burgan returned to compete in the feature event.

Shear's fastest qualifying time of 21.62 was just off the record mark established by A. J. Moldenhauer of Madison on July 16. Moldenhauer was clocked in 21.60 seconds.

Martin Ignites Wrightstown Past Marion, 28 to 0

WRIGHTSTOWN — Larry Martin rushed for 173 yards in 28 carries en route to scoring three touchdowns as the Wrightstown Tigers blanked Marion, 28-0, in a non-conference game here Saturday afternoon.

Martin got the Tigers on the board in the first quarter on an 11-yard run, and he also ran over for the extra points.

After a scoreless second period, Martin rushed for two TDs on runs of six and 43 yards in the third session.

Fondy Team Winner Of Menasha Tourney

MENASHA — Boudry Electric of Fond du Lac won its third straight Menasha Athletic Association Slow Pitch Softball Tournament when it beat Pucci's of Waukesha, 8-5, in the finals of the Labor Day meet Sunday night.

Previously, the Fond du Lac entry placed first in the 1971 and 1972 mid-summer tourneys sponsored by the Menasha organization.

Jim Bogenhagen and Karry Karpathian cracked second inning homers in the Boudry victory.

Jackie's Beautes of Oshkosh won over Choice Realty, of the same city, 7-1, for third place.

Boudry's edged Jackie's, 6-3, and Pucci's routed Choice, 15-0, in the semi-finals.

Quarter-final winners were Choice (over Menasha Home Plate Bar, 10-4), Jackie's (over Oconto Bay View, 6-3), Pucci's (over Menasha Sabre Lanes, 11-2) and Boudry's (over Stan Johnson Ford, Neenah, 9-3).

Clemente Breaks Wagner's Record

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roberto Clemente broke a Pittsburgh baseball club record which has stood since 1917 when he belted his 2,971st major league hit Saturday night, passing the mark of Honus Wagner.

Clemente drove a liner into the leftfield corner for his record-breaking hit to lead off the third inning against San Francisco's Sam McDowell.

Vikings Subdue Oilers on Soggy Minnesota Field

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The offense of the Minnesota Vikings stood up to be recognized.

The offense of the Houston Oilers brought the wrong shoes, and had trouble keeping its footing.

The Vikings, led by comeback efforts, rolled up 399 yards and subdued the Oilers 26-14 Monday night in a National Football League preseason game.

Houston Coach Bill Peterson admitted after the game the Oilers had brought soccer shoes from Texas to play on a Metropolitan Stadium field that became slippery after a brief pregame rain.

Take Lead

"We weren't wearing the right shoes," said Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini, whose touchdown passes of 17 yards to Charlie Joiner in the first period and 15 yard to Alvin Reed in the second gave Houston a 14-10 lead at the intermission.

With Bob Lee passing for 207 yards, the Vikings took a 16-10 lead into the fourth period on field goals by Fred Cox.

Fran Tarkenton came into the game, reeled off a 26-yard run and set up Cox' fourth field goal of the game in the fourth period, this time from 14 yards out.

Tarkenton then finished off the Oilers by marching the Vikings 93 yards for a touchdown—a 39-yard pass play to Bill Brown on a third down-and-one situation.

The Houston-Minnesota game topped off a five - day Labor Day weekend that saw all NFL clubs in action.

Chop Rosters

The 13 games, next to last exhibitions before the regular season openers Sept. 17, were important for coaching staffs. The NFL squads must be chopped to 44 players each by 4 p.m. today.

Washington's Redskins started the weekend last Thursday by whipping the Miami Dolphins 27-24. Detroit got by Baltimore 24-17 in a Friday night game at Tampa, Fla.

There were seven games Saturday, one of which saw the Kansas City Chiefs end the 15-game winning streak of the Dallas Cowboys 20-10. Elsewhere, Denver demolished New England 49-24, the New York Jets beat Atlanta 9-6, Pittsburgh easliy handled New Orleans 56-7, San Diego took Los Angeles 14-13 in a neighobrhood battle, St. Louis rode by Green Bay 31-10, and the New York Giants defeated Philadelphia 27-12.

In Sunday games, San Francisco shut off Oakland's 4-0 preseason streak with a 34-21 decision in another neighborhood struggle; Cincinnati defeated Cleveland before 86,000 in Columbus, Ohio; and Chicago earned a 24-24 tie with Buffalo on a play that came after regulation time had run out.

Mrs. Weishoff Hits 602 in Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Mrs. Loyal (Donna) Weishoff started the Ladies Commercial League bowling season by rolling a national honor count of 602 recently. Her best game was a 255. Several years ago in league competition, Mrs. Weishoff bowled a 621 series.

Bobby Allison Hikes Earnings to $200,000

McCluskey Wins California '500'

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

There is something about the magnificent $25 million track at Ontario, Calif., that brings out the best in auto racing's "over-the-hill" gang and treats pre-race favorites with disdain.

There also is something about the foreboding and weatherbeaten old oval at Darlington, S.C., that coddles the favorites and gives the back of its hand to the "have-nots."

Roger McCluskey, a 42-year-old campaigner from Tucson, Ariz., kept the string going for the "oldsters" by winning the rich California 500 at Ontario Sunday, pocketing $127,609.09—equal to the best full year he has ever had in racing.

Top Winner

Bobby Allison, stock car racing's top money winner this year, started on the pole as the pre-race favorite and went on to duel David Pearson down to the wire to win the ancient Southern 500 at Darlington.

Allison's $21,040 paycheck lifted his 1972 winnings to the $200,000 mark and made him the year's top events winner.

There also was tragedy in a big Labor Day weekend that saw two of racing's premiere events—Ontario and Darlington—draw in excess of 200,000 fans.

One driver was killed and another injured in wrecks that spoiled the Lake Garnett Grand Prix at Garnett, Kan.

Ralph Miller, 37, of Wichita and a veteran of 18 years on the tracks, died when his sports car crashed after tangling with another machine. His was the fifth fatality auto racing in the U.S. this year.

Al Essig of Overland Park, Kan., was seriously hurt when his formula C racer struck some water-filled retainer barrels in the Garnett race.

Elsewhere, Jack Bowsher drove a Ford to victory in a dirt track race before 15,721 at Du Quoin, Ill. Gowsher, covering the 100 miles in a track record 1 hour, 2 minutes and 52.34 seconds, was paid $5,522. Butch Harlman was second in a Dodge. Don White third in a Plymouth, Ramo Stott fourth in a Plymouth and Verlin Eaker fifth in a Dodge.

Goy, Yeandle, Van Heuklon Tops Trapshooters

Walter Goy broke 50 straight targets while Wally Yeandle and Jack Van Heuklon had 25 straight in Outagamie Conservation Club trapshooting recently.

Those recording 24 out of 25 included Chris Bureta, Paul Steckbauer, Conrad Verhelst, Bob Bishop, Al Heilberger, Steve Mueller, Tim Wunderlich, Ray Racette, George Diehl and Les Wyman.

With 23 out of 25 were: Stan Holtger, Fritz Fischer, Jim Nelis, John Duda, Ernie Rowe, Roger Bramer, Don Promer, Jack Mueller, Jim Coon, Jim Hebbe, Frank Zimmer, Dan Hoeper, Jeff Krueger and Karl Neimuth.

The Schlitz Shots are leading the First Division, Fire's Forty leads the Second Division and Larry's Badger Bar retained the lead in the Third Division.

Owner Offers Share of Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The president of the St. Louis football Cardinals, Charles Bidwill, has offered to sell out his 50 per cent ownership of the club to his younger brother, Bill Bidwill, who already owns the other half of the team, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat reported today.

The newspaper said that an unconfirmed price of $6,000,000 was being asked for by Charles Bidwill the older of the two brothers.

Both of the owners were reported to be en route to Green Bay, Wis., for the Cardinals-Packers game tonight, and were unavailable for comment on the report.

David Joyce, Cardinal business manager, said however he knew nothing of the proposed deal. Charles Bidwill, although being president of the club, lives in Chicago where he is president of Sportsman's Park race track. Bill Bidwill lives in St. Louis, and has a more active interest in the affairs of the Cardinals.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF SEPTEMBER PRIMARY ELECTION

September 12, 1972

Office of Arthur J. Hoolihan, County Clerk

TO THE ELECTORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a September Primary Election to be held in all precincts in the County of Outagamie on the 12th day of September, 1972, at which the officers named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his name and address before receiving the ballot from the ballot clerk. The initials of 2 ballot clerks must appear on the ballot. Upon receiving the ballot, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth and mark his ballot. A ballot clerk may inform the elector of the proper manner for marking a ballot, but he shall not in any manner advise or indicate for whom to vote.

At a partisan primary, the elector shall select the party ballot of his choice and make a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the candidate's name for each office for whom he intends to vote or insert or write in the name of his choice for a candidate.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the elector spoils a ballot, he shall return it to an election official who shall issue another in its place, but not more than 3 ballots shall be issued to any one elector. Not more than 5 minutes' time shall be allowed to mark the ballot. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in marking his ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After the official ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show but so the printed endorsements and ballot clerks' initials on the outside do show. After folding the ballot, the elector shall leave the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him the ballot to be placed in the ballot box, and leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may be assisted by 2 election officials of different political parties in marking the ballot if he declares to the presiding official that he is unable to read or that due to physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot. If an elector declares that he is visually handicapped, he may have anyone assist him in marking his ballot or operating a voting machine. The presiding official may administer an oath as to a person's disability.

Candidates Vie for 99 Assembly Seats

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—When the dust clears after next Tuesday's primary election, 199 candidates, not including independents, will be left to wrestle for 99 seats in the Wisconsin Assembly.

They will be the survivors of the 317 candidates certified for the Nov. 7 election.

There are primary contests in 64 of the 99 Assembly districts created by the reapportionment law enacted this year.

Four of those who emerge from the primary will be American Party candidates, 98 will be Democrats and 97 will be Republicans.

The legislature's lower house will be guaranteed a second black member It could have increased representation for women.

Black Candidates

State Rep. Lloyd A. Barbee, currently the legislature's only black, is seeking re-election from the 18th District in an uncontested primary against Republican Joseph E. Nevels, who also is black.

All candidates entered in the 17th District, also in Milwaukee, are black. That district, with no incumbent running, has a five-way race for the Democratic nomination but no Republican primary contest

There are 24 women entered in the Asembly primary this year, compared with 15 two years ago. If all the women candidates possibly win both the primary and the Nov. 7 election, there would be 20 women in the Assembly next session compared with the present four.

Women candidates are political question marks in some districts where they are seeking election in areas traditionally dominated by the other party. In such cases, they usually have no primary opponent.

Sizeable contingents of candidates under 25 years of age are also reported by both parties.

Seeking re-election will be 79 incumbent state representatives; 28 of them have opponents in Tuesday's primary.

If all incumbents win Tuesday — 22 of 25 did two years ago — and also win in November, there will still be 23 different faces in the 1973 Assembly.

Some of those faces could be different but not new. A handful of former lawmakers are trying to get their old seats back.

Seeks Old Seat

In one such race, State Rep. Robert Quackenbush of Sparta will be facing Kyle Kenyon of Tomah in the third consecutive biennial GOP primary contest between the two.

Quackenbush ousted Kenyon in 1970, after a narrow loss to him in 1968.

Other former lawmakers in primary contests include Republicans Gregory J. Bock of Highland; Russell A. Olson, Bassett; Carolyn Blanchard Allen, Evansville, and Wesley Packard, Lodi, and Democrat Eugene S Kaufman, Manitowoc.

Several administrative assistants and other frequenters of the Capitol corridors also are attempting to gain entrance to the legislature on their own.

In two districts, the 4th and the 14th, youthful candidates with well-known parents are entered in primaries.

Youthful Candidates

In the 4th, Cheryl Warren, 21, is seeking the Republican nomination in a three-way race. Miss Warren, a 1972 graduate of Lawrence University, is the daughter of Atty. Gen. Robert W Warren

In the 14th, Leander J. Foley III, son of the Milwaukee County circuit judge, is running in a seven-way democratic primary, the most crowded primary contest in the state.

Only one district has a primary but no contest for the Nov 7 election. Assembly Speaker Norman C. Anderson is pitted against Thomas T. George, a Madison alderman, for the free ride in November.

Majority Leader Anthony S. Earl, D-Wausau, has neither primary opposition nor general election opposition, as is the case with state Rep. John C. Shabaz of New Berlin, the likely successor to the position of GOP leader being vacated by Rep. Harold V Froehlich of Appleton.

Froehlich is running for Congress.

Third Librarian Conference Scheduled at UW-Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — Public and school librarians will learn about "Book Power and the Library" at the Third Annual Conference for Librarians being planned for Sept. 22, by the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

Sharing in sponsoring the sessions to be held in the Fredric March Theater on the UW-Oshkosh campus are the university's library science department and College of Continuing Education.

Payment of the $7.50 fee, which includes registration and the noon luncheon at Reeve Memorial Union, is to be made by Sept. 20, with Ben J. Zalas, conference coordinator for the UW-O College of Continuing Education.

Keynoting the librarians conference will be Daniel Melcher, president of Melcher Company, who will discuss "The Book as the Perfected Learning Machine." Melcher was publisher of "Library Journal" from 1947 to 1968 and general manager and later president of R. R. Bowker Company from 1953 to 1968.

Also speaking during the morning will be Margaret Edwards, former coordinator for young adult services of the Enoch Pratt Free Library at Baltimore. Her topic will be "We Have Been True to You, Melville, Dewey, After Our Fashion."

A panel of librarians comprised of Kathryn Flynn, Neenah Public Library director, as moderator; Mary Elizabeth Ledlie, coordinator of youth services at Milwaukee Public Library, and Beatrice Engel, librarian at D. C Everest High School at Schofield, will discuss their reactions to the two morning talks prior to the luncheon at the Reeve Memorial Union.

"Library Binding Today" will be discussed by James Orr, president of Herzberg-New Method Bindery at Jacksonville, Ill., to open the afternoon session. Audience reactions will be directed by a panel of librarians comprised of William Brandt, director of the Ripon College Library, as moderator, Gerald Somers, director of the Brown County Libary at Green Bay, and Eileen Diambria, acquisitions librarian at UW-Eau Claire.

The afternoon program will close with a demonstration of leather tooling of book binding by a craftsman from the Herzberg-New Method Binder.

Boaters Warned Of Electrical Line

All recreational navigation interests are warned by the U S Army Corps of Engineers that the Menasha Electric and Water Utilities have erected a temporary aerial transmission line across the navigation canal in the City of Menasha

The electrically powered transmission line is crossing the canal west of the Tayco Street Bridge at a minimum of 50 feet above the present water level.

All craft with masts of or extended antennas are cautioned to use care when passing under these lines. Warning signs have been posted above and below the crossing indicating the danger of the low transmission line.

Course Offered for Kindergarten Teachers

SHAWANO — A three-credit course on kindergarten curriculum will begin at 7 p.m. today at Shawano High School. The course is sponsored by the University of Wisconsin - Oshkosh.

Students may enroll at the first meeting.

Republicans File for More County Posts Than Democrats

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin Republicans filed nomination papers for 429 county offices while Democrats filed for only 241, a GOP survey of county clerks indicates.

The study said Republicans had failed to file for 83 offices, while Democrats failed to file for 271.

There are 71 GOP primaries, the report stated, while there are 44 Democratic primaries.

OSU Names New Head of Department

OSHKOSH — Appointment of Dr. James McKee as the new chairman of the geology department at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh has been announced by Chancellor Roger E. Guiles. He succeeds Dr. Thomas S. Laudon.

The appointment follows an election for the chairmanship by the members of the geology department and the recommendation of Dean Arthur H. Darken of the School of Letters and Science.

McKee, who holds the rank of associate professor, joined the UW-O faculty as an instructor in 1965. He lives in Neenah.

He received all three of his degrees from Louisiana State University but did undergraduate work also at Marion Institute and the University of Rhode Island. His specialities were paleontology and sedimentology.

While at Oshkosh he has conducted research on lake sediments and history, both here and elsewhere. A report on his two years of research on Lake Butte des Morts is near completion and a report on the paleontology of part of the Alabama coalfields is scheduled for publication this year.

Editor Seeks Person Who Talked to Pollster

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Who do the pollsters poll?

A Madison-based magazine attempting to answer the question has offered $10 to any Wisconsin citizen who can prove he or she was polled in the latest Gallup Poll on the presidential campaign.

The late-August poll showed 64 per cent of the voters favored President Richard Nixon, while 30 per cent favored Sen. George McGovern and 6 per cent were undecided.

But Arnold Serwer, associate editor of the Progressive Magazine, says the poll is meaningless because the sample was too small.

"In Wisconsin, they take one voter out of every 80,000 to question," said Serwer. "I don't see how that could be called scientific."

He estimated that only about 25 persons are sampled in Wisconsin to determine the voting tastes of two million voters.

The magazine announced Friday it would pay $10 to any state resident who can prove "he or she was interviewed by the Gallup Poll in the last week of August on the question of his or her voting preference in the presidential election."

Serwer said the money would go to anyone who could provide details of when and where they were interviewed by a Gallup Poll taker.

"We are trying to raise the issue that the sample Gallup used is inadequate," Serwer said.

"I'm keenly interested in seeing an inquiry by the media into how these national polls operate," he added.

Kastenmeier Criticizes Proposed Settlement of Drug Patent Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Kastenmeier says the settlement of a patent fraud case proposed by the U.S. Justice Department would "for all practical purposes" relieve the five drug companies involved of responsibility for paying the claims against it.

"This would be an arrogant sellout of the American consumer and taxpayer who has already been bilked for well over $1 billion in overcharges from this fraudulent patent," the Wisconsin Democrat who heads the House patent subcommittee said Monday night in a statement.

The government filed suit in 1969 against Pfizer Inc., seeking cancellation of its patent for the antibiotic tetracycline which it had obtained in 1955 And it asked for the recovery of an estimated $25 million in overcharges and damages from Pfizer and the four companies it had licensed to produce tetracycline. They are American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers, Squibb and Upjhn.

Suits Consoliduated

This federal suit has been consolidated with those of California, Kansas, Hawaii, North Carolina, Oregon, Utah and Washington as well those filed by Mutual of Omaha, Nationwide Insurance, several farm groups whose members use tetracycline in animal feeds and several other private litigants. They are seeking damages which run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Kastenmeier said he has learned the Justice Department plans to drop the patent-cancellation action and settle its damage claims for about $14.3 million.

"It's just a matter of time before it is announced," the Wisconsin congressman said, possibly this week during pretrial proceedings in Minneapolis.

"Of course, there is a real possibility that the Justice Department may ask for another delay in the Sept. 25 trial date in order to put off what may be a very politically damaging settlement until after the Nov. 7 election," he added.

aKstenmeier said that he will consider an immediate investigation by his subcommittee if the case is dropped.

American Candidate Raps Nixon

MILWAUKEE (AP) — American Party presidential candidate John Schmitz said Monday that President Nixon had pushed the programs of 1968 Democratic nominee Hubert Humphrey through Congress. And Schmitz said the current Democratic candidate, George McGovern, would not be able to get his own programs enacted if he were elected.

"McGovern is Nixon's patsy," he said while campaigning at the Labor Day St. Martins Fair in suburban Franklin. "I'm scared of Nixon.

"McGovern can't get his program through Congress, but Nixon can—just like he pushed Hubert Humphrey's platform through in the last four years."

The attendance at the fair was estimated by Franklin's acting police chief, Lt. Norman Pollman, at about 185,000. But the American Party candidate spent only a few minutes mingling in the crowd, and then retreated to the party's air conditioned mobile headquarters for two hours. Those passing were invited to "come in and shake the hand of the next president" but there were few takers.

Schmitz also visited the Veterans Administration Hospital at Wood as he wound up a three - day campaign swing through his native state.

Seattle Cheers For McGovern

SEATTLE (AP) — Sen George McGovern, proclaiming his spirit revived and his hopes high after a boisterous welcome to the Pacific Northwest, called today for federal help to create 25,000 new jobs at the Boeing Co. by providing cleaner and quieter engines for commercial jets.

McGovern, who voted against the Nixon administration's proposal for a federally subsidized supersonic transport to be built largely by Boeing, said the new program could be financed from only "a small share" of $9 billion in recently granted corporate tax relief.

"The cleaner engine would also improve the environment," the Democratic presidential nominee said in remarks prepared for a visit to a food distribution warehouse set up to feed unemployed persons here, many from Boeing.

More than 5,000 cheering supporters greeted McGovern outside his downtown Seattle hotel Monday night after his arrival from enthusiastic receptions at Labor Day rallies and picnics in Ohio and California.

"My spirit is revived, my hopes are high," McGovern told the predominantly youthful crowds, declaring that though polls show him far behind, "I'm ready for the uphill fight against Richard Nixon and I think we're going to win that fight."

Get Cheers

As in his other speeches earlier Monday, the crowd especially cheered McGovern's increasingly aggressive attacks on President Nixon and his most prominent Democratic backer, former Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

At every stop — Barberton and Chippewa Lake, Ohio, and Pleasanton, Calif. — McGovern lit into Nixon's Labor Day statement that the Nov. 7 election pits advocates of a "welfare ethic" with advocates of a "work ethic" such as himself.

"Mr. Nixon is for the work ethic on Labor Day but he's for unemployment the rest of the year," the Democratic nominee told a predominantly youthful crowd of 2,000 at a labor-sponsored fair at Pleasanton, outside Oakland.

When he referred to the Democrats for Nixon group headed by Connally, a chorus of boos erupted from the crowd. "That's the way I feel about them, too," McGovern said.

Later, in an interview with local television reporters, McGovern linked Connally with AFL-CIO President George Meany, who is sitting out the election while attacking both President Nixon and McGovern.

"I don't think that either Mr. Meany or Mr. Connally or others who usually vote Democratic, but this year have taken a walk, I don't think they're going to decide the election," McGovern said.

He criticized Meany's statement that he is an "apologist" for the Communist bloc as "total nonsense" and said "I don't think the American people believe it."

Would Lose

Although he said "if the election were held today, I would lose," McGovern said he is confident that, when it is held on Nov. 7, he will defeat Nixon.

After the morning visit to the "Neighbors in Need" central food distribution warehouse, McGovern planned to fly to Portland, Ore., for a visit to a senior adult center in suburban Gresham.

In remarks prepared for that stop, he charged that the Nixon administration has ignored problems of the aging and called for a monthly minimum social security payment of $150 for the aged, blind and disabled Americans; pledged to propose a complete pension reform program if elected; and called for national health insurance.

After his Oregon appearance, McGovern's schedule called for a flight to Los Angeles for some television interviews and an evening rally. He planned to spend tonight in Los Angeles.

Thousands Swarmed the 900-acre Bull Island on the Wabash River between Illinois and Indiana, during a three-day sodapop festival which ended Monday. It was estimated that as many as 300,000 turned out. (AP Wirephoto)

Festival Attracts 300,000

BULL ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Thousands of tired and disillusioned rock music fans deserted this scarred peninsula early today, leaving behind tons of trash ranging from makeshift shelters to panties. The last band at the Labor Day weekend Soda Pop Festival packed its equipment shortly after midnight, a few hours after promoters had left.

Between 25,000 to 35,000 fans remained at that point, still waiting for performances by headlined groups that were promised, but never appeared.

Police estimated nearly 300,000 young people flocked to the 900-acre island in the Wabash River between Indiana and Illinois for the three-day celebration. Promoters said they had expected no more than 75,000.

The homeward trek caused a mammoth traffic jam.

Although the site is in Illinois, the only access is a one-lane Posey County, Ind., road.

Indiana State Police said they were able to handle the bumper-to-bumper traffic by routing it directly onto the four-lane Interstate 64 cutting across southern Indiana and Illinois.

Police said the fans caused few problems off the island, which was patrolled only by security guards hired by the promoters. Indiana and Illinois State Police kept watch from the river banks, and at least 50 persons were arrested coming and going from the festival, on alcohol and drug charges.

The top attractions, Joe Cocker and Black Sabbath, had refused to play earlier in the weekend after demanding more money. Two other featured rock groups, The Doors and Faces, failed to perform. Dave Jamison, a staff coordinator for Evansville promoters Robert Alexander and Andrew Duncan, cited problems transporting the musical equipment onto the island through outgoing traffic. The groups themselves were flown in by helicopter, but the equipment was hauled in trucks, Jamison said.

Jamison said most of the crowd were gatecrashers. Only 30,000 fans paid admission before the concert was declared "free" and promoters lost money, he added. He would not estimate the loss.

Duncan and Alexander faced contempt of court charges in White County, Ill., today for alleged violations of an injunction issued against the festival.

U.S. Jets Blast Again At Chinese Rail Link

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets attacked North Vietnam's northwest railroad to China Monday and destroyed two radar stations used to direct surface-to-air missiles at American planes, the U.S. Command announced today.

On the ground, North Vietnamese forces mounted their third attack since last Friday against South Vietnamese bases in the central highlands. The Saigon command said the assault was beaten back and claimed 130 North Vietnamese were killed, 100 of them by air strikes. Government losses were five killed and 13 wounded, the command said.

The U.S. Command reported that American jet fighter-bombers carried out more than 220 strikes across North Vietnam Monday, with the northwest railroad and the radar stations the major stargets. Other attacks concentrated on bridges, supply trucks and water craft, mostly in the southern sector of North Vietnam.

The Air Force said F4 phantoms attacked three unnamed bridges along the northwest rail line at points 66 and 76 miles northwest of Hanoi and about 75 miles south of the Chinese border.

Heavy clouds prevented an assessment of the damage, the Air Force said.

The northwest railroad as well as the northeast, have been under continuous attack by the Air Force in a five-month campaign to cut the flow of war supplies from China into North Vietnam.

The radar stations knocked out were located 17 miles southeast and 10 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The pre-dawn North Vietnamese attack in the central highlands hit the Bau Can base camp, about 12 miles southwest of Pleiku city. The position, manned by about 100 government militiamen, was first shelled then attacked by infantrymen.

Lt. Col. Do Viet, a spokesman for the Saigon command, noted increasing North Vietnamese pressure within a 25-mile radius of Pleiku City, the capital of the Central Highlands.

He said the North Vietnamese 320th division had moved southward into Pleiku province from Kontum and was responsible for the intensified action.

Viet said, however, the objectives of the North Vietnamese were not immediately clear. He said he did not know whether Pleiku City would be a target.

U.S. B52 Bombers have stepped up their attacks in Pleiku province in recent days and they flew nine more strikes today against North Vietnamese troop concentrations and staging areas 15 and 18 miles southwest of Pleiku city.

On Monday, North Vietnamese forces from the 320th Division overran a ranger border camp 23 miles west of Pleiku and sent the Montagnard tribesmen defending the camp fleeing in all directions. Scores are still missing.

Olympic Games Suspended

Wasfi Tell of Jordan soon after that and last May hijacked a Belgian airliner to Tel Aviv.

The list of imprisoned terrorists whose freedom was demanded was reported to be much the same as one handed the Israelis after the hijacked Belgian plane landed. That time, Israeli commandos got aboard the plane in disguise and killed or captured the hijackers.

One addition to the list was Kozo Okamoto, survivor of the three Japanese terrorists responsible for a massacre at the Tel Aviv airport in May. He is serving a life sentence.

In Israel Premier Golda Meir denounced the Arab attackers and said: "One cannot imagine that the Olympics can continue as though nothing had happened, while Israeli citizens are held as hostages inside the Olympic villages."

About 20 Israelis were held hostage at first along with athletes from Uruguay and Hong Kong. But some Israelis escaped and the Uruguayans and Hong Kong men were allowed to leave.

A Hong Kong man said: "We heard some shots fired and then we were ordered to lock ourselves inside our rooms."

Later the Uruguayans and Hong Kong competitors exited through a back door.

Police who rushed to the village found Weinberg slumped outside the door of the buildings.

Police threw a cordon around the village where 10,000 athletes and team officials live, but after initial tension in the village athletes went to breakfast as usual. Many of them knew nothing of what had happened.

As the news spread tension grew. Athletes and coaches gathered in groups around television sets. The top athlete of the games, Mark Spitz, an American Jew who won a record seven gold medals in swimming, was taken by police to a hotel in downtown Munich as a safety precaution.

Early morning events in canoeing and equestrianism started as planned, as Schreiber negotiated with two dark-haired men outside the Israel building. Avery Brundage, outgoing president of the International Olympic Committee, said he hoped the games could go on.

A West German spokesman commented: "This violation of Olympic peace is an abhorrent crime."

'Vittles' Abound At Cook Out

Fair Skies or Foul, members of Elks No. 337 assembled in the Elks' Club parking lot Thursday for the couple's corn roast and cook out. At right, special guests Mrs. Kovacs and husband Joseph, president of the state Elks, were ready for corn along with Mr. and Mrs. E. William Stephens, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berner.

Hovering Over a Smokey Bin Thursday was Rick DeShaney, at left. His full-time task was to see that the corn was just right for the palates of the guests.

Below, Craig Loos was in a world all his own, an eating world, with an appetite for which corn just hit the spot.

The Conversation Came Later. For the moment the foursome above were content to empty their plates. They are Mr. and Mrs. Orvie Buhl and Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Wichman.

No Elks Club cook-out would be complete if Andrew J. Schultz wasn't there manning the ticket table. It wouldn't be the same if he forgot his umbrella adornment either.

Borcherts Wed 60 Years

LARSEN — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borchert, Fairview Road, route 2, Neenah, observed their 60th wedding anniversary Monday at a party at Brecklin's Viking.

The Borcherts were married Aug. 28, 1912 and have farmed in the Town of Clayton all of their married lives.

The couple has five children: Rudolph, New Richmond, Minn.; Mrs. Elmer Schroeder, Berlin; Mrs. Lester Manteufel, Mrs. Willys Clark and Carl Jr., all of Neenah. They also have 18 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren.

Membership Tea Features Soprano

The Appleton Woman's Club will open the 1972-73 club year Thursday with a membership tea beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the Lawrence University Drama Center.

One of the afternoon's highlights will be the appearance of Patricia Spielmann, Highland Park, Ill., who will present her original musicale "The Gaslight Era."

The dramatic lyric soprano blends into her shows the technical ability acquired from many years of voice study at the Chicago Conservatory of Music with the artistry gleaned from participation in community theater presentations.

For the past several years she has traveled the organizational circuit in the Midwest presenting her original shows — both concert format and musical plays.

While hed concert format shows are long on song and chaste of chatter, she has been described as the "singing schoiar" because the narrative components of her presentations reflect intensive research into the subject.

Also on the agenda Thursday will be the introduction of new members. Women interested in affiliating with the group are invited to attend the tea. Mrs. Walter Jaeger, second vice president may be contacted regarding membership.

Chairman of the committee for this event is Mrs. Harvey Buntrock who will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Peebles, Mrs. R. L. Swanson, Mrs. Karl Sager, Mrs. Edwin Wand and officers and directors at large.

Patricia Spielmann

Heise Family Gathers at Ripon

RIPON — Sixty-five persons gathered Aug. 27 to celebrate the first Heise family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heise, route 3. They enjoyed a potluck dinner, trailer rides for the children and an informal organizational meeting by the adults.

Relatives came from as far away as Apache Junction, Ariz., Berlin, Pine River and Manawa. The next biennial Heise family reunion will be held the last Sunday in August, 1974.

Couple Marks 50th Wedding Anniversary

NEW LONDON — Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Whitman, route 1, Fremont celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a dinner for the immediate family recently at the Franklin House.

The Whitmans were married Aug. 21, 1922 in Menominee, Mich. and have six children. They are Earl Jr., Mt. Home, Idaho; Jim, Bloomington, Minn.; Mrs. Keith Schoenrock, Appleton; Mrs. Warren Larson, Prairie du Chien; Mrs. Marshall Ladwig, New London, and Mrs. James Medeiros, Milwaukee. They have 14 grandchildren.

Recyclable Jugs

In many areas of the country, milk is now being sold in gallon size plastic bottles with built-in handles. After washing thoroughly in hot suds and rinsing, these jugs can be used over and over again for thirst-quenching drinks, with less filling and refilling.

Daughter's Leftovers Put Weight on

BY ERMA BOMBECK

I am sick and tired of people saying to me, "Boy, do you have it made. A sober husband, three healthy kids, a house in the suburbs, and a little part-time job to keep you in panty hose."

Well, let me tell you, my life is not all pretzels and beer How would you like to get up every morning of your life and confront a 17-year-old daughter who is 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 110 pounds,

Editor's Note While Erma Bombeck is on vacation, The Post-Crescent is running "The Best of Bombeck"

refuses to eat breakfast and insists, "I'm not hungry"

Every time she says it, it burns me up I set two alarm clocks to make sure I don't miss a meal and she says, 'I'm not hungry"

My husband says I am suffering from repressed antagonistic rivalry that manifests itself in many strained mother-daughter relationships and simply means resentment, jealousy and competition between us

"Nonsense," I told him, "it's just heartburn from the cold cabbage rolls I ate before I went to bed last night"

The other morning as I forced down three pieces of bacon she left untouched, I had it out with her

"Look," I said, "It's not normal to wake up in the morning and not be hungry From the time you eat your dinner the night before to the time you eat your lunch at school, it is 16 hours That's too long between meals"

"But why do I have to eat when you're hungry?" she asked

"For the same reason you put on a sweater when I'm cold," I said

"But some people don't need food"

"Don't need food!" I gasped, "May Totie Fields stuff calories up your nose for such a remark What do you mean people don't need food? I don t want to frighten you but a buzzard followed you to school the other morning"

"I can t help it It upsets my stomach when I eat."

"Do you know what you are doing to your mother?" I sighed 'Killing her. That's right I don't know how much longer I can go on carrying you When you were a baby I didn't mind eating your leftovers the strained peas, the mashed squash and the pureed lamb, but as you got older, the burden became greater Having two breakfasts for the past 17 years is beginning to show on me I put on weight easily. Remember when I got a flu shot and gained three pounds from it? But, if you don't care what happens to your mother . "

"The dog doesn't eat his breakfast and you don't yell at him," she said, stomping out the door.

You know something? With a little catsup, it didn't taste bad

New London Woman to Attend Safety Forum

Mrs Elmer Helgeson, 608 Dickinson St, New London, will join 16 other Wisconsin women interested in traffic safety during a six-state regional alcohol countermeasures forum on Sept 6 through 8 in East Lansing, Mich

The forum is co-sponsored by American Automobile Association clubs in the six states and the National Association of Women Highway Safety Leaders It is being held as a result of the United States Department of Transportation's concentrated program to cut the highway traffic crash toll by eliminating the abusive drinking driver from the driver's seat.

The Wisconsin members, chosen because of their leadership in women's organizations or their interest in traffic safety, will attend the three-day session with delegates from Indiana, Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio.

AAA's Wisconsin division representatives will be Fran Eckerman, director of safety and Earl Wiehl, assistant director of safety.

Keynote speaker at the opening session will be Dr Charles H Hartman, deputy administrator, National Highway Traffic Safety Administrator, Washington

During the course of the pilot forum, delegates will be briefed on several alcohol countermeasures and will then break into state groups to discuss how each countermeasure is working in the state, how it might be made to work and how women in the state can assist.

The countermeasure topics range from implied consent to videotaping sobriety tests, and includes a drinking driver rehabilitation program initiated in Wisconsin with AAA support and promotion.

Dyess-Shannon

DALLAS, Tex. — Perkins Chapel on the campus of Southern Methodist University was the scene Saturday as Dale Bond Dyess became the bride of Douglas Claypool Shannon, Saturday.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren Dyess, Scottsdale, Ariz. Mr. Shannon is the son of Mrs. John Schroeder, 601 Kessler Drive, Neenah, and the late Sherril Arthur Shannon.

The bride's attendants were Elizabeth Bryce, Debra Schumann, Kathleen Shannon, Barbara Vaaler and Cheryl Battin.

Men in the bridal party were William Cornelius Jr., Robert Dyess Jr., Craig Warner, Cary Robertson and George Moran.

The former Miss Dyess was graduated from Southern Methodist University (SMU) in Dallas and also attended the University of the Americas and SMU in Spain. Her husband, an SMU graduate, received his masters of science degree in systems engineering from the university and is a computer specialist with the U.S. Air Force in Los Angeles, Calif., where the couple will reside.

Doire-Falk

ATTLE BORO, Mass — Immanuel Lutheran Church was the setting recently as Donna Marie Doire became the bride of James K. Falk.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. George L. Doire, Cumberland, R.I., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Falk, 731 W. Elsie St., Appleton.

Krueger-Arps

FOREST JUNCTION — Zion United Methodist Church was the setting of the recent marriage of Ritalyn Kay Krueger and David George Arps.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harold Krueger, route 1, Brillion, and the late Mr. Krueger. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edgar Arps, route 1, Brillion, and the late Mr. Arps.

Mrs. Donald Heimke, matron of honor, and best man Michael Marek were accompanied by Debbie and Lewis Krueger.

The former Miss Krueger was graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh (UWO) and is doing graduate work at the University of Iowa Her husband received his degree from UWO and is an insurance underwriter in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where the couple will live.

Riverview Women End Season With Jamboree

Riverview Country Club Women's Jamboree and Luncheon took on an equestrian twist Tuesday as eight golfers turned horse with league members betting on them to "win, place or show." Coming in under the wire were Mrs. James Mohr, first; Mrs. Stuart McIntyre, second, and Mrs. James Grist, third.

Awards for the June handicap tournament went to Mrs Ray Bennett, winner, and Mrs. Don Hovde, runner-up.

Grandmothers' tournament winner was Mrs. Howard Grupe with Mrs A. S. Bradford, runner-up.

Championship flight winner for the August tournament were Mrs. Art Miller. Mrs. Bennett was runner-up and Mrs. John Carpenter, third. Other winners were: A flight, Mrs. Charles Spalding and Mrs. Ken Craig, runner-up; B flight winner, Mrs. Grupe and Mrs. Ed Pfefferle, runner-up; C flight winner, Mrs. Charles Wagner and Mrs. J. N. Otteson, runner-up.

Winning team in league play was the Emeralds, captained by Mrs. Carpenter, and second place went to the Amethysts, captained by Mrs. Ed Eisch.

Ringer score awards were won by Mmes. William Hale, Art Miller, Spalding, Robert Lang, Fred Graves, John Stein, John Mielke and Greg Eisch.

Most points won for a team were 104 by Mrs. E. R. Callaway and Mrs. Otteson

OPTIMUM

Yes, from our logos to our cutoffs (from our name to the bottom of the page), we'll have a brand new look produced on a brand new press. There will be six columns per page —instead of eight — and you'll read easily across columns that are about two-and-a quarter inches wide, instead of the former one-and-seven-eighths inches. Eye doctors and graphic art specialists say this is the easiest width for the eye to traverse, thus making for easier, more rapid reading.

And, we'll be OFFSET instead of LETTERPRESS. That is, imprints of pictures and words and drawings will be sort of "kissed" onto each page rather than pressed into the paper as before. This will make blacks blacker and lights lighter . . . and wait 'til you see the color — but WOW! Just one thing: it may not all turn out the way we — and you — want it the first few times . . . not 'til we really get the hang of it. So please bear with us a little while.

Well, that's what all our mess on Superior and Franklin streets in Appleton has been about. We thank you for being patient and for putting up with it . . . and we think you're going to find out it was worth it. We think you'll be glad we went OPTIMUM!

Fox Valley Garden Clubs Are Hostesses

Garden clubs throughout the Fox River Valley District are finalizing plans to be hosts at their organization's 45th annual state convention at the American Baptist Assembly in Green Lake, Sept 27 and 28

Mrs. Ralph Schneider, Appleton, is the district director Her cochairmen for the convention are Mrs Melvin Behm and Mrs Milton Spoehr, both of Berlin The theme, "Montage '72," will bring together the many facets of garden club work to build an overall picture of what has been accomplished by the organization in the past year and the building of the framework for future activities

Beautiful Backdrop

The shores of Green Lake of the American Baptist Assembly's 1,100 acre conference center, will provide the setting as members conduct their annual business meeting, study flower arranging, learn about conservation practices and attend workshops in horticulture, landscape design and the art of preserving dried flowers

Other events will include a flower show, "Front Page," by the Northeastern Wisconsin Judges' Council Mrs Albert Bennett, Hortonville, and Mrs George Pluemer, Appleton, are in charge of the horticulture division

A reception will honor state officers and special guests The awards banquet will take place Wednesday evening, honoring many people throughout the state for their achievements in horticulture, conservation and other club actives Sears Co will present a monetary award to the garden club with the most outstanding civic beautification project

Mrs Clarence Anderson, Laurens, Iowa, a national flower show school instructor, will demonstrate flower arranging Her program, "Arrangement '72," will depict what is happening in flower arranging today At Thursday's conservation luncheon, Francis Hammerstrom, a wildlife biologist with the Department of Natural Resources, will discuss attitudes toward eagles

Outdoor Lighting

Those attending the early sessions of the convention will hear Rae Spirra of the Wisconsin Power and Light Co , present an educational program on lighting for the outdoor garden, its proper installation for both artistic design and safety in the garden

Life members of the WGCF are planning their annual meeting and breakfast on Wednesday

Mrs Albert Bennett Hortonville, and Mrs Fran Graebner, Neenah, will conduct a workshop on working with dried flowers Mrs Margo Pontius, also of Neenah, will display step by step instructions for making cornshuck dolls

Membership in the Wisconsin Garden Club Federation is divided into eight districts Currently the Wisconsin Garden Club Federation has 162 clubs with a total membership of 3,600

THE ACES

World Champions

ON BRIDGE

TEAM CAPTAIN

Jon Garrison has starred in countless roles on the stage, television and in musical concerts. His latest effort was the leading role in the nostalgic production of "The Student Prince," played recently at Fort Worth's Casa Manana.

As the Student Prince, Garrison's head overruled his heart and he placed the duties of kingship above the love of a pretty barmaid. Offstage, and at the bridge table, Garrison can also show some "cool." Witness his play of today's tricky game contract.

Vulnerable: North-South
Dealer: South

NORTH 9/5
♠ Q 10 9 5
♥ A 7 6 4
♦ A 10 5

WEST
♠ J 2

♦ Q J 8 6 4

SOUTH
♠ A K 6 4 3
♥ Q 10 2
♦ K 7 2
♣ Q 3

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♠ | 2 ♣ | 3 ♠ | Pass |
| 4 ♠ | Pass | Pass | Pass |

Opening lead: Nine of diamonds.

The spade game was reached easily and quickly. North made a jump raise over West's overcall and South settled for a game.

West led the diamond nine which Garrison won with his king. Garrison drew two rounds of trumps and paused for study.

West's lead marked East with the queen and jack of diamonds which made it obvious that West must have both the heart king and the missing club honors to justify his overcall. If West also had the heart jack, how was Garrison to avoid losing two hearts, a diamond, a club and his contract?

Garrison decided that his best chance lay with finding West with only a doubleton diamond (certainly a likely event based on the bidding and the lead).

Garrison cashed a second high diamond and then led clubs. West captured South's queen with his ace and exited with a club. Dummy won the club king and Garrison was now at the crossroads.

Had he played the ace and another heart, hoping to find some luck in that suit, he would have lost his contract. West would win the heart and continue with two more high hearts. Eventually declarer would have had to concede a diamond for down one.

Garrison avoided the trap and instead of playing the heart ace, he led a low heart to his ten. West won the jack had no diamonds to lead, a club would yield a ruff and discard, and a heart lead would give Garrison his 10th trick.

Going for his only chance, West led a heart, hoping that East had the queen. Garrison let this "ride" to his queen to score a well-earned game.

A good example of making someone else do for you that which you cannot do for yourself.

Cindy Van Grinsven, maid of honor, was accompanied by Mrs. Tom Weyenberg, Mary Weiland, Mrs. Steve Heesakker and Kathy Weiland. Junior attendants were Dawn Coenen and Dan Weiland.

Dave Weiland was best man. Other male attendants were Tom Weyenberg, Lee Hammen, Mike Weiland and Steve Heesakker.

The new Mrs. Weiland is a secretary with Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah. Her husband was graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

Sewall-Childers

MENASHA — St. Patrick Catholic Church was the setting Friday as Rebecca Lynn Sewall became the bride of Charles John Childers.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sewall, 410 W. North Water St., Neenah. Mr. Childers is the son of Clarence Childers, La Crosse, and the late Mrs. Childers.

Maid of honor was Christine Mary Sewall, Neenah. Peggy Goss and Jennifer Appleton were bridesmaids. Lisa and Joel Sewall served as junior attendants.

Best man William Little, Green Bay, was accompanied by Timothy J. Sewall and Jack McNeil.

The newlyweds are both students at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay. They will make their home there.

Serene Mother of Six Has Workable Secret

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A young neighbor of mine has six children under 12 years of age. I have always admired this young woman and marveled at the way she handles her growing family. The children get along beautifully. They are cooperative and mannerly. Yesterday, I learned her secret.

She told me she makes it a point to spend at least ten minutes each day engaged in a personal conversation with each child. This makes them feel "visible." It adds to their self-esteem and reduces the sibling rivalry that most children grow up with. A child doesn't resent a brother or sister who gets parental attention if he gets his share.

Will you please find room in your column for this little nugget, Ann? — Lady Across The Road

Dear Lady: Here's the nugget and my thanks for allowing me to put it in a showcase for other mothers to see. If every mother who reads your letter will make a special effort to act on your suggestion today, I'll bet they'll be astonished at the results.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read the letter from the girl who signed herself "Chickadee" and it's after midnight, but I won't sleep tonight unless I write her this letter. She said her fiance has a hot temper, is very suspicious and constantly checking and accusing her of everything under the sun. She closed by saying she can't live with or without him.

I pray that Chickadee will take your advice and ditch the bum. If she has a brain in her head she'll run for her life in the opposite direction. It may hurt for awhile but better to have a few weeks (or months) of agony than a lifetime of it. Hot tempers don't fade. They get hotter. I know what I am talking about because I married the same kind of lunatic and I have the scars to prove it.

So many girls think they are going to make a man over after they are married but it never works out that way. I realize this is a pretty tired tune I'm singing, but some people have to hear something 40 times before it soaks in. So, I say to all you Chickadees out there, call me a bore, but do yourselves a favor and listen. — Learned The Hard Way

Dear Learned: Here's your letter and if just one person gets the message it was worth staying up an extra 30 minutes to write.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am probably old enough to be your mother but I am coming to you for advice because you seem to have good judgment.

I am a widow who recently met another nice woman without a husband. We have gone to the movies together and have had dinner in one another's homes and in restaurants.

The problem is her table manners. They are atrocious. This otherwise genteel woman uses her thumb as a pusher, eats stewed chicken with her hands, drips gravy all over the tablecloth, and frequently uses her forefinger to dislodge food from her dentures. At this point I become nauseated. The last time we dined out I simply did not look at her.

I enjoy this woman's company but I cannot stand her table manners.

Should I drop her or tell her how I feel? Or is there a chance that I am excessively critical and intolerant? — New Orleans

Dear N. O.: Tell her. If she resents it and discontinues the friendship you have lost nothing. If you don't tell her, you will soon become so annoyed by her grossness that you will eventually attack her on some other grounds and the friendship will be over.

Can drugs be a friend in time of stress? If you keep your head together can they be of help? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs," separates fact from fiction. For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (16 cents postage) to Ann Landers, Box 3346, Chicago, Ill. 60654

PRIMARY ELECTION SEPT. 12, 1972

City of Appleton, Town of Grand Chute, Villages of Kimberly and Little Chute, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, City of Appleton, 9th Ward, 2nd Precinct, Calumet County, Wisconsin.

The State Law does NOT PERMIT splitting your ballot in the PARTY PRIMARY. The Voting Machine therefore prevents you from doing so. You may enter the primary of any ONE PARTY of your choice. Turn the PRIMARY LEVER down over that party's name. Leave it DOWN. Your party row is now unlocked for voting. All other party rows remain locked.

CURTAIN CLOSED VOTER VOTING

If You Change Your Mind, Turn UP a Voting Pointer and Turn DOWN Another for the Same Office.

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office; you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle to the left returns the voting pointers to the original position before the curtain begins to open.

Scrambled Syllables Contain 8 Words

BY CAPPY DICK

A syllable puzzle is easy to make at home

Not only is it fun to solve, but it is educational

Start by making a list of eight words, each containing three syllables

Cut eight strips of cardboard and print the words on them Cut the three syllables of each word into separate pieces as shown in figure one

Mix up all the pieces, spreading them around on the table as in figure two The puzzle is now ready for play

See how rapidly you can reassemble the words, putting the syllables of each together so they are correctly spelled.

Time yourself with a watch and make a note of the number of minutes you required.

Invite Mother, Dad and other members of your family to see if they can accomplish the solution in less time

You can make several sets consisting of different words so you can keep several players busy at the same time

Waupaca SPEBSQSA Invitation Out for Next Saturday Night

Four Guest Quartets to sing at Jamboree; Program 8 p.m. in High School Gymnasium

BY JINGO

WAUPACA — Saturday, guys and gals who love to sing barbershop, or even just hum along, will head for the fourth annual Barbershop Harmony Jamboree presented by the Waupaca County SPEBSQSA Chapter.

The program, packed with the special appeal of four great quartets, will open at 8 p.m. in

Jingo

Waupaca High School gym. The Waupaca County Chorus sends out its invitation by way of Jingo to all woodshedders and lovers of barbershop harmony to what looks like one of its best shows ever and the After Glow (after the show party).

For openers, the chorus has chosen "Steaming Down the River". From the sound of that first close harmony note right down to the last note of "Keep America Singing," there will be melody a la attacks, releases and swipes from four champion quartets and the chorus to gladden the close harmony purist's heart.

Parade of Stars

This year the Waupaca County chapter welcomes The Vagabonds from the Detroit, Mich. area, the 1972 International SPEBSQSA finalists. Four gals who have been melding choruses as The Quarter Notes from Racine (Sweet Adelines champs) also will be singing old favorites and some surprises.

The Sound Tracks, a quartet from Downers Grove, Ill., now holding that district championship slot and sixth place finishers in the International competition at Atlanta, bring a new sound in contemporary sounds to the show.

By popular request "The Sentrymen," regional champs from neighboring Stevens Point, will be here.

Everyone will have a chance to sing and make requests from the quartets at the After Glow following the show. The After Glow is at the Community Center.

"If you have a new note, or new chord you'd like to try — this is the place," says James Beatty, Jamboree chairman.

The Jamboree is fun all the way, according to Director Al Heitman, a real devotee of barbershop singing. He is musical director at Little Wolf High School, which is work he enjoys. But as members of his chorus feel, "Barbershopping is something else," he says.

'Like to Sing'

What sparks a man to put down his razor, broom, drafting pencil, plumber's tools, books at the end of the day and head out for a session of barbershopping with the boys?

"I like to sing," volunteered one member of the chorus who has been woodshedding for 64 years. "I'll sing barbershop at the drop of a hat. I don't know anything about music, whether I'm singing seventh chord, fifth chord, or what — but when it sounds good, I know we've hit it."

"There's something about matching your bass with another fellow's tenor, baritone, or lead, something you can't put into words," says Curt Sommers, bass in The Wolf Gang Quartet. Curt is the only barber in the barbershop chorus. He "shaves" sweet notes with Geroge Brennastuhl and Ray Pameran, both of New London, and Willard Classen, Waupaca.

The Wolf Gang Quartet, emerging from the Waupaca County Chorus, has been harmonizing for several years.

Others Emerge

There are other quartets emerging. One calls itself the Medicare Melodiers, confides a baritone. "If we could get one of our shy guys to sing in public, folks would hear one beautiful voice."

"We'll sing at the drop of a hat; just ask us," officers of the chorus piped up. "Last year we sang about a dozen times at civic gatherings, nursing homes — wherever we were asked. We have to be a little nuts to be that eager to sing together; we buy our own outfits, pay our own expenses, but we love it."

The ages of the singers in the Waupaca County Chorus, range from 13 to 78, members' singing time from 54 years to six months. There are plumbers, gas station attendants, a doctor, young executives, business men, undertakers, carpet layers, a roofer, a trucker and a number of farmers. They'e all eager to "hit that chord."

This year the chorus has a young quartet, The O'Leary Boys from Manawa. They are following in Dad's footsteps down the sweet harmony path. Right now they are looking for a lead, says Dad, their severist critic. Jingo hears from a reliable source that already the sound is sweet.

The Vagabonds, SPEBSQSA quartet that sang its way to the 1972 International finals, are among the headliners at the fourth annual Harmony Jamboree at Waupaca. The Detroit area men will perform on the 8 p.m. program Saturday at Waupaca High School. They are, from the left, bass Norm Thompson, baritone Tony Scooros, lead Dennis Gore, at the top, and tenor Ken Gibson.

Howdy Doody Appears With Old Friends

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 — Channel 5 — It's a real reunion when Buffalo Bob Smith and Howdy Doody join together on Howdy Doody and Friends to introduce Howdy's friends who will be appearing this fall in a new Saturday morning children's program Clarabell the clown (Lew Anderson) and Cynthia Goodheart Jill Choder) join their old friends for a nostalgic look at the past including favorite tunes from the original Howdy Doody show.

6:30-7:30 — Channel 7 — Summer is Forever, originally presented on CBS Children's Hour, is a fine drama beginning with a Heidi touch. It stars Gary Merrill as a grizzled old lobster fisherman in Maine, who takes to a young boy (Shawn Campbell), vacationing there, like grandfather took to Heidi.

7-10 — Channels 11-9 — Coverage of The 1972 Summer Olympic Games via satellite from Munich, Germany, will include basketball semifinals, boxing, men's semifinal round of volleyball, super heavyweight class of weightlifting and Greco-Roman style wrestling.

7:30-8:30 — Channels 2-7 — Travelers checks play a major role in a good, cleverly constructed case for Hawaii Five-O. This episode fits together like a jigsaw puzzle with lots of pieces for Jack Lord to work on: the theft of a large sum of travelers checks, a tour of teachers to Hawaii, a missing secretary and a killing in a hospital. (R)

8:30-9:30 — Channel 5 — NBC News' First Tuesday features three major stories. The first examines the reasons for the increase in beef prices. You visit one the country's largest meat-packing plants and correspondent Bob Roberts talks with ranchers, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz and advocates of price controls on beef. The second segment is the never before reported story of the Israeli program which allows Arabs to visit relatives in occupied Jordan. Prominent are six Arabs who talk about their visits. The third report considers the controversy around a little-known but growing American institution — the Junior ROTC in public high schools.

9:30-10 — Channel 2 — It's a great moment for Edith (Jean Stapleton) on Al in the Family when she gets a gift of a mink cape from a wealthy relative. But it's not so great when Archie (Carroll O'Connor): a) insists she return it and b) knocks spaghetti all over Edith and the cape. When Archie learns something about insurance, he decides that charity is all in your point of view. (R)

Sammy Davis Seeks Part Ownership of Tropicana Hotel-Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Sammy Davis Jr., a veteran entertainer in this gambling town, has applied to become part owner of the Tropicana hotel and casino.

Davis appeared recently at the State Gaming Control Board office, where he told newsmen "It's a very heavy moment for me."

Davis, who seeks to be licensed as an 8 per cent owner in the hotel-casino, would be the first black to own part of a major Strip establishment.

He said the Tropicana interest "will be the beginning of many of my people coming in and being able to participate in some of that nice green out there." He declined to reveal the purchase price.

Hysterectomy Is Not Uncommon, Serious

BY G. C. THOSTESON, M D

Dear Dr Thosteson A close relative is soon to have a hysterectomy Can you please answer these questions for me?

—Is this a serious operation?

—Is it or has it ever been fatal?

—How long can a patient be expected to live after the operation?

—Will it affect her health in any way?

—Will it limit her activities after standard recovery time?

—Is this operation common?

—Can complications occur?

—Is the operation anything for us to be concerned about? — Y A H

Thosteson

A hysterectomy is the removal of the uterus and it is a very common operation

Serious? How do you answer that? Speaking generally, no

Now I m referring here to the hysterectomy as defined and that is the removal of the uterus alone Often such surgery will involve removal of one or more of the ovaries if they are found to be diseased but this is in addition to the hysterectomy

Here we are dealing with something a bit more complicated but still not what we might consider in the dangerous category — again speaking generally and certainly not about your relative s individual case

In the average hysterectomy, few complications result and the patient is up and about leading a normal life as if nothing had happened Sex is not disturbed and no hormone imbalance results

Where such surgery goes beyond the uterus removal and ovaries are removed also then hormone imbalance is to be expected Treatment after surgery with hormones is common in such cases

The question of the so-called female operation gives rise to more confusion than any other I encounter and it usually stems from an incomplete notion of just what the term hysterectomy means

The term partial hysterectomy is used sometimes adding to the confusion When used it merely refers to the fact that only a portion of the uterus has been removed

Will her health be affected? Yes, probably for the better

Dear Dr Thosteson Would plastic surgery to reshape a person's nose change her genes and chromosomes? For instance, would such a person s children have the original nose or the newly shaped one? — P C

Such surgery does not change genes and chromosomes — anymore than a woman who had a leg amputated would have children with only one leg

Reception Area Of WRST-FM To be Extended

UW-Oshkosh Station Gets State Approval For New Equipment

OSHKOSH — A University of Wisconsin Oshkosh request for changes which will improve the operations of WRST-FM, the school s radio station, was approved Friday by the state Educational Communications Board Madison

The ECB is the state agency authorized to coordinate state educational broadcasting activities and establish the state educational television network

Dr Robert L Snyder UWO coordinator of radio, television and film said the university had asked permission to — Increase the station s effective radiating power from its present 10 watts to 916 watts

— Change WRST s frequency on the FM band from its present location at 88 1 megahertz to 90 3

FCC Approved

With last week s okay by the ECB the university s application for the two changes in its radio operation now goes to the Federal Communications Commission for its approval

The federal agency s permission could come within 60 days, Snyder said

When it does the station will put out bids for the necessary equipment, consisting principally of a new transmitter and antenna, and then begin installing it as soon as possible

The transmitter and antenna will be located at the UWO s new Arts and Communication Center fourth floor of which already houses WRST's studios

Snyder said the radio station hopes to be on the air with its new facilities before the end of the current fall semester Until then WRST will operate with its present wattage and equipment and at its present location of 88 1 on the FM dial

Expanded Area

Snyder said increased power will greatly expand the station s coverage area WRST he said now has effective radius of 17 or 20 miles for listeners whose FM receivers are equipped with good antennas, but in some cases only one or two miles without them

He said boosting the power to 916 watts should extend reception of the station s signal to Redgranite in the west New London and Wrightstown to the north, Waupun and Campbellsport to the south, and about halfway between Lakes Winnebago and Michigan to the east

Moving WRST's frequency from 88 1 to 90 3 the university official added, will eliminate the station s interference with the audio signal of Channel 6 TV, Milwaukee Channel 6 audio is carried at 88 megahertz, right next to WRST s present frequency

Snyder said WRST plans to convert to stereo operations for its music programming and for some drama offerings

Meanwhile WRST will sign on the air for the first time this semester Saturday afternoon, Sept 9 to broadcast the UWO-Eastern Michigan football game here

WRST FM began broadcasting operations in April of 1966

Assemblyman Claims Commission Weighted In Favor of Utilities

MADISON Wis (AP) — State Rep Harout Sanasarian D-Milwaukee, asked Gov Patrick J Lucey last week to appoint a consumer-minded individual' to the Public Service Commission

Sanasarian said the commission which he called 'heavily weighted' in favor of utilities needs the appointment to make a difference in its makeup

He said commissioner Michael P Komar, an appointee of former Gov Warren P Knowles, will be 65 on Sept 24

Consumer Is Partially At Fault for Inflation

BY ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — "Dear Consumers Shop Harder"

That is the message now being sent across the land via television public service announcements from Virginia Knauer, head of President Nixon's Office of Consumer Affairs

In effect, she is saying inflation is not the fault of the Administration or profit-hungry businessmen it is the fault of consumers themselves for not shopping "harder"

By that, she means people don t try hard enough to take advantage of seasonally low prices for plentiful foods don t follow advertised specials closely enough and don't compare prices before they buy

Meat Eaters' Fault

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz speaks more bluntly He recently laid the entire blame for high meat on meat eaters It is their demands for steak and other higher-price cuts, not the withholding of cattle from market that has driven prices to record levels he says

The Price Commission is making similar sounds Recent public service announcements by the Commission urge radio listeners to Be a Price Fighter" It asks people to report price control violators to the Internal Revenue Service, which is supposed to police the controls

But there is no way for the average shopper to spot a price violation For price levels are related to retail markups that are known only to store executives Furthermore the IRS does not have enough personnel to check out the complaints it receives

Caught in Dilemma

These are sounds of an administration caught in a dilemma Nixon officials foresaw the sensitivity of living costs in this election year when they imposed the freeze a year ago and then followed with broad economic controls

But with equal sensitivity for the support of farmers, they chose to exempt most food products from the controls The farmer s share of the food dollar generally had not increased in proportion to prices

As a result the inevitable has happened Food prices have risen faster than the over all index of living costs since the freeze was imposed According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices in July were 3 7 per cent above what they were a year earlier, while all prices were up 3 0 per cent

A separate survey by the Department of Agriculture shows supermarket prices up 4 5 per cent during the same time, with the price of beef up 12 per cent and the price of pork up 19 9 per cent in one year

Another major weakness in economic controls has been profits Without a firm lid on them, they have surged to record levels during the first half of this year

According to a report in Business Week (Aug 12) after-tax profits of 880 key companies were 15 per cent ahead of year-earlier figures in the second quarter The rate of profit to sales also rose

In light of these facts, the Administration is taking a certain risk in directing these recent publicity campaigns at inflation victims Many consumers are already tired of being advised on how to shop without carrying the extra burden of being an 'inflation fighter'

There is no doubt that many people could do better with their shopping dollars and the battle against inflation requires everyone's support But it is getting hard to tell the good guys from the bad guys

Boys' School Tries to Halt What Was Drug Problem

BY BILL KNUTSON
Post Crescent Staff Writer

MERRILL — Two weeks ago a boy who was AWOL from Lincoln Boys School here told Outagamie County Judge R Thomas Cane that there was a serious drug use problem at the school

Cane had wanted to visit Lincoln so he could know more about the place he would be sending delinquent boys and girls in his new role as juvenile court judge

The possibility of a serious drug problem there prompted him to make the trip as soon as possible

In Cane s 24-hour stay with the residents and staff last week, he learned that drugs mostly marijuana but some speed and few hits of LSD have crept into Lincoln Supervisors readily admit there have been some problems

A Green Bay youth who said he has used most types of drugs ( It s the nearest thing to heaven on earth") told Cane he had helped bring marijuana into his cottage" upon returning to Lincoln from a weekend furlough

Added to Sentences

He and several others in the cottage (each of 12 cottages will accommodate 25 youths), including an Appleton boy who candidly remarked that before coming to Lincoln he had taken at least 300 hits of LSD, had time added to their sentences for bringing in the marijuana

Youths agreed that tighter security checks ( I think they re even taking the light bulbs apart in our rooms one boy remarked), especially involving residents coming off furloughs, have made it nearly impossible to get drugs onto the grounds

"What little drug problem they do have is being controlled" Cane said after his visit

He indicated concern over the number of youths who admitted they had been heavy drug users and would resume use after getting out One Lincoln official estimated that 40 per cent of the youths sentenced here (there were 175 residents when Cane visited) have used drugs

Many youths told Cane they were sent to Lincoln because they were caught burglarizing and stealing to support their drug habits An Appleton boy was financing his habit by stealing car tape players and selling them for a fraction of their value

A boy told Cane that although he had no desire to kick drug use, Lincoln should put more emphasis on programs designed to help those who do

Cane met informally with scores of boys and girls, most of whom seemed eager to talk to him Cane was impressed by the openness of the youths

It seemed that many of the youths were at Lincoln for the second time, although Supt Paul Imler said the recidivism rate is less than 20 per cent The average stay is about nine months

Imler and his staff are optimistic over the future of the coeducational program that began here in June There now are 12 female delinquents here and plans are to build that to 75 It is the state s first coedu

The body of a 15 year old Appleton boy who disappeared Friday night while camping with his family near Rochester N Y, was found Monday in a pond at the Pine Ridge camp ground

The youth was Alan Tjossem one of five children of Mr and Mrs Herbert K Tjossem 911 E Hancock St He would have been a junior at Appleton High School-East His father is an associate professor of English at Lawrence University

The Tjossem family had been camping in Canada and Eastern United States throughout August They were returning home when their camper bus broke down near Rochester Thursday afternoon They decided to camp at Pine Ridge while it was being repaired

According to Monroe County N Y sheriff s deputies, the youth disappeared Thursday night and was found by the deputies Friday morning sleeping in a village fire station

The deputies returned him to his parents Alan had a cut on his foot, so his father took him for treatment at a local hospital, it was reported

After he had dinner with his family at the campgrounds according to his parents Alan asked to be alone for awhile and go sit by the pond This was the last time his family saw him

The Tjossem family left New York to return to Appleton on Saturday after telling officials they thought their son might have hitchhiked home They left word at the camp if he returned there

They were informed of his death which was ruled a drowning Monday morning

An autopsy was being performed today by the Monroe County medical examiner in Rochester Results are not expected for a couple of days

In addition to his parents he is survived by one brother and three sisters Memorial services will be held at 4 p m Wednesday at All Saints Episcopal Church There will be no visitation Wichmann Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements

Third Indigent Defense Counselor Is Appointed

David Braithwaite 26 an assistant district attorney for nearly a year has been named Outagamie County s third part-time indigent defense counselor

The appointment was announced today by County Judge Nick F Schaefer who made the selection along with the other two county judges and Circuit Judge Gorden Myse Braithwaite starts his new job immediately

The county board last month authorized the hiring of the third defense counselor after its judiciary and enforcement committee said the workload is too great for the two part-time counselors hired late last year

A big part of the increase in workload was traced to the recent U S Supreme Court ruling that any defendant who faces even the most remote possibility of being sentenced to jail is entitled to legal counsel

Patrick Mares and James Bayorgeon the other two county defense counselors, had told supervisors last month that they could no longer handle the indigent caseload alone Bayorgeon had said he would resign if more help were not obtained And Mares has said that there is a need for four counselors

Braithwaite a native of Yuba Wis and a graudate of the University of Wisconsin Law School resigned from the district attorney s office last week to accept a position with Kelland Lathrop a Hortonville attorney Braithwaite became Dist Atty James R Long s second assistant last October

Each of the three indigent defense counselors will be paid $500 per month All have full time legal practices

The county has had its own defense counselors about a year

Alternative School Begins Sept. 18

What a group of concerned — maybe even worried — parents teachers and students have been working on and dreaming of for months will become a reality Sept 18 when the Riverside Learning Community opens its doors for the first time

Dissatisfied with what the present school system was offering and the products it turned out that group of people got together to find an alternative to traditional education — one in which the student would be allowed to make many of his own decisions about what he wants to learn They talked and listened and thought and learned

Their months of work weekly meetings scrounging for learning materials and resource persons filing papers of incorporation and living the founding curriculum with students

tion from which they plan to expand — will be put to the test later this month

Rented Classrooms

The board of St Louis Catholic School Commissioners gave its okay to the learning community s request to rent basement classroom space Registration will take place this week at the Appleton YMCA where Riverside maintains an office (739 1322 after Wednesday

Prospective students between five and 18 may register from 1 to 4 p m today Friday and Tuesday and evening, by appointment by calling 7 1 2010 Interviews are scheduled to be held at Morrison Street center of the Y and should be accompanied by their parents Students and staff will discuss individual needs and learning preferences as well as curriculum with students and the parents at registration time Approximately 20 students already are registered

The curriculum will consist of approximately 150 different subject areas including all of the regular school courses and special interest individual study and apprentice like programs According to Mrs Barbara Kelly RLC secretary Subjects range from social studies to mountain climbing

Four Staff Members

Seventy five resource persons have volunteered to lead programs in which they have particular interests But more than three persons and materials learning experiences of their own interests at various locations depending on where and by whom particular experiences are offered The Y will provide four staff members — one full time three part time Students will pay a flat $43 a month fee The school will be based out of operations operated on a 12 month flexible schedule Students will attend school or participate in course work in the community or elsewhere as they need it perform their work at their own speeds and keep weekly records of their activities Each student will have an adviser with whom to check on progress and direction

Younger children will meet at Pius nearly every day for instruction in such fields as mathematics reading and science as well as whatever else they may be interested in Older students will not attend school but participate in

Terry Anne Will Sing Up a Storm

BY PAUL LEARN
Special to the Post-Crescent

ATLANTIC CITY — Terry Anne Meeuwsen Miss Wisconsin of 1972, brings a lot of talent and a wealth of performing experience with her to the Miss America Pageant

Miss Wisconsin is a singer and as such has had leading parts in her college musicals Above this however she sang with the New Christy Minstrels traveling and performing extensively in five other countries besides the U S

' I sang with the Minstrels for two years ' Terry noted, ' after which I left them for a variety of reasons I had hoped during my tours to make some individual contacts but this proved impossible, I found that people came to hear the Christys as a group and there was little or no opportunity for individual advancement

' We were on the road 50 weeks of the year and I discovered that my interest in this work was burning itself out

' Marking Time '

I love to sing but I didn ' want to continue to perform with this organization after I felt that I had accomplished as much as I could To remain would merely be marking time '

Miss Wisconsin said her goal is to be able to go to New York City to study voice and drama

I have been singing ever since I was a little girl I love all kinds of music except maybe hard rock or acid rock I like music that all types of people can communicate with that they feel they can relate to and for me this means singing a lot of popular tunes

Music-loving Terry Anne who will be singing up a storm during this week s pageant will be surrounded by melody tonight as she rides along the famed Boardwalk in the parade

This is the public s first opportunity to view the 50 state queens who travel the six mile parade route in convertibles accompanied by glittering floats and countless marching bands

Terry is looking forward to the parade It s a very strange feeling when you ve watched the parade for years on TV then suddenly you find that you are going to be actually participating in it yourself she said

It s hard to realize and extremely exciting

For this occasion Miss Wisconsin will wear a navy colored silk formal with bodice encrusted with ice blue beads The costume features a long hooded cape lined with ice blue brocade

She arrived in the resort Saturday afternoon flying in from Oshkosh to Chicago then to Philadelphia From there she came to Atlantic City

We left at 7 a m with a number of friends at the airport to see me off she says One thing happened which sort of shook me up Half my luggage was left behind because we neglected to empty one of the car trunks I was missing six pieces of luggage Then three more pieces had to be left in Philadelphia because the airline didn t have room for them

Hopefully they will catch up with me here in time for the pageant

Miss Wisconsin participated Monday in the official pageant registration during which the state queens are introduced to each other and were briefed on the coming activities

Fate of Menasha School Before Fiscal Board

MENASHA — If the fiscal control body doesn't okay the awarding of bids for construction of an addition and remodeling at Nicolet Elementary School tonight, it is probable that the school district would have to rent schoolroom space to meet its needs in the fall of 1973.

But if it approves the bids submitted for the project, it also will have to come up with $45,230 The bids came in that much over the $26,000 budgeted for the construction project

Mayor James Adams said today that the only way the additional money can be raised would be through short-term borrowing Would he favor such a move?

"I don't know," he said today "It becomes a matter of whether the expansion is needed, or not"

Is it needed?

"Sure it is," he responded.

Council President Herbert Batley, Fifth Ward, a consistent opponent of increased school spending in the past, said that the new bids are probably what the council will have to buy They've (school board) done what we've asked them to do."

He said that there's "no question that it's (Nicolet) inadequate" at the present time

The background is this.

—In mid-July, the fiscal control body asked the board of education to advertise for new bids on the elementary school project after original bids came in about $60,000 over budget Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kampo, who led the move in favor of rebidding the project, said he was sure there were "frills" in the project that could be eliminated by re-bidding.

School officials and the project's architect, however, cautioned that re-bidding the project might not attract lower bids.

—Before the fiscal control body ordered a re-bidding of the project in July, school officials had hoped for a construction completion date of March, 1973. With the new bids, the completion date is moved back to July, 1973.

If there are more delays, says School Supt Dr. Alan Osterndorf, the completion date would be moved beyond the opening of school in 1973 and the district will "probably be in rental property, without any question."

An immediate construction start is essential, said the school superintendent, if the district hopes to meet its space needs in 1973.

"It's absolutely essential because of the increasing enrollment we're seeing in the school district," he said

If construction doesn't start soon, contractors would not be able to enclose work areas so that they could work through the winter on the remodeling and addition project. If they aren't able to work through the winter, they would not be able to complete it on time, he said.

The school board will explain the situation to the fiscal control body tonight, at a meeting set to begin at 6:30 p m

In other action before the council tonight:

—Aldermen will act on bids for reconstruction of sanitary sewers and sidwalks in the city.

The sanitary sewer reconstruction project attracted three bids that were opened last week All but one of the bids came in under the budgeted amount of $77,640

The lowest bid was submitted by Hietpas & Sons Construction Co It was $66,055.

The reconstruction project includes work along portions of nine city streets. The largest amount of work will be done along Broad Street, between Lush and Tayco streets.

—Aldermen will consider a request from the electric and water utilities commission to allocate more of their revenues to operations and less to debt retirement

The request comes in the form of two ordinance amendments submitted by the commission that would call for changes to two previous city ordinances setting allocation schdules for water and electric revenue bond issues in 1967 and 1970, respectively.

Instead of allocating 75 per cent of the electric utility revenues to operations and maintenance, the amendment would call for that allocation to be 85 per cent. The allocation for operation and maintenance on the water utility would climb from 60 per cent to 85 per cent under the proposed changes.

Both changes, said utility Gen. Mgr. James Taylor, are required because of increased operations and maintenance costs. He said debt retirement accounts for both bond issues are more than adequate to cover the bond retirement.

—Aldermen will also consider a resolution requested by Wisconsin Tissue Mills that the city vacate about 700 feet of Third Street, from its dead end at Little Lake Butte des Morts to 690 feet east, to use as a site for a proposed $750,000 wastewater pre-treatment plant the firm hopes to build.

—City fathers will also take action on a resolution requested by the Central Paper Co for the city to vacate a portion of Manitowoc Street, from the corner of Sheboygan and Fourth Streets to the Milwaukee Road railroad tracks The firm wants to use the area for part of a proposed $500,000 expansion project providing more office and warehouse space and an addition to its rewind department.

—Aldermen will also hear the request from Harry and Erna Lopas for rezoning of land they own between Third Street and the Milwaukee Road right-of-way so that a Milwaukee-based development firm can construct a 72-unit apartment complex there.

All three proposals will probably be scheduled for public hearings by the council.

Aldermen will also hear a request from Fire Chief Cornelius Rippl to hire two new firemen to replace two men who have resigned and retired from his department.

Shelter Plan To Appear in Post-Crescent

Readers to be Told How to React in a Community Disaster

A Community Shelter Plan for Outagamie County, listing fallout shelters and outlining procedures to follow in the event of a nuclear or natural disaster, is being published by the county Office of Emergency Government as a supplement to the Sept. 10 Post-Crescent.

Howard Rathbun, Emergency Government coordinator, said the Community Shelter Plan program is a "high priority item" for local emergency government units Preparation of the plan, its printing and distribution are federally funded

The 8-page supplement will include an explanation of why such a plan has been prepared, maps and lists showing all of the approved shelters in the county and information on natural disasters

Readers will be given details on tornadoes and will be told how best to protect themselves from them. A section also will explain the meaning of various weather terms, such as the difference between snow flurries, snow squalls and blizzards. A wind chill index chart is included

There also is a section on emergency first aid procedures

Rathbun said he would have additional copies of the supplement available at his office along with copies of the publication, "In Time of Emergency," a citizen's handbook on nuclear attack and natural disasters

Heinz Attacks Neenah Sewer Cutoff Threat

NEENAH — Town of Neenah chairman Kenneth Heinz today urged the Neenah common council to exercise prudent judgment Wednesday when considering an alderman's resolution which would require the disconnection of some 70 homes from city sanitary sewer lines in the town's Courtney Place Sanitary District

In a prepared statement he read to the news media, Heinz ventured that the move "will set planning back 10 years in the Neenah area."

"Such action," Heinz said, "will surely result in spending needless amounts of taxpayers dollars in both the city and town"

Heinz said householders affected, if the Neenah council adopts the resolution of First Ward Ald Robert Troyer, intend to take the issue to court if deemed necessary He said a general meeting of the entire sanitary district was tentatively planned to discuss issues

Troyer said last Tuesday he would sponsor a resolution at the council session requiring disconnection because the present sewage treatment plant does not have the capacity to handle effluent from the homes.

Until the municipal plant is expanded — a project far into the planning stages now — the Courtney Place homes should be kept out of the city system, Troyer argued.

The latest projections indicate that at best, a plant expanded to handle average daily wastewater flows of 40 million gallons will not be operational until 1975.

In describing his reason for sponsoring the resolution Troyer noted that the three-year contract between the city, the sewerage commission and the sanitary district expires on December 31, and the city has "no interest" in renewing it.

Troyer based his action, he said, on a provision in past contracts providing that the city may terminate a contract if the plant cannot furnish "adequate treatment capacity" to users.

State, Courthouse, Campaigns Before Twin City Area Voters

OSHKOSH — Most voters in Winnebago County next Tuesday will be concerning themselves with choosing candidates in three primaries for county positions, but in the Twin City area — the city and town of Menasha excluded — voters will also cast a vote in a state legislative primary

In this, a primary in the 7th Assembly District, voters will be choosing between the two Republicans, Gordon (Bud) Bradley, Omro, and Byron Murken, Oshkosh Bradley is the incumbent, Murken, the president of the Oshkosh common council

County Clerk Dorothy Propp said this morning that voters who cast ballots Tuesday must vote on straight party lines, that is, for one party only. They may not switch parties, she pointed out, until the general elections in November.

Mrs. Propp said confusion on the point arose recently. In most of the county's townships, and the City of Omro, voters will be handed three ballots stapled together bearing the names of candidates for three political party affiliations, she noted, but may vote on just one of them.

The three county primaries involve the positions of coroner, clerk of courts and register of deeds.

For coroner, Duane I. Moore is opposed by fellow Republican, William W. Zwicky. In the general election, a Menasha man, Jerry Cypert, will be running for the coroner post on the Democratic ticket, against next Tuesday's victor

In the clerk of court primary, William E. Osborne is opposite Catherine M Stadtmueller on the ballot. James J. Mueller, a Democratic candidate from Oshkosh, will face the winner in November.

The register of deeds race sees the incumbent, Viola Firnstahl, opposite Gloria Pfaffenroth in the primary. The winner of this contest will run against the Democratic candidate for the office, Cypert's wife, Ruth Ann, in November.

In November, the election broadens to include Democrat James A. Adams, Menasha mayor, and Republican incumbent William A Steiger, for Sixth Dist. representative in Congress.

Running for the Congress on the American Party ticket is Valeria M. Sitter, Oshkosh.

For the state assembly representative, voters in November will choose between Republican Michael G. Ellis, Neenah, and Democrat, Elmer Enz, Menasha, for the 55th Assembly district

Hauser Aims at 2.2 Per Cent Neenah Tax Hike

NEENAH — Mayor Roman V. Hauser said today that he plans to do all he can "to hold any tax increase this year to 2.2 per cent."

The mayor's direction came as department heads are preparing budgets for next year. Besides calling for the "belt tightening" Hauser said he was also calling for a halt to all new hiring.

The reason he picked 2.2 per cent, is that is how much the city's assessed value increased this year. If spending goes up any more than that, there will be a tax increase — something the mayor wants to avoid

Admitting that the 2.2 per cent guideline "may not be realistic" Hauser said, "The tax increase can't keep coming. There has to be a cutoff."

The mayor said he planned to start meeting with department heads "in about two weeks." This is when he and John Sahli, finance director, review the departmental budgets and do some cutting before a preliminary draft is taken into the finance committee.

"As I see it right now, there will be no new people added to the city payrolls next year. The only hiring which will be done is replacement for retirees or those who quit," the mayor said.

The mayor's 2.2 per cent guidelines will put the pinch on some departments since the current federal wage-price freeze sets a 5.5 per cent limit on all pay increases and most pay increases can be expected to be around the federal guideline.

With the major portion of city spending going for salaries, meeting the 2.2 per cent ceiling would mean severe cutbacks in capital outlays and operational costs.

The city's net tax rate for 1972 is $40.84 per $1,000 of assessed value If the mayor's directive is followed it would mean that about $153,000 in taxes levied against property.

However, this is also the second year of the new state tax distribution formula and the city stands to lose money on the revenue side of the ledger and, combined with increases in the expenditures, it would take a tax increase just to meet existing expenses.

But Hauser predicted that "some of the things planned for next year will just have to be postponed." He was not specific about individual items or projects which were scheduled.

He said his written directive would be distributed to department heads "soon" and his review would start in "about two weeks"

Police and Fire

LITTLE CHUTE — Two semi-trailer trucks at the United Grocers warehouse were damaged about 11:45 a.m. Friday when a 12-year old youth started up the engine while a truck was in gear

The truck moved forward, veered to the left and struck a second parked semi unit. The youth, Dennis Miller, 12, 1514 N Jackson St, Milwaukee, was a passenger in the truck which was driven by Floyd R Hintz, 34, 2819 N. 24th Place, Milwaukee Hintz was out of the cab when the incident occurred.

Driver of the second parked vehicle was Lyle E. Duckett, 42, Winter Haven, Fla. No damage estimate was made.

Five Arrested For Possession Of Marijuana

Five Appleton persons were taken into custody over the weekend for possession of marijuana, resulting from three separate incidents

An 18-year-old man was booked at the Outagamie County jail on charges of marijuana possession after he was arrested in the 200 block of N. Drew Street about 2:45 p m. Monday According to police, the suspect had three small bags of marijuana plus a water pipe and a cigarette rolling instrument.

A 17-year-old youth was taken into custody in the 200 block of W. College Avenue about 2:15 a m today after he shouted obscenities at a passing police car He was found to have a bag of marijuana in his possession, and was later charged with a count of disorderly conduct when he struck a police officer on the head while being questioned at the police station, 300 N Appleton St

The defendant was taken to the Outagamie County jail, from which he was transported to the juvenile detention center in Green Bay

Two 15-year-old boys and an 18-year-old man were arrested in Pierce Park about 3:30 p m by a police officer who approached them for questioning in regard to another matter. They reportedly had in their possession one small bag of marijuana and were smoking a marijuana cigarette just before they were apprehended.

Son of Shiocton Pair Named to UW Post

RIVER FALLS — E. Ted Kuether, son of Mr. and Mrs.. E. W. Kuether, Shiocton, has been named assistant chancellor for business affairs for the University of Wisconsin-River Falls.

He was part of the central administration of the former Wisconsin State University System for 19 years. In his new post he will be responsible for the university's purchasing, budget control and accounting, the office of classified personnel and payroll and the computer center.

Planners Seek to Disperse Power Within New Agency

The new East-Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission will be urged this month not to set up a powerful subgroup that might dominate commission activity as it was believed the old East-Central's executive committee dominated that agency.

The recommendation will come in the form of a proposal from the bylaws subcommittee of the 10 counties which have been working on formation of the committee for several months.

The subcommittee will recommend at the Sept. 27 organizational meeting of the new commission that three committees be set up — budget and finance, program and development, and personnel. There will be 13 members on the budget, and 11 each on the other two, assuring that all 35 members of the commission serve on a committee. Also, each committee would have at least one member from each county.

The commission chairman will appoint committee members, and these will have to be ratified by the full commission.

William Schuh, Outagamie County corporation counsel, said that the program and development committee would work on developing priorities for the municipalities.

He said that the 10-county subcommittee also would recommend that project committees be set up from time to time to work on specific projects, especially in the urbanized Fox Cities-Oshkosh area where the bulk of the programs probably will be needed.

The subcommittee which met last week, decided not to recommend the establishment of an active executive committee, as was suggested in the tentative bylaws drawn up during the early formation stages for the new commission.

"They didn't feel that it was the proper type of committee but rather felt that project committees with members from the area affected by a particular project would be more realistic," Schuh said. "The commissioners in the immediate area of a project would be more concerned about the project."

Leaders of the 10 counties forming the new agency had expressed concern in early discussion sessions about the possibility that the new agency would be dominated by a small group or individual, as they believed the old East-Central (formerly Northeastern) was.

Schuh said that the state law requires an executive-type committee, and to meet this, the subcommitee is recommending the entire 35-member commission be the executive committee.

The subcommittee meeting last week included representatives from Outagamie, Waupaca and Green Lake.

The new commission's 35 members will include three each from Shawano, Menomonee, Waupaca, Green Lake, Marquette, Waushara, and Calumet; five each from Winnebago and Outagamie, and four from Fond du Lac. The urban counties were given additional representation for their larger populations.

cational correctional institution.

Some boys do nat share the staff's enthusiasm. They said the girls try to lead the boys on. Some boys feared the girls would bring about more restrictions for everyone and a few boys said the girls seem to "get away with more" than the boys.

Likes Idea

But for every boy that isn't overjoyed about girls being here, there is one who is happy to have them. And all of the girls Cane talked to liked having boys around.

Cane liked the idea, too. He agreed with Imler that it makes for less of an artificial life style and could aid substantially in rehabilitation efforts.

The mixed sex plan, which has succeeded in other states, might bring problems at times, Imler admitted, but he hoped the public will understand and will be willing to give the program a chance.

Cane, in discussing Lincoln after his first visit there, felt that:

— Youngsters are taught to help themselves; not to rely solely on their counselors and other staff members at Lincoln for the change that must take place if they are to benefit from their stay.

Education Curriculum

— The education curriculum seems to be varied, with a desirable balance between standard classroom work and vocational training. The academic program continues nearly all year. Many youths earn their high school degrees here. Several boys said they preferred Lincoln's academic program to that of the public schools.

— There seemed to be a strong attempt to involve the families of delinquent youngsters in the rehabilitation process.

Home visits (furloughs) are granted regularly, although they, like many other freedoms, must be earned, and parental visitation is encouraged.

Policemen usually deliver youngsters to Lincoln after the court has passed sentence. Imler said he would like to see more children brought here in the family sedan instead of in a squad car. It's less traumatic on the youngster and the parents get a chance to see where their child will be for the next nine months.

Cane said he will order that parents take their children to Lincoln, although there may be times when police will have to transport.

The closeness between the staff and the youths was obvious during Cane's visit, he remarked. Conversation between them was informal and often jovial. Many boys volunteered information on friendships they had developed with staff members. Only a couple of boys felt they had not been treated fairly at times.

Cane was told of a counselor's son who recently was killed in a car accident. He and his son had developed such a closeness with the boys in his assigned cottage that six of those boys were pallbearers.

Community Involvement

Imler, who has headed Lincoln since it opened two years ago, is thinking in terms of more Lincoln-community involvement in future years. It will mean the staff and residents of the school will turn more frequently to outside resources, such as employers, schools and organizations, for program expansion.

There is some interaction now with the outside, especially Merrill, in such areas as sports, recreation and work release, Imler said.

He also is working toward development of a halfway house on the 800-acre grounds Funds are being sought to improve an old farmhouse and barn for use as a halfway house where youngsters could live and work while being prepared for their return to society.

While Cane was "very impressed" by the total program at Lincoln, by its staff and by the "willingness to try new ideas," he felt that there might be too much of a rural orientation that may be inherent in its rural setting.

Many Fox Valley youths do not have a rural background, he said, and will not enter a rural society when they get out of Lincoln.

It is not likely that Cane, because he liked what he saw at Lincoln, will add significantly to its population. But indications were that he will weigh its use in more of the borderline cases that come before him in Court Branch 3.

Cane also said he would like to visit Lincoln every six months.

Appleton Man Takes Own Life

The death of a 59-year-old Appleton man Saturday night has been ruled a suicide by Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

Gerald W. Gitter, 903½ Sharon St., was pronounced dead at St. Elizabeth Hospital about 7:10 p.m., where he had been taken by private ambulance.

Kemps' ruling followed an investigation with Appleton police and a conference with police and Dist. Atty. James R. Long.

The victim was found lying on the bedroom floor of his apartment by another tenant.

18-Year-Olds Became Adults In 15 States

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin was among 15 states which granted adult status to 18-year-olds during the 1972 legislative sessions, the Council of State Governments said Saturday.

Six of those states, unlike Wisconsin, did not include the right to purchase alcoholic beverages in their legislation, the Lexington, Ky.-based organization said It said states which enacted an 18-year-old age of majority, including the right to drink alcoholic beverages, were Connecticut, Georgia, Hawaii, Maine, Montana, New Jersey, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The other six states were Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania

Courthouse Elections

To the surprise of no one who understands the mechanics of political organization in this state, the experience of the political parties in recruiting candidates for the county courthouse offices again shows a top heavy lead for the Republicans over the Democrats.

The filings are in telling contrast to the comparative strength of the parties, whether measured by congressional representation, seats in the legislature, vote patterns in contests for governor over the last decade or more, or any other test. Democrats now are the majority party, if the political preference of our electorate is to be measured by congressional elections, or by the control of the state executive department, or if recent legislative elections are accepted as a guide. Democrats won the assembly two years ago by a spectacular margin. Republicans hold the senate today largely because the law provides for the election of half the membership of that house in alternate elections, which in 1970 meant that half of the senators did not confront the Democratic vote wave of that year.

What is shown in the comparative superiority of Republicans in the elective courthouse offices, we submit, is the refusal of average voters to think in partisan terms when they are choosing a clerk of courts, or a county clerk, or registrar, or even a district attorney or sheriff. Republicans have held a majority of the county offices for a long time. Incumbency is an obvious advantage, and potential Democratic aspirants demur because they know that their party identity will be a handicap.

Many of the incumbents, as constituents have surely observed, do not perform in a Republican policy way in their ministerial jobs. There is no Republican or Democratic way of keeping county board minutes, issuing marriage licenses, recording deeds and liens, serving process, or whatever.

The refusal of the electorate to follow ordinary partisan inclinations on the county courthouse ballot reinforces what has repeatedly been asserted here and elsewhere — that these places should be recruited on a nonpartisan basis and preferably, through merit appointment.

The history of party attitudes on the question is not encouraging. Perhaps it is too much to expect that Republicans, inheritors of an advantage deriving from the old one-party era in Wisconsin, will ever recognize the realities. Democrats have shown that they can compete strongly statewide, for major policy places, but repeatedly lose the courthouse recruiting contests. It may be conjectured, therefore, that they will pounce on this opportunity for useful change, if the voters decide that they should prosper in future years to a sufficient degree to have workable legislative control in Madison.

About Individualism and Security

Later generations may come to the conclusion that the major struggle of the Twentieth Century was between security and individual freedom. Actually this issue has been primary in much of American history and may just now be reaching some of the new or developing nations of the world.

Americans are apt to preach individualism and freedom as virtues above all. The Bill of Rights is held up, and correctly so, as the safeguard of those rights. Americans constantly must be on the lookout for the efforts to curb dissent, whether they come in the form of laws in the field of morals or only by public opinion. A lot of Americans do not understand that the Bill of Rights was written to protect unpopular opinions. The popular ones need no such protection.

But many nations are not in the mold of the United States, much as we try to portray our various allies that way. China is the most recent example of a country in which the people have accepted security in exchange for what we would call freedom of opinion. On Mr. Nixon's visit to China, the many newsmen accompanying him were permitted generally to go anywhere they liked or rather anywhere they could get. While the showplaces were obviously presented, reporters going to less known areas found in general drab existences but no hunger or lack of shelter. The Chinese, carrying their little red books, had perhaps unwillingly chosen security rather than freedom of opinion but after the centuries of misery, corruption and starvation, one can hardly blame them.

It is this wide divergence between the wealthy nations of the world and the poor ones that cannot be shrugged off. Words like freedom and democracy are mere rhetoric to a man desperately trying to bring home enough rice to keep his children alive. In the same way, except to a few Americans — and there should be none in this category — statements about freedom from hunger mean very little. Most Americans can afford to thumb their noses at government without worrying about the next loaf of bread.

The United States should not need to portray the peoples and governments of other countries as seeking immediately the blessings of liberty which we uphold. It is ridiculous to picture President Nguyen Van Thieu as a democratic leader just as it is ridiculous to try to show the people of any part of Indochina as understanding representative government. It's silly to frown about President Allende of Chile just because he is an acknowledged Marxist when almost every Latin American government is dictatorial whatever its ideology. After all, who set the United States up as the arbiter of what is right and what is wrong around the world?

It may be that Americans at least pay lip service to freedom of speech and opinion because most of them are not hungry and do not have to despair of having a roof over their heads. Some, although not all of the dissenters of the American way, are those who do or have had such concerns.

Peron Still Factor in Argentine

Juan D. Peron, exiled Argentina dictator, didn't return to that country by the Aug. 25 deadline for qualifying as a presidential candidate. But that doesn't mean that he won't be a factor in the national elections scheduled for next March, when President Alejandro Lanusse has promised that the 6-year military dictatorship will end.

Supporters of Peron insist that he plans to return from Spain by the end of the year. His return after a 17-year exile would confuse the political picture in Argentina, where the 76-year-old former dictator still remains as something of a hero to the working class for what they believe were halcyon days despite the dismal realities when Peron was forced to leave.

When Peron came to power just after World War II, Argentina had a strong economy based on wartime sales of beef and grain. But the picture soon changed. When he was ousted after a 10-year rule, aided and abetted by his late wife, Eva, the country was on the verge of bankruptcy. The situation hasn't changed much in the intervening years. The cost of living has increased tremendously — 60 per cent since the first of the year — and unemployment totals eight per cent. The country also has a serious balance-of-payments deficit.

Some observers believe that Peron will name a candidate for the presidency even if he does not run himself. The Peronists still control the country's labor movement and about a third of the electorate. President Lanusse is aware of this and will have to cultivate workers' support if he hopes to return the country to constitutional government. Heightened tensions can be expected before the March elections are held, if they in fact are, and the shadow of Peron hovers over the country's future. It would be unfortunate if the exiled dictator's influence, even from afar if he doesn't return, made the political turbulence in Argentina even more inimical to a return to stability and the real need for a frontal attack on the nation's economic and social problems. Argentinians should recall what really happened under Peron without the roseate and nostalgic recollections of what they thought happened.

"It's in the bag!"

Another Pearl Harbor

Japanese Industry Capturing Pacific Areas Economically

BY KEVIN P. PHILLIPS

WASHINGTON — Not long ago, a book about the New York advertising scene came out entitled "From Those Wonderful Folks Who Brought You Pearl Harbor," referring to the role Madison Avenue played in giving Datsuns, Sonys, and Toyotas a good, saleable image for the American market.

Because of the way Japan has gained the economic drop on the United States in recent years, the irony of the book title is well deserved, and one hopes President Nixon kept it well in mind during his meeting with Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka in Hawaii last Thursday and Friday. Pearl Harbor, after all, was just a hop, skip, and jump down the beach.

At the risk of drawing an unfair analogy, the Japanese seem to be resuming that old outlook: a driving, work hungry national determination likely to increase U.S.-Japanese rivalry and tension. These days, our two societies have diverging motivations. In the United States, as in Canada and Western Europe, the old Calvinist, or Horatio Alger, work ethic is in trouble. Unprecedented millions are on relief, and among those who are working, the new desire is for leisure time. Four-day work weeks are spreading and absenteeism is rampant. Life magazine made U.S. job boredom and alienation its Sept. 1 cover story.

Refusing Vacations

But while our industrial productivity suffers from high absenteeism and our Madison Avenue image-makers work for any client with cash, the Japanese are rising to the challenge of national opportunity just as they did in the 1930s. Workers, bureaucrats, and executives are so dedicated that the government has to force them to take vacations. Four-fifths of Japan's overall work force did not take the summer vacations they were entitled to this year. In one government agency, the Ministry of International Trade and Industry (!!), refusal to go on vacation was so widespread that officials had to institute fines of up to 2,000 yen a day for failure to use annual leave! A Labor Ministry poll in June found that more workers (37 per cent) derived satisfaction from work than from leisure and family activities (21 per cent). Japan is the only major industrial nation still on the six-day week, and where the banks are open on Saturdays.

Put this kind of societal horsepower behind the saw blade of Japanese world trade and commercial ambition, and you have the hint of another Pearl Harbor, this time economic. Under such competitive circumstances, it seems foolish for the United States to continue to furnish the Japanese with free military protection or tolerate U.S.-Japanese trade arrangements.

During the 1930's, Japan's goal was a Greater East Asia "Co-Prosperity Sphere" of Pacific nations dancing to the economic strings of Tokyo puppeteers. Now many press reports see a re-emergence of this blueprint in Japan's growing control over the trade and economies of many Asian nations. Actually, the Japanese threat would appear to be worse than ever. Prior to World War Two, Tokyo's tentacles did not reach much below the Equator. Australia, New Zealand, Brazil, and South Africa, unconnected with the "Co Prosperity Sphere," were economic colonies of Britain and the United States.

On the Move Again

Today the Japanese are on the move in these great future lands of the Southern hemisphere. Nippon has become Australia's biggest export market and Japanese investment is booming Down Under. Australians are beginning to refer to their country as "the Japanese quarry" and to describe themselves as "the first European country to be largely dependent on an Asian nation." Much the same thing is happening in New Zealand. Anxious for Japanese technology and interest, South Africa treats Japanese visitors as "honorary whites." And in Brazil, which may be one of the world's most populous and surprising countries by the year 2000, Japan has a little-known entre: Because of substantial 20th century migration, there are about 750,000 Japanese living in Brazil, mostly in the booming industrial area of Sao Paulo where they are an important economic force.

Nor is Japan merely moving into places (especially Australasia) where U.S. and British influence is receding. Hawaii itself has become the scene of an enormous influx of Japanese investment. And more and more Japanese tourists are arriving with their Nikons to snap pictures of 13-year-old Shiro framed by the partly sunken battleship Arizona.

Those wonderful folks are at it again.

William Morris, Appleton; Mrs. Robert DeWild, Mrs. Robert Thom and Miss Edna Zick, all of Neenah. Miss Jane Jenkins, Menasha student assisted with the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Blick, Appleton, returned from a 15-day trip to Rocky Mountain National Park and Colorado Springs, Colo.

10 YEARS AGO
Tuesday, Sept. 4, 1962

Miss Karen Lindemuth was to show slides on her trip to Holland and other European countries at the meeting of Odile chapter, Order of Eastern Star in Kaukauna.

Mrs. Merlin Buchanan announced the program of the Fox Valley Business and Professional Women as "Widening Personal Horizons." The program chairman said the September meeting would be on the topic, "Around the World in 60 Minutes."

GOP Mass Meeting in Oshkosh

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Sept. 5, 1872.

There will be a rousing campaign meeting at Oshkosh of next week, which is also the day and place appointed for the Republican Congressional Convention of this district.

United States Senators Matt. H. Carpenter and T. O. Howe will address the meeting.

Republicans at Appleton who can spare the time should make it a point to be present on this occasion, and thereby contribute to the making of this grand Republican rally of the campaign of Northern Wisconsin.

25 YEARS AGO

"Back to School Daze" was the theme of Labor Day family festivities at Riverview Country Club. An evening of school was held after the 6 p.m. supper with Dr. Nathan Pusey, the principal, Mrs. William Buchanan, spelling teacher, conducted a spelling bee; Mrs. Pusey, mathematics teacher, held a ciphering match; Mrs. Joseph Koffend, art teacher, taught a class. Both students and faculty closed the program with a community sing.

Wisconsin Report

Doubts Expressed Over W.C. Kidd's Development Role

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Democratic state administration has made its major gesture to the business community by naming a new chief of staff of the state Department of Economic Development after "elevating" it to the status of a cabinet-level agency.

Wyngaard

In the ceremonial style that Gov. Lucey has mastered to an expert degree, the tall, robust and handsome William C. Kidd was introduced to the Capitol press as "first secretary" of the agency.

White-named and self-assured, the former ranking officer of two major corporations in Racine briefly answered routing questions. He made it quite clear that he takes his chair with no preconceptions about his job and, perhaps, with some uncertainty about the shift from the executive suite to the new environment of a lesser branch of the bureaucracy at the Capitol.

Reporters Puzzled

Reporters at the governor's office where Kidd was produced as the news of the day came away unsure. Was the cautious style of response to ordinary questions the natural reaction of the corporate officer who is not accustomed to such exposure?

Or was he inadequately briefed by the executive office staff, and surprised that he would be asked any questions about himself, his ideas, or his definition of the role of the state in the competition for industrial enterprise? Some gained the impression that he expected only to pose for the cameras, which is the definition of a "news conference" that is becoming more common in the land.

Gov. Lucey, a more skilled exploiter of the TV camera crews' acquiescent attitudes than any past or present statehouse newsmaker, assured Kidd that he would have the support of the executive office in working for a better economic climate in Wisconsin. This is scarcely a shattering piece of news in a political year when the opposition party is clearly intent upon making the Democratic regime's relations with business a major challenge.

Mr. Kidd agreed that the improvement of the economic base of the state is a consummation devoutly to be desired. He thoughtfully added — in deference to the political temperature of the times — that the goal must be sought within the limits of enlightened management of the environment. The state government and its resident business enterprises have more in common than people usually believe, he went on.

Hedges on Tax Climate

When the new official was asked about the "tax climate," the favorite shorthand pejorative of conservatives, he remarked that he had no expert knowledge. But listeners had already been told that he entered the upper ranks of corporate office by way of training as an accountant.

As afterthoughts, Secretary Kidd observed that Wisconsin may be compensating for tax exactions by the value of services rendered, and that the industrial recruiting problem may reflect more effective salesmanship elsewhere in the country.

When the new secretary settles down in a modest office in an obscure section of the Capitol annex, he will probably start his new career with a review of the files.

He will learn that Wisconsin has tinkered with such agencies for 3½ decades or more, that he has had a suggestively long line of predecessors, that Gov. Lucey was unable to put into his domain the demonstrably productive state promotion programs (tourism and agriculture), that every state is blowing its horn, and that politicians show some animation about the health of the local economy primarily in election years.

His office will have the same relation to prosperity of the state as the pretty cheer leader has to the triumph of the varsity. It may be real, but it is not easily demonstrated.

Strictly Personal

Which Temperament Do You Admit to—

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

There are, basically, two kinds of temperaments in the world. Those who get to the airport early enough to gas, oil and wash their plane, and those who get there just as the gates are closing.

Those who squeeze their toothpaste from the bottom of the tube and roll it up, and those who squeeze it any which way, losing the top in the process.

Those who sleep raw, under a thin sheet, and like the windows open at night; and those who sleep in flannels, under blankets, and like the windows closed at night.

Those who read their newspapers neatly folded, page by page, and leave them in the same condition they were found in; and those who detach the sheets and scatter them in unholy disorder.

Those who love parties, dancing, conviviality and late hours; and those who fall apart by 9 p.m. and are at their peak waking at 6 a.m.

Those who carefully itemize their checkbook stubs, balance their accounts, and know how to budget their outlay; and those who have no idea of how many checks they wrote, charges they ran up, or money left in the bank, if any.

Those who flourish in outdoor surroundings, and whose idea of joy is huddling damply in a marsh waiting for ducks; and those whose noses begin to run after a few minutes in the great outdoors.

Those who enjoy the elaborate and ingenious preparation of new and exotic dishes, and those who want nothing but bacon and eggs with ketchup poured all over the concoction.

Those who believe that a regimen of strictness and discipline is the only way to bring up a child; and those who believe that easiness and freedom contribute more to the child's character.

Those who want the house filled with company at every possible opportunity, and those who find entertaining a painful burden and an invasion of privacy.

Those whose idea of "travel" is dashing about from point to point, moving frequently, and taking in all the sights; and those whose idea of travel is renting a house on a secluded beach, and lying on the sand.

Those who look forward without fear to growing old, and those who dread it mortally and do everything to perpetuate the illusion of youth.

These are, basically, the two kinds of temperaments in the world — and it is the supreme irony of the human condition that almost invariably they are married to each other.

Olympic Games Halted After Attack by Terrorists

An Unidentified Member of the Hong Kong team at the Olympic games jumps out of the balcony of his apartment located in the same building where Arab guerrillas are holding 13 Israeli hostages after killing two others in Munich Tuesday. The Arabs have threatened to kill their hostages unless some 200 Arab terrorists being held in Israel are released. (AP Wirephoto)

MUNICH (AP) — Arab terrorists with submachine guns broke into the Olympic village today and killed two Israelis. They held a dozen others hostage against a demand fonr release of Arabs held for terrorists activity.

The Arabs carried boxes of explosives. They threatened to kill all the hostages unless 200 Arab terrorists held in Israel were released.

One deadline passed, then another. Meantime the Olympic Games were continuing, but it was announced that the competition will be suspended. A memorial service for the Israel dead will be held Wednesday.

Israel had asked that the games be halted and Premier Golda Meir denounced the attackers as murderers.

The deadline for action on the terrorists' demands was first set for noon, or 7 a.m. EDT. Then it was extended to 2 p.m., and later to 5 p.m.

A police lieutenant told AP correspondent Will Grimsley that there was a plan to storm the Israeli headquarters if the 5 p.m. deadline passed without resolution of the issues. Army tanks were pulled up in front of the building.

Chancellor Willy Brandt called a meeting of the West German Cabinet, then flew to Munich from Bonn to supervise in the negotiations.

Brandt appealed to all Arab nations to do everything they could to help achieve safe release of the hostages.

Police surrounded the Israel building and negotiated with the terrorists. Israeli diplomats rushed to Munich from Bonn. The Arabs refused to surrender.

Coach Dead

One of the dead Israelis was identified by the Bavarian Interior Ministry as Moshe Weinberg, 32, a wrestling coach. He was shot twice in the head and once in the stomach as the Arabs broke in before dawn.

The raid, a daring and apparently well planned operation, was carried out by about five men with blackened faces. They climbed over the fence surrounding the village and made straight for the building, also occupied by the teams of Uruguay and Hong Kong.

The terrorists tossed a paper out of a window of the Israeli quarters. It bore the title "Communique" and listed five points of an ultimatum:

1. West Germany must declare itself prepared to bring the Israeli hostages to a place to be specified by the "revolutionary forces" inside the Olympic village.

2. West Germany must provide the guerrillas with three airplanes. The Israelis would be divided into three groups and placed aboard each of the planes. After the first plane left, the other planes would in succession leave as soon as word was received that the previous one had reached the as-yet undisclosed destination.

3. Any attempt to interfere with the operation would result in the killing of the hostages. West Germany would bear full responsibility.

4. The ultimatum deadline would run out within three hours.

5. In the event the ultimatum is not heeded, orders would be given "to carry out revolutionary and just force in order to give the war chiefs of the Israeli war machine a hard lesson."

The communique ended with the appeal: "Revolutionaries of the world, unite."

Dr. Manfred Schreiber, Munich's chief of police, told reporters the West German government offered the terrorists an unlimited amount of money to free the hostages, but the Arabs refused. They also declined an offer to send in substitute hostages if they would free the Israeli athletes.

The Interior Ministry called the negotiations "very, very difficult."

The Middle East news agency said an organization called Black September took responsibility for the raid, calling the operation "Ikrit and Berem."

These are the names of two villages on the Lebanese border where Israel has refused to allow the return of Arab Christians evacuated in 1948 for security reasons.

Controversial Bills Faced by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back at work after a two-week break, the Senate prepared today to vote on granting a cash award to families of policemen and firemen killed on duty, while the House was set to decide on financing the antipoverty program.

Returning following the recess for the Republican National Convention and Labor Day, senators were scheduled to vote on a bill to provide $50,000 tax-free for the family of any policeman, fireman or other public safety officer killed in the line of duty.

House members slated action today on a compromise bill authorizing $4.8 billion for a two-year extension of the antipoverty program.

Run Into October

Congressional leaders are shooting for adjournment by the end of the month, but it is likely the session will spill over into October because of a number of controversial issues still to be resolved.

The first measure to be voted on by the Senate provides, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1967, for a $50,000 federal payment to the widow or other dependents of public safety officers killed while on duty.

In addition to policemen and firemen, this would include prison guards, national guardsmen and members of the armed forces assigned to maintain civil peace.

An almost-unbroken rise in police killings in the last decade led the administration to request the legislation. Justice Department records list 126 policemen killed in line of duty during 1971, compared to 37 a decade earlier.

The bill also would provide for a payment of $25,000 to an officer for the loss of a foot or a hand or blindness in one eye, and $50,000 for double dismemberment. None of the payments would be subject to federal income taxes.

The estimated cost of the bill is $6 million to $8 million a year. But since it would be retroactive to 1967, an appropriation of $40 million is authorized for the first year.

Another bill to be voted on by the Senate is designed to take the profit out of cargo thefts by authorizing treble-damage suits and other antitrust-type remedies by victims.

The Justice Department said this could serve as a deterrent against fencing and purchase of stolen property. Losses from cargo thefts are estimated at more than $1.5 billion a year.

Another bill would add methadone-maintenance programs to the methods of treatment that federal judges could order for herein addicts under the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Act of 1966.

The House already has passed this bill, and only Senate approval is needed to send it to President Nixon.

Agnew to Follow McGovern Before Southern Governors

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — The Southern Governors Conference hears more talk about presidential politics today with the arrival of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Agnew will address a dinner at the conference — two days after Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee came to this island resort for a three-hour parley with the governors.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, wounded in an assassination attempt last May, arrived Monday afternoon and also will be at the dinner. He was brought by helicopter to the 18th hole of a Hilton Head country club, where he was met by about 200 persons.

The conference, scheduled to end Wednesday, has been dominated by talk of presidential politics.

Two Endorsements

McGovern said he sought no endorsements but received two — from South Carolina Gov. John West and Gov. Bob Scott of North Carolina. Scott was the first Southern governor to announce that he would chair the South Dakotan's campaign in his respective state.

Scott, whose term expires this year, called a news conference Monday to criticize Democratic politicans who have shied away in large numbers from supporting the national ticket.

"I don't have much use for those people who are too weak to get out and support the party that has given them an opportunity to serve," said Scott.

Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel, who earlier had endorsed McGovern, told newsmen he felt the two Deep South endorsements represented a "dramatic breakthrough" and he said he anticipated more.

But Mandel agreed with Southern governors who told McGovern that President Nixon currently was far ahead of him south of the Mason-Dixon line.

"It is a very good thing that the election is not being held now," said Mandel.

Presidential adviser Harry Dent arrived Monday and immediately began lobbying among the governors for President Nixon and Agnew.

He told newsmen that Scott put his political career in jeopardy with his McGovern endorsement.

"I don't think it was a wise decision if he has any future political plans," said Dent.

He said his soundings indicate the Republicans will carry every Southern state. Only Texas is in any doubt, he said, "and we can't see conservative Texas suddenly voting radical."

Nixon Takes 'Nonpolitical' Side Trip

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — "Nonpolitical trips" by presidents seeking re-election are almost as old as the country — and Richard Nixon is making one today, to San Francisco.

Nixon decided to stop in the bay city en route back to Washington to meet aboard a ferryboat with members of his Citizens' Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality.

The focal point of Nixon's San Francisco stopover is his proposal to create a Golden Gate National Recreation Area, a plan awaiting approval by Congress.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that because Nixon would be wearing his presidential hat during the day and attending to official duties, the taxpayers rather than the Republican party would pay for his round-about flight back to Washington.

No Appearances

When Nixon flew to California the day after last month's Republican National Convention, the GOP picked up the tab because his schedule en route had been "political" before.

The San Francisco stopover calls for no public appearances, airport rallies or other things normally associated with overt electioneering.

The Environmental Quality Committee is headed by Laurence S. Rockefeller and includes pioneer aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, entertainer Arthur Godfrey and former astronaut Frank Borman.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were joining committee members aboard the ferry appropriately named "Golden Gate" for a brief meeting.

The Nixons and committee members planned to be aboard the vessel for 35 minutes, presumably taking time to view some of the waterside acreage Nixon wants to turn into a park.

The President and First Lady spent a quiet Labor Day at their San Clemente home — at least until evening when they invited reporters and photographers who cover their activities to attend a poolside cocktail party.

Olympic Officials Guard Hero Spitz

MUNICH (AP) — "I'm four years older and own seven gold medals," Olympic hero Mark Spuitz staid today in comparing his flop at the 1968 Games to the glory of Munich.

Spitz conducted a 40-minute news conference shortly after Palestinian terrorists stormed Olympic Village and killed two members of the Israeli team.

"I think it's very tragic," said Spitz, who refused to stand in the open at a microphone. "I have no further comment."

Following the conference, German soldiers escorted Spitz out of the huge Olympic press building and he was taken to a downtown Munich hotel.

Take No Chances

"He is much too popular to take chances," a spokesman for the German Olympic Organizing Committee said.

Spitz is a Jew of Russian-English heritage.

Relegating the questioning to swimming subjects thereafter, Spitz said he was "under a lot of pressure, but now I feel great."

The handsome, 22-year-old Californian swept finals in the 100 and 200-meter freestyle, 100 and 200-butterfly plus three relays. All came in world record time.

Asked who, including himself, was the greatest swimmer of all time, Spitz grinned and then answered, "I don't think I'm in a position to say who's better or worse than I am."

Spitz predicted before the Mexico City Olympics that he would capture six gold medals, but the then 18-year-old Indiana University freshman took only two relay and a silver and bronze individual medal on almost unbeatable teams.

In Munich, he won everything but the swimming hall.

Packed Crowd

As Spitz answered questions, he sat in the relative security of the packed crowd. His personal coach, Sherm Chavoor of Arden Hill Swim Club in Carmichael, Calif., was on one side, the U.S. men's coach, Peter Daland of the University of Southern California, on the other.

"I'm pleased to see this crowd and it's a great honor for me," the pre-dental graduate said. Asked about his public image, he said, "I tried to do my best. I have no control over what people think."

A small boy hung what was called an "eighth gold medal" around Mark's neck. Spitz explained only that "a lot of little children got together and wrote saying they liked how I swam."

A reporter said that Spitz and chess world champion Bobby Fischer now are the top American sports heroes and asked Mark what he thought of the other sportsman.

"I admire Bobby Fischer," he said. "And, I'm not going to take up chess."

Fischer Gets $154,687 Chess Purse

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — "Bobby has a check for his prize," says an aide to Bobby Fischer, the new world chess champion. "He'll probably cash it and spend it all. But he'll need a wheelbarrow to take it away in."

Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Russian champion Fischer defeated, both got good news Monday. They are getting the $122,500 in prize money put up by the British financier, James D. Slater.

Slater announced in London that the Bank of England had granted him permission to export the 50,000 pounds he offered as prize money toward the match. Fischer and Spassky will get the money in any currency they want.

Fischer's share from Slater is $76,562.50, making his total purse $154,687.50. Spassky's loser's purse came to $92,812.50, counting the $45,937.50 he will get from Slater.

Fischer plans to stay in Reykjavik for at least a week. Spassky plans to return to Moscow on Thursday.

Sunny, Cooler Weather Ahead

Fox Cities — Fair and cooler tonight, mostly sunny and continued cool Wednesday. Low tonight in the mid 40s. High Wednesday near the mid 70s. Wind north at 6-12 m.p.h. tonight and Wednesday. Precipitation probabilities 10 per cent tonight and 5 per cent Wednesday.

Appleton — Observations at 9:30 a.m. for the preceding 24 hours: high 70, low 38. Barometer 30.07 and rising. Wind west at 6 m.p.h. Humidity 84 per cent. Dew point 56. Skies overcast. A trace of rain.

Sunset today at 7:23 p.m. Sunrise tomorrow at 6:22 a.m. The moon rises at 5:13 a.m. tomorrow near the star Regulus.

Early next month, the planet Venus, now high above Regulus, will be seen quite near that star. And in November Venus will appear near the star Spica.

Man Killed In Chemical Plant Blast

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP) — One man was killed and three others critically burned today in an explosion and fire at a chemical plant, police said.

The body of the dead employee was found under rubble in a burned-out section of the Ware Chemical Co. an hour after the explosion.

A newsman at the scene, near the Connecticut Turnpike, said the roof was blown off and walls and windows shattered, and part of the roof landed in a parking lot across the street. Windows in nearby buildings also were broken by the blast.

Fire officials said unexploded tanks of chemicals remained in the building.

Half an hour after the blast, flames could be seen shooting 80-90 feet up from the interior of the small building.

Residents as far away as 10 miles said the blast awakened them.

Cheap Tickets on Soviet Airline

Tourists Stranded, 'Imprisoned'

MOSCOW (AP) — Bargain-hunting foreign tourist have discovered that cheap tickets on the Soviet airline can mean cheap service and even imprisonment in a Moscow hotel when the line runs out of plane seats.

About 100 travelers from the United States, Britain, Japan, West Germany and other countries had that experience over the weekend.

U.S. and British consular officials who went to the airline hotel Monday were told that the Americans and British among those stranded had finally taken a flight to London.

There was no official Soviet statement on the situation.

The passengers had all bought tickets on Aeroflot, the Soviet government airline, and were supposed to change planes in Moscow. Since they were not stopping over in the Soviet capital, they had been issued no Soviet entry visas. But when they arrived in Moscow, they found that Aeroflot had sold too many tickets and no seats were available for them for several days on outgoing flights.

Soviet visas usually take weeks to get, so the stranded passengers were put under guard on the four top floors of the transit hotel run by Aeroflot. Some were kept there from Friday to Monday, or longer.

Entrances to the floors were locked, and Soviet officials made room checks. The foreigners were not allowed to make or receive telephone calls, but some finally managed to notify their embassies. They were taken to the hotel restaurant in shifts.

"We are not the guests of the Soviet state, we are its prisoners," said a West German schoolteacher who managed to contact a newsman.

Aeroflot refused to put the travelers on foreign airlines with space available because the Soviet line would have had to reimburse the Western lines in hard currencies and paid the standard fares.

Although one of the biggest international carriers, Aeroflot does not belong to IATA, the International Air Transport Association, and can sell tickets on its scheduled flights at less than IATA fares.

One stranded passenger said he paid only $475 for a $1,760 round trip ticket from New York to Tehran and return.

Transatlantic travelers elsewhere had their problems over the Labor Day weekend.

Trans World Airlines said the last 20 of an estimated 100 passengers stranded in Madrid without reservations left for New York Monday. Some had waited four days for seats. A U.S. Embassy official in Madrid said seven of those stranded had reservations, and they were put up at airline expense.

The Canadian government removed 31 passengers, including some Americans, from a Toronto-London charter flight Monday because they had been sold tickets in violation of regulations. Twenty were later allowed to rejoin the charter group for compassionate reasons.

Reginald Gee of Jefferson, Ohio, and his family had to buy new tickets to London on a scheduled airline. Gee said he had dealt with the Toronto charter firm by telephone and mail and when he picked up his tickets he discovered they were the return portions of tickets of passengers who had flown to Canada from England on Aug. 12.

Mrs. Michael Resnick of Rochester, N.Y., was ordered off the charter flight at Toronto but later allowed to fly after Canadian officials warned her she would have to take her chances getting home. She said she had paid the charter firm only $179 for a round trip to London.

"This is the last time I'm traveling on a charter," she said.

New Juries to Reflect County's Residents

Outagamie County juries will have a new look this fall.

For one thing, they will be younger than in the past. For another, there will be an equal balance between men and women and, hopefully, they will represent an occupational and geographic cross-section of the county.

The changes are a result of a directive from new Circuit Court Judge Gordon Myse that the master list of names from which jury panels are selected must represent a cross-section of county residents.

The master list, by law, must contain a minumum of 500 names and a maximum of 1,000 names. From that list the panels are drawn for the circuit and county court juries. Three jury commissioners supply the names for the master list.

Jury panels in the past have drawn criticism that they were overbalanced with older people and that not all occupations were represented.

New Master List

This will all change now, according to Judge Myse. The new master list is almost a precise reflection of the age groups in the county.

Judge Myse said he took the 1970 census figures and broke down the exact percentage for each age group. Clerk of Courts Gloria Johnson reported the breakdown of the master list is 25 per cent between the ages of 18 and 35; 20 per cent between 35 and 45, 20 per cent between 45 and 55, 20 per cent between 55 and 65, and 15 per cent over 65. The list also is equally divided between men and women.

Miss Johnson said that when the directive came from Judge Myse to revamp the master list, it still contained 700 names, but there was no other information available on those people other than their mailing addresses.

Everyone Called

The county commissioners submitted another 1,400 names to go along with the previous 700. Then, every person was called to determine age, sex, occupation and town, village or city in which they lived.

Miss Johnson estimated that five girls in her office donated about 75 hours of evening and weekend time to telephone each person on the list for the information.

After that task was complete, she again met with the jury commissioners to select the 1,000 names which went on the master list.

Judge Myse said he felt Miss Johnson and the jury commissioners had been "most cooperative" in attempting to follow his directive.

Cross Section

He said there was a cross section by age and he hoped a cross section by occupation. Noting past practices, Judge Myse said "It is my feeling that professionals should be systematically excluded because of their profession."

He added he was very pleased at the reaction by the people when they were called, especially the parents of the 18 to 21 year olds. Most of them felt their children should be involved in the judicial process, the judge said.

On Wednesday, the first jury panels will be drawn from the master list. While it is conceivable that a jury panel could be overbalanced with one age group or occupational group, it will be because of mathematical chance rather than because of lack of choice.

School Financing On Brillion Agenda

BRILLION — Representatives from Ehlers & Associates, Minneapolis, financial consultants, are expected to meet Wednesday night with the board of education to discuss possible means of financing for the proposed school addition.

A levy of $4 per $1,000 of equalized valuation for debt service was included in the $16.50 per $1,000 valuation levied at this year's annual meeting in July. This will result in a reserve of approximately 180,000 at the conclusion of tax collection for the current year.

The long-range planning which resulted in levying the added $4 per $1,000 means that the district can accomplish the building of the proposed new facilities without any additional tax increase.

More Land

The architects have advised the board that additional land is needed to implement the building program. The district has $26,867 in a fund earmarked for any necessary land acquisition.

The building, according to current plans, will include a gymnasium, locker rooms, cafeteria and storage space. The cost is expected to range from $972,000 to slightly over $1 million.

The board, meeting last week in special session, approved the latest architectural drawings of the proposed addition as presented by Len Schober of Berner, Schober & Kilm, Green Bay.

Corridor

Cut from the original design were a 40-by-40-foot lobby estimated at approximately $80,000 and a ground-level corridor. An underground corridor will connect the basement of the existing building to the basement of the new gymnasium.

The approximate $1 million figure includes base contracts, site development, equipment, architect fees, elevator, additional boiler and a contingency factor.

The proposal to move the football field and build a track are not included in these cost figures. After the gym addition is completed, the move will be considered if sufficient funds are available.

Marion Slates Mill Pond Referendum

MARION — Local residents will be voting on a Marion Mill Pond water safety referendum in addition to state primaries when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

The referendum deals with boating, safety and water use regulations on the pond.

Voters will determine whether the city ordinance shall remain the same or be revised to read: "No motorized watercraft shall operate on the Marion Mill Pond."

The city ordinance currently states, "No watercraft shall operate at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under existing conditions, and in no case shall operate at speeds greater or in excess of six miles per hour. No watercraft shall operate so as to show a wake within forty feet of any shoreline or bathing area."

Those persons favoring the change not to allow any motorized craft believe that any motor on the newly renovated pond leaves an oil slick. They believe this would create enough pollution, in time, to undo the work done on the popular body of water.

18-Year-Olds Became Adults In 15 States

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin was among 15 states which granted adult status to 18-year-olds during the 1972 legislative sessions, the Council of State Governments said Saturday.

Six of those states, unlike Wisconsin, did not include the right to purchase alcoholic beverages in their legislation, the Lexington, Ky.-based organization said. It said states which enacted an 18-year-old age of majority, including the right to drink alcoholic beverages, were Connecticut, Georgia, Hawaii, Maine, Montana, New Jersey, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The other six states were Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania.

The council added that the age of majority was lowered to 19 in Iowa and Nebraska.

Broadcast Educati on Funds Urged

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The state Educational Communications Board, planning for the shift of operations to a working state educational television system, Friday asked for a whopping 88 per cent increase in its state tax funded operating budget for the 1973-75 biennium.

The increase was almost offset in a projected 56 per cent reduction in building programs involving state tax funds, however, resulting in a total operating and capital budget request that marked only a 5.9 per cent increase in state tax funding for the coming two years.

Capital Requests

The operating budget request approved without dissent by the board involves a call for $4,901,600 in tax financing — up from total appropriations of $2,603,000 for the current biennium.

Capital budget requests, however, were down from state tax costs of $3,293,100 in the 1971-73 biennium to $1,454,600 for the 1973-75 period, reflecting the expected shift of the statewide system in the coming two years from an era of constructionto an era of broadcast operations.

The request was forwarded to Gov. Patrick J. Lucey for his consideration in the preparation of his 1973-75 budget request to the legislature next year.

The budget request does not include federal funding of the planned LaCrosse Educational Television (ETV) station, pegged at about $340,000 in grant funds in the 1973-75 biennium. The figure was not included because the federal application has not yet received full approval. State tax fund requests will not be affected by that federal application.

Budget Reduction

Included in the budget is a reduction of $124,300 in the existing level of operations of the agency to meet Lucey's demand that state department reduce spending by a total of 7.5 per cent during the coming two years in an effort to increase "productivity".

The board was told by its administrators that it would cost $3,446,500 during the next two years to continue the current level of operations.

Among the new programs requested is a $437,000 proposal to allow local video tape and film production at stations in Green Bay, LaCrosse, Eau Claire and Wausau. A $209,000 program in drivers education is proposed for funding out the segregated highway trust funds or out of drivers education funds now unused in the Department of Public Instruction and the state Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education.

State Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, abstained from voting on that part of the budget. Chairman of the Senate highways committee and a defender of the special highway fund, he said that he wanted to make sure where the money is to com from before he backs the move.

Expanded FM radio broadcast schedules accounted for another $105,000 of the increase proposed, and special assistance programs operated regionally to help schools make use of the new ETV program efforts added another $160,000. Increased coordination and administration efforts boosted the proposed budget by almost $500,000.

Video Tape

The proposed local origination with video tape facilities accounted for $646,000, almost half of the total capital equipment budget. A slow scan system to add simple visual transmission capabilities to the FM network was proposed at a $111,000 cost.

In addition to approving the budget, the board also authorized a requested power increase for the campus station at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh to 961 watts, and established guidelines for new and expanded campus radio station operations.

The guidelines will prohibit stations from broadcasting identical programs at the same time they are available on local commercial or public broadcast stations, and insure that the primary purpose of new campus stations will be to serve the campus community and to provide training opportunities for students.

Weekend Crashes Kill 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen persons were reported killed on Wisconsin roads during the Labor Day holiday weekend. Their deaths and that of a stillborn infant whose mother had been involved in an earlier accident sent the state's 1972 traffic toll to 744, or three behind the pace on this date last year.

Racine County Coroner Daniel Cunningham said Monday an autopsy showed that the death of Mary Therese Carl, who was born Sunday to Mrs. Mervin Carl of Sturtevant, was induced by injuries sustained Aug. 28 in a Racine County traffic accident.

Steve Quam, 23, of rural Stoughton was killed Sunday night when the motorcycle on which he was a passenger went out of control on a Stoughton street.

Robert Brenengen, 16, of rural Ettrick and April Kingo, 16, of Arcadia lost their lives Sunday when the car Brenengen was driving struck the side of a bridge on U.S. 53 about one-half mile north of Galesville.

William Rees, 24, of Portage, Ind., was killed early Sunday when his car left Dodge County Trunk W one-half mile west of Juneau and struck a utility pole.

Larry Hass, 21, of Madison died Saturday night when the car he was in left Dane County Trunk F south of Black Earth and struck a tree.

Jesse Linder, 34, of Milwaukee was fatally injured Saturday when, police said, three hit-and-run cars struck him on a Milwaukee street. Police Lt. Richard Noennig said witnesses reported Linder was struck by one car and fell in the middle of a North Side street, was hit by another as he tried to get up and then was struck by a third. Only the second driver stopped briefly to look at Linder and then continued on his way, Noennig said witnesses reported.

Three victims—Sarah Southerland and Mary Harsh, both 19 and of Eau Claire, and Thomas Hoyt, 23, of Menomonie—were killed early Saturday in the Dunn County collision of two cars and a motorcycle.

Dennis Nielson, 24, of Milwaukee died Saturday in an accident near Baraboo, while Michael Gutyahr, 21, of Kewaskum lost his life in a Washington County mishap.

A Grant County crash killed Helen Feakes, 53, of Fennimore Friday night.

Kenneth Sikora, 14, of Milwaukee died Sunday of injuries sustained in a traffic accident Wednesday.

David Starrine, 25, of Milwaukee was killed Sunday when the car he was in left a road south of Marquette, Mich., and rolled over three times.

Traffic accidents around the nation claimed 554 lives during the Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance a highway death toll between 580 and 680 for the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

The 1971 Labor Day weekend traffic toll was 616.

Imported Birds Banned To Eradicate Disease

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has banned the import of all pet and exotic birds in an effort to eradicate a disease which it fears may threaten the nation's poultry industry.

Local pet shop owners say the ban means such birds as parrots, mynah birds and tropical finches will not be available for the duration of the ban. Canaries and parakeets bred in the United States will continue to be for sale.

It might be possible for importers to have quarantined birds available by spring, one pet shop employe said, but James Hauert, owner of Hauert's Pet and Garden store, said the rules on facilities for quarantining are so stringent that there are none "that will even come close to meeting them."

Jan Volpe of Tropical Pets Unlimited said the last time there was such a ban in effect, imported pets were not available for five years.

The action was taken by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service to protect the poultry industry from further introduction of New Castle disease into the U.S. A commercial shipment of imported exotic birds into Southern California late last year is considered by scientists to have resulted in the destruction or death of some 3.9 million poultry and other birds.

Officials stressed that consumers cannot catch New-castle disease by eating poultry or eggs from diseased birds. All diseased birds and their products are disposed of and do not reach consumer channels. However, if the disease is not eradicated, it is feared that a shortage of eggs, broilers, and turkeys could result.

Personally owned pet birds will be exempt from the import ban if they meet specific requirements. APHIS officials said. Bird owners will be allowed to bring into this country one or two personally - owned caged pet birds if they supply a notarized statement that the birds have been in the owner's possession for at least 90 days, are healthy, and have not been exposed to any other birds during those 90 days.

Bloodmobile To Make Stop At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its next visit from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sept. 20 at the Veterans Memorial Building. The quota has been set at 175 pints of blood.

At the July 10 visit, due to a breakdown in the truck the Bloodmobile was late in getting here and did not get started until 3 p.m. There were 88 pints of blood collected, so a special effort is being made to make up for the shortage at the Sept. 20 visit.

Lincoln Takes Steps to Stop What Was Drug Problem

BY BILL KNUTSON
Post Crescent Staff Writer

MERRILL — Two weeks ago a boy who was AWOL from Lincoln Boys School here told Outagamie County Judge R. Thomas Cane that there was a serious drug use problem at the school.

Cane had wanted to visit Lincoln so he could know more about the place he would be sending delinquent boys and girls in his new role as juvenile court judge.

The possibility of a serious drug problem there prompted him to make the trip as soon as possible.

In Cane's 21-hour stay with the residents and staff last week, he learned that drugs, mostly marijuana but some speed and few hits of LSD, have crept into Lincoln. Supervisors readily admit there have been some problems.

A Green Bay youth who said he has used most types of drugs ("It's the nearest thing to heaven on earth") told Cane he had helped bring marijuana into his "cottage" upon returning to Lincoln from a weekend furlough.

Added to Sentences

He and several others in the cottage (each of 12 cottages will accommodate 25 youths), including an Appleton boy who candidly remarked that before coming to Lincoln he had taken at least 300 hits of LSD, had time added to their sentences for bringing in the marijuana.

Youths agreed that tighter security checks ("I think they're even taking the light bulbs apart in our rooms," one boy remarked), especially involving residents coming off furloughs, have made it nearly impossible to get drugs onto the grounds.

"What little drug problem they do have is being controlled," Cane said after his visit.

He indicated concern over the number of youths who admitted they had been heavy drug users and would resume use after getting out. One Lincoln official estimated that 40 per cent of the youths sentenced here (there were 175 residents when Cane visited) have used drugs.

Many youths told Cane they were sent to Lincoln because they were caught burglarizing and stealing to support their drug habits. An Appleton boy was financing his habit by stealing car tape players and selling them for a fraction of their value.

More Help Needed

A boy told Cane that, although he had no desire to kick drug use, Lincoln should put more emphasis on programs designed to help those who do.

Cane met informally with scores of boys and girls, most of whom seemed eager to talk to him. Cane was impressed by the openness of the youths.

It seemed that many of the youths were at Lincoln for the second time, although Supt. Paul Imler said the recidivism rate is less than 20 per cent. The average stay is about nine months.

Imler and his staff are optimistic over the future of the coeducational program that began here in June. There now are 12 female delinquents here and plans are to build that to 75. It is the state's first coeducational correctional institution.

Some boys do not share the staff's enthusiasm. They said the girls try to lead the boys on. Some boys feared the girls would bring about more restrictions for everyone and a few boys said the girls seem to "get away with more" than the boys.

Likes Idea

But for every boy that isn't overjoyed about girls being here, there is one who is happy to have them. And all of the girls Cane talked to liked having boys around.

Cane liked the idea, too. He agreed with Imler that it makes for less of an artificial life style and could aid substantially in rehabilitation efforts.

The mixed sex plan, which has succeeded in other states, might bring problems at times, Imler admitted, but he hoped the public will understand and will be willing to give the program a chance.

Cane, in discussing Lincoln after his first visit there, felt that:

— Youngsters are taught to help themselves; not to rely solely on their counselors and other staff members at Lincoln for the change that must take place if they are to benefit from their stay.

Education Curriculum

— The education curriculum seems to be varied, with a desirable balance between standard classroom work and vocational training. The academic program continues nearly all year. Many youths earn their high school degrees here. Several boys said they preferred Lincoln's academic program to that of the public schools.

— There seemed to be a strong attempt to involve the families of delinquent youngsters in the rehabilitation process.

Home visits (furloughs) are granted regularly, although they, like many other freedoms, must be earned, and parental visitation is encouraged.

Policemen usually deliver youngsters to Lincoln after the court has passed sentence. Imler said he would like to see more children brought here in the family sedan instead of in a squad car. It's less traumatic on the youngster and the parents get a chance to see where their child will be for the next nine months.

Take Own Children

Cane said he will order that parents take their children to Lincoln, although there may be times when police will have to transport.

The closeness between the staff and the youths was obvious during Cane's visit, he remarked. Conversation between them was informal and often jovial. Many boys volunteered information on friendships they had developed with staff members. Only a couple of boys felt they had not been treated fairly at times.

Cane was told of a counselor's son who recently was killed in a car accident. He and his son had developed such a closeness with the boys in his assigned cottage that six of those boys were pallbearers.

Community Involvement

Imler, who has headed Lincoln since it opened two years ago, is thinking in terms of more Lincoln-community involvement in future years. It will mean the staff and residents of the school will turn more frequently to outside resources, such as employers.

Calumet County Fair Draws Capacity Crowds on Sunday

CHILTON — Crowds at the Calumet County Fair this past weekend reached 20,000, according to Herb Harder, secretary, with Sunday being the biggest day when crowds had to be turned away from the grandstand show.

Sunday evening's performance of stock car races, sponsored by the Wisconsin Northeastern Stock Car Association, was quite a drawing card to the fair as ticket booths to the grandstand had to be closed because no more seating was available.

Midway rides and exhibition halls also were jammed with fairgoers.

Cheryl Meier, 18-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Patrick Meier, route 3, was chosen from eight contestants as Calumet County's "Fairest of the Fair" in competition Sunday afternoon. She now is eligible to compete for the title of Wisconsin's "Fairest of the Fair" queen at the state fair in West Allis next year.

The Hillside Cheese factory, route 1, Chilton, won the cheesemakers award for the third year in a row.

Martin Bankert, fair board president, said he was not pleased with the parking facilities provided by the city in an adjacent field The Jaycee ball diamond area at the fairgrounds, formerly used for parking, was fenced off and not available to fairgoers

Bankert said that two evenings of rain made the field wet and claimed that some cars became stuck and had to be pulled from their parking spots.

New Experience for Belgium Youth

CLINTONVILLE — A new experience began today for Francis Coulon, 19, from Herinnes, Belgium, as classes began at Clintonville High School.

Herinnes is an American Field Service student who will be living here for a year.

Francis is living with Mr. and Mrs. William Brennan and their son, R J, at Clover Leaf Lakes — route 2, Clintonville. Both young men are seniors.

Francis says that he wants to eventually become a surgeon and that he expects to study at Brussels His high school schedule includes math analysis, physics, gym, English, advanced biology and sociology.

Since arriving here Aug. 17, Francis has become acquainted with quite a number of the young people. Two of the high school students, Ann McCarthy and Dennis Glocke, who are student representatives on the AFS committee, were chairmen of a party for him at the swimming pool.

The Brennans are in the process of remodeling a home they purchased at Clover Leaf Lakes, according to R J.'s plans and design, so Francis has been helping with some of the painting They plan on moving into the house in about a month

"Both boys have such a good sense of humor," Mrs. Brennan said, "and it helps a lot."

R. J. commented, "I've never had either a sister or a brother so cooperation (from Francis) is something I've never had before."

Francis has a 16-year-old brother, Patrick, who is studying to become an auto mechanic, and he has about six years of schooling before he can enter that field

The Coulons live in a small town of less than 2,500 population, about eight miles from the French border in a flat, agricultural region of Belgium. Wheat production and dairy farming are its primary commerce.

Francis' father is the civil clerk of the town. He explained that in Belgium, the clerk is a jack-of-all-trades in the municipal government as he is a policeman and general controller of the town's finances.

The Brennans remarked that they were amazed at Francis' ability to memorize, but he said that his ability is not a result of a photographic memory rather it is because the educational system that he was in stressed rote learning and not free expression. However, this older system of education is slowly giving way to a newer system.

The Belgium student attends 45 hours of classes, six days a week whereas the American student attends about 33 hours, five days a week At home, Francis said, he began school at 8 a.m and finished at 5 p.m., and it is mandatory for a student to remain in the school building studying until 5 p.m. even if his classes end earlier. About two hours of night school work is required.

"My father had the exact same course as I did and I utilized most of my father's textbooks," Francis said.

By the second year of secondary school, which is equivalent to junior high school here, a student is expected to know what career he will enter and the rest of that person's schooling will be geared to that end, he explained. With his plans to become a surgeon, he has about 10 years of education ahead of him

He enjoys electronics, classical and modern music, and bicycling as a pastime. The two young men are already planning and working on a stereo set-up for R. J.'s room.

Horse-Pulling Winners at Fair Named

Watertown Man Takes Heavyweight Contest at Chilton

CHILTON — Steven Lance of Watertown captured the heavyweight division crown in the horse-pulling contest at the Calumet County Fair this weekend

Lance's team pulled 24 feet, 6 inches. The full pull is 27 feet. Second in the same division was Harvey Tank, Appleton, 21 feet, 3 inches Others were Ray Garb, Beaver Dam, 19 feet, 2 inches; Louis Skinkis, Sobeski, who is the granddaddy of the pullers at age 74, pulled 17 feet, 5 inches; and Russell Larson, Denmark, 11 feet, 11 inches.

In the lightweight division, Dennis Baroun, Reedsville, pulled 23 feet, 2 inches; Maurice Barclay, Seymour, 22 feet, 11 inches; Bud Ward, Waterloo, 21 feet, 9 inches; Phil Ziebell, Cambridge, 20 feet, 3 inches; and Michael Barclay, Seymour, 17 feet, 10 inches

The lightweights pulled from 2,500 to 6,000 pounds while the heavyweight division was from 3,500 to 6 500 pounds

Orin Meyer, Calumet County Agent who has been calling the teams for the past 30 years at the fair, said this is the first time there has ever been so many entered in the heavyweight division. He said the conditions of the horses and track were excellent

This year the teams pulled a stone boat which they claimed gives the horses a more natural pull. Years before this a dynomonitor was used. However, according to Meyer, a survey taken among the pullers showed a preference for the stone boat.

Both winners were awarded plaques and money.

Construction Firm Hit By 2 Freak Accidents

WAUPACA — Faulks Brothers Construction Co. had two pieces of heavy equipment damaged Saturday in two freak accidents which occurred within an hour.

"It just wasn't our day," commented Oliver Faulks at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, looking at the payloader machine which had just been removed from the channel between Columbia and Dake lakes. It was resting on a flatbed in the center of Cleghorn Road.

At 9:21 a.m., Saturday, Beryl W. Upp, 24, was driving a concrete mixer on West Road, approximately 1.5 miles west of State 22 and Stratton Lake, when he was forced off the road by an unidentified vehicle. The mixer was heavily damaged and Beryl received a scraped leg.

Answering a call to help upright the mixer, Ralph Peterson was driving a Faulks payloader south on Cleghorn Road and failed to negotiate the turn onto the narrow bridge crossing the channel between Columbia and Dake lades. The machine shot through the guard rail, dropped sixteen feet and landed right side up in the middle of the narrow channel. Peterson complained of a stiff neck after the accident.

For six hours the machine blocked the channel, keeping boaters on Dake and Minor lakes confined to those waters, including the Chain O'Lakes Water Patrol boat which is moored on Dake Lake.

Damage to the two machines has not been estimated.

Terry Anne Will Sing Up a Storm

Special to the Post-Crescent

ATLANTIC CITY — Terry Anne Meeuwsen, Miss Wisconsin of 1972, brings a lot of talent and a wealth of performing experience with her to the Miss America Pageant.

Miss Wisconsin is a singer and as such has had leading parts in her college musicals. Above this, however, she sang with the New Christy Minstrels, traveling and performing extensively in five other countries besides the U.S.

"I sang with the Minstrels for two years," Terry noted, "after which I left them for a variety of reasons. I had hoped during my tours to make some individual contacts but this proved impossible, I found that people came to hear the Christys as a group and there was little or no opportunity for individual advancement.

"We were on the road 50 weeks of the year and I discovered that my interest in this work was burning itself out.

"Marking Time"

"I love to sing but I didn't want to continue to perform with this organization after I felt that I had accomplished as much as I could. To remain would merely be marking time."

Miss Wisconsin said her goal is to be able to go to New York City to study voice and drama.

"I have been singing ever since I was a little girl. I love all kinds of music, except maybe hard rock or acid rock. I like music that all types of people can communicate with, that they feel they can relate to, and for me this means singing a lot of popular tunes."

Music-loving Terry Anne, who will be singing up a storm during this week's pageant, will be surrounded by melody tonight as she rides along the resort's famed Boardwalk in the pageant parade.

This is the public's first opportunity to view the 50 state queens who travel the six-mile parade route in convertibles accompanied by glittering floats and countless marching bands.

Terry is looking forward to the parade. "It's a very strange feeling when you've watched the parade for years on TV; then suddenly you find that you are going to be actually participating in it yourself," she said.

"It is hard to realize and extremely exciting."

For this occasion, Miss Wisconsin will wear a navy-colored silk formal with bodice encrusted with ice blue beads. The costume features a long hooded cape lined with ice blue brocade.

She arrived in the resort Saturday afternoon, flying in from Oshkosh to Chicago, then to Philadelphia. From there she came to Atlantic City.

"We left at 7 a.m. with a number of friends at the airport to see me off," she says. "One thing happened which sort of shook me up. Half my luggage was left behind because we neglected to empty one of the car trunks. I was missing six pieces of luggage. Then three more pieces had to be left in Philadelphia because the airline didn't have room for them.

"Hopefully, they will catch up with me here in time for the pageant."

Miss Wisconsin participated Monday in the official pageant registration, during which the state queens are introduced to each other and were briefed on the coming activities.

For registration, Terry wore a costume which featured a velvet blazer and long knit skirt, with a riding hat.

Area Man Dies in Cycle Crash

SHAWANO — A 38-year-old rural Larsen man was killed Sunday afternoon when he lost control of his motorcycle on a curve two miles northeast of Lunds in Shawano County.

Ralph A. Giebel, route 1, Larsen, was pronounced dead on arrival at Shawano Community Hospital shortly after the 4:30 p.m. accident. He was headed northeast on Shawano County T at the time of the accident, according to the sheriff's report. Giebel was alone and reportedly was not wearing a helmet.

His death is the 13th traffic fatality in Shawano County this year. A total of 10 persons died on county roads last year.

He is survived by his widow, his parents, a daughter, a son, four brothers and his maternal grandmother.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Grace Lutheran Church, Winchester, with burial in Union Cemetery, Hortonville.

Visitation will be from 6 to 9 p.m. today and until 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Kessler Funeral Home, Neenah, and afterward at the church.

Appleton Boy's Body Found in Pond at Camp

Allen Tjossem, 15, Had Been Reported Missing by Family

The body of a 15-year-old Appleton boy, who disappeared Friday night while camping with his family near Rochester, N. Y. was found early Monday in a pond at the Pine Ridge Camp ground.

Allan Tjossem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert K. Tjossem, 911 E. Hancock St., would have been a junior at Appleton High School-East. He had been camping with his family for about two days at the campground when he was reported missing. His family was notified of the death, ruled a drowning on Monday morning.

Funeral services are pending at the Wichmann Funeral Home.

A Milwaukee boy became Winnebago County's 13th drowning victim of the year Monday when he fell into the Fox River east of the new Main Street Bridge in Oshkosh.

The body of Randolph Gardner, 7, son of Mrs. Dorothy Gardner, Milwaukee, was recovered from the river about 100 yards from Court Street by Winnebago County police. The drowning occurred about 1.45 p.m.

The boy was fishing or playing with his mother and grandmother, also of Milwaukee, when he apparently leaned too far over the river bank.

The Oshkosh Fire Department assisted in the search for the body with scuba divers and a rescue squad.

Three other persons drowned in Wisconsin waters during the Labor Day weekend. Joyce Ann Schmidgall, 24, of Minneapolis, drowned early Monday in a boating accident on Lake Pepin.

Otto Lund, 74, of Junek's Point, drowned Sunday in Lake Namakagon in Bayfield County when he apparently fell from his fishing boat while attempting to start the boat's engine.

Wilbert Rasmussen Jr., 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Rasmussen of Milwaukee, drowned Saturday in an above ground pool in Caledonia. Police recovered his body from the pool at the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hrdina, Milwaukee.

Police and Fire

CLINTONVILLE — The volunteer fire department was called at 10:50 a.m. Saturday to extinguish a car fire at the shopping center parking lot.

Gasoline had backed up into the air cleaner of the car operated by Mrs. Frank Lucia, Marion, but only minor damage resulted.

Leopolis Player Gets BABA Hitter Title

Steve Kristof of Leopolis captured the individual batting championship of the eastern and western division of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association with a .429 average.

Kristof pounded out four hits in five trips on the final day of the regular season at Bowler to jump from 12th place to first in one of the closest-bunched batting races in recent history. Teammate Rick Otto, who sat out the final game, was runner-up with a .421 mark.

Four others also finished above the .400 mark. Chuck Stoehr of Shawano was third with .417, Dave Foresburg of Menominee County fourth with .415, Dan Brandenburg of Marion fifth with .409 and Skip Miller of Gresham sixth with .404.

Although the batting race was close, averages were generally down over previous years. There were 31 players who hit 300 or better compared to 37 last year and 40 in 1970. A minimum of 35 at-bats was required to qualify.

Marion won team batting honors with a .316 average, while having five players over the .300 mark. Menominee County hit .315 as a team and had six regulars over .300. Jim Petcka of Clintonville and Gene Schlender of Tigerton had six home runs apiece to share laurels in that department. It was the third year in a row that Petcka has won or tied for the honor.

Petcka and Bruce Breitenfeldt of Caroline each scored 20 times to share in that category and Ray Murphy of Bowler led in base hits with 22.

Skip Miller of Gresham was the only player to hit safely in all 13 games. Tom Smith of Caroline, Roger Griepentrog of Marion and Murphy hit safely in 12 of 13 games. Smith went hitless in the opener and then [illegible] 12 consecutive [illegible] the district games.

Marion's trio of hurlers — Ken Lodewegan, Mike Daley and Rick Reiss—finished 1-2-3 in the pitching department, topped by Lodewegan's 5-0 mark. Orman Waukau of Menominee posted the most wins with nine.

Murphy of Bowler had the most strikeouts in one game with 21 against Tigerton. He also fanned 18 twice and threw a one-hitter against Tilleda.

The best one-game total of the year was turned in by Gene Schlender and Charley Kielblock of Tigerton who combined for 23 strikeouts against Tilleda. Schlender whiffed 17 in seven innings and Kielblock added six more.

Other teams and their batting averages included Shawano .294, Clintonville 285, Leopolis .272, Caroline .263, Bowler .259, Gresham 245, Tigerton .233, Tilleda .227, Big Falls 223 and Cecil .201.

Menominee County hit 20 home runs and scored 126 runs to lead in both departments. Clintonville was runnerup with 18 homes and 117 runs, while Leopolis hit 15 out of the park. Totals ranged downward with Tilleda bringing up the rear with one homer and Cecil scored the fewest runs with 38.

School Board Sets Schedule

MARION — The school board has announced that it will meet Sept. 11 at the Caroline school instead of the Marion elementary school, which is the usual meeting place.

In October the regular meeting will be at the Leopolis school and in November at the school in Big Falls.

The reason for the changes in meeting places is to enable the board to inspect building facilities in these outlying areas of the district.

Obituaries

Mrs. Ellen B. Baumgarten

2015 Peters Rd., Kaukauna

Age 73, passed away Sunday morning after several months illness. She was born October 15, 1898 in Shawano. She was a Kaukauna resident most of her lifetime and had made her home with her son Elmer for the past 16 years. Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Jerome (Marie) Frank, Appleton; Mrs. Kenneth (Marion) Juse, Mrs. Roy (Esther) Cropsey, Mrs. George (Florence) Anderson and Mrs. Nick (Dorothy) Milbach all of Kaukauna; five sons, Raymond and Elmer, Kaukauna; William, Oneida; Robert, Fairfield, California; Edward, Kimberly; one brother, Frank Dietzler, Lena; two sisters, Mrs. Violet St. Peter, Mrs. Charles (Gabriella) Boiven, Milwaukee; 32 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday from St. Mary Catholic Church, Kaukauna. Interment will be in the parish cemetery with the Rev. Charles Fredericks, officiating. Friends may call at the Greenwood Funeral Home after 2 p.m. Tuesday. There will be a rosary at 7 p.m. and a wake service at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

schools and organizations, for program expansion.

There is some interaction now with the outside, especially Merrill, in such areas as sports, recreation and work release, Imler said.

He also is working toward development of a halfway house on the 800-acre grounds. Funds are being sought to improve an old farmhouse and barn for use as a halfway house where youngsters could live and work while being prepared for their return to society.

While Cane was "very impressed" by the total program at Lincoln, by its staff and by the "willingness to try new ideas," he felt that there might be too much of a rural orientation that may be inherent in its rural setting.

Many Fox Valley youths do not have a rural background, he said, and will not enter a rural society when they get out of Lincoln.

It is not likely that Cane, because he liked what he saw at Lincoln, will add significantly to its population. But indications were that he will weigh its use in more of the borderline cases that come before him in Court Branch 3.

Cane also said he would like to visit Lincoln every six months.

1968 Presidential Election No Criteria of '72 Prospects

BY JOHN P. ROCHE

Stewart Alsop, one of the wisest and most perceptive practitioners of the art-form, once observed that writing a column was like climbing a ladder with an infinite number of rungs. Just about the time the typewriter cools off from one outburst, you warm it up for another.

This time I am going to cheat a bit. When I began writing a column I got my wife to promise to shoot me, the way they do old horses, if I started writing the same column over and over again. However today, with a full consciousness of the fact, I want to recapitulate some material I ran shortly after the 1968 Presidential election.

The reason for this revival is the persistent myth that the 1968 contest was "close." Thus when a recent Daniel Yankelovich Survey, conducted for Time magazine, indicated that President Nixon was ahead of Senator McGovern by 56 to 28 in the 16 largest states, there were sudden gasps of horror. In Texas, for example, Nixon led McGovern by 62 to 23.

Humphrey's Poor Showing

The figures are hardly reassuring to the Democrats, but what is uniformly overlooked is that in 1968 Hubert Humphrey won only five states and the District of Columbia by an absolute majority. (They were, in Richard Scammon's formulation, "the 2 minority states: Hawaii and the District; the 2 home states: Minnesota and Maine; and the 2 Catholic states: Massachusetts and Rhode Island.") Humphrey did not even get a majority in New York, though he lost it by a whisker.

The difference in 1968 was, of course, George Wallace, who pulled 13.5 per cent of the vote. If Wallace had not been on the ticket in Texas, for example, the probable outcome would have been Nixon, 59 per cent; Humphrey, 41 per cent. It is true that some commentators, by a logical process that can only be described as bizarre, have tried to explain that the Wallace voters of 1968 were "populists" who are now ripe for conversion by McGovern. In other words, the average Wallace voter, down deep inside, is just longing for a chance to back a "radical."

This is true in one sense and one sense only: they are longing for a chance to back a "radical" who will repudiate the "liberal Establishment" which, in their view, has let the flag be dishonored, let criminals run loose, and left the North Vietnamese dikes intact. (Ramsey Clark may have put ideas in people's heads: after listening over the radio to Clark denounce alleged dike-busting in North Vietnam, a Boston taxi driver turned to me and said, "That doesn't sound like a bad idea at all – it would really fix those commie-!")

Opportunity for Blackmail

What threw a number of analysts of the Wallace factor off was the big pull he had in, say, the Michigan Democratic primary. Obviously a number of traditional Democrats, who will doubtless end up voting for McGovern in November, hit the Wallace lever. But the primaries provide a marvelous opportunity for political blackmail, a chance to vent your aggressions without paying any penalties. Wallace's hard-core support in Michigan in 1968 was only 10 per cent – but that bloc of 332,000 voters clearly voted against Humphrey. If Nixon had picked them up, he would have carried the state.

The 1968 election, then, was "close" only in the sense that Nixon edged out Humphrey by 43.4 per cent to 42.7. Ideologically it was a conservative landslide which, fortunately for the Democrats, had minimal spillover to the rest of the ticket. This time it's a head on confrontation where the Republicans have the advantage of an incumbent president leading a united party.

And just keep in mind, whenever discussions of 1968 take place, that the significant statistics is not that Humphrey only lost by half a million votes, but that 57 per cent of the electorate voted against him.

Sentencing Today For Priest, Nun

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Rev. Philip Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth McAlister, convicted of smuggling prison mail that included letters outlining an alleged antiwar plot to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger, will face sentencing today in U S. District Court.

Berrigan, 48, now serving a six-year term for destroying draft board records in Maryland, could get as much as 40 years more, a maximum of 10 years on each of four counts

Sister Elizabeth, 32, suspended as an art history teacher at Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y., could receive 30 years. She was found guilty of three counts of illegally introducing mail in 1970 into the Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal Penitentiary where Berrigan then was imprisoned.

Federal Judge R. Dixon Herman, who presided at the 11-week Harrisburg 7 trial that ended in April with the Kissinger conspiracy charge unresolved, last week turned down defense motions to set aside the convictions as discriminatory prosecutions based partly on illegal wiretaps.

Lawyers for the priest and nun argued that thousands of letters are carried in and out of prisons every year, without permission of the warden, and the only penalty when caught is a suspension of privileges.

Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth had been on trial with five other peace activists, but only they were convicted.

Not Charged

The others, including two priests, a Pakistani scholar and a former priest married to an ex-nun, were not accused of smuggling prison mail.

The jury deadlocked on the key part of the indictment that involved all defendants — that they conspired to kidnap Kissinger on Washington's birthday, 1971, to force American withdrawal from Vietnam; that they plotted to blow up tunnels that carry heat to federal buildings in the nation's capital; and that they schemed to vandalize draft boards around the country as an escalation of the anti-war movement.

The Justice Department has not indicated whether it plans to retry the Harrisburg 7 on the kidnap-bomb charges.

The defense team, led by former U S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, charged the government case was tainted and relied heavily on a paid FBI informer who testified he was recruited as a courier by Berrigan and then betrayed him.

Berrigan and Boyd Douglas Jr., the informer, were inmates at the Lewisburg Penitentiary in the spring and summer of 1970 when the government alleges the priest masterminded the kidnap-bomb plot. Berrigan is now in the Federal Correctional Institute at Danbury, Conn.

Douglas said he carried 24 letters exchanged between the priest and the nun. He was free to leave the penitentiary daily as a study-release student at nearby Bucknell University.

Bonn Talks in Session

BONN, Germany (AP) — Abraham L. Chayes, chief foreign policy adviser to Sen. George McGovern, has arrived in Bonn for talks with West German officials.

Chayes, who conferred with prominent bankers in Frankfurt on Monday, also will meet with Foreign and Defense Ministry officials as well as politicians of both major West German parties.

He is expected to concentrate on explaining the European policy concepts of McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate.

Japanese Cabinet Told of Meeting

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka told his cabinet today he had no disagreements with President Nixon during their summit meeting in Honolulu last week.

Tanaka said Nixon expressed understanding for Japan's moves to normalize its relations with Communist China, and the two leaders confirmed their determination to open a new era of friendly relations between Japan and the United States.

Tanaka also told Nixon it would be difficult to resolve economic problems between the United States and Japan in a year, and the American leader showed his understanding on that matter, officials said

Tanaka, who become prime minister two months ago, plans to visit Peking to normalize relations. No date has been announced, but the newspaper Asahi reported from Peking that the visit is expected to start Sept 23 and last five days.

Susumu Niaido, the chief cabinet secretary, said the Chinese have agreed to a Japanese request to expand the Japanese press corps to cover Tanaka's visit from 130 to 150. This compares with 87 American newsmen admitted with President Nixon last February .

Mrs. Irving in Custody, Hopes For Fair Trial

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Edith Irving said when formally being taken into custody: "I surrender because I hope and believe that I will be given a fair trial."

Mrs. Irving, who entered a Zurich jail Monday, is charged in connection with a $650,000 fraud stemming from the Howard Hughes autobiography hoax of her writer-husband, Clifford Irving

Authorities say that under the complex Swiss system the formal indictment on fraud, forgery and counterfeiting charges may not be drawn up until next year. They added, however, that the two months she served in the Untied States in connection with the case would be deducted from her sentence if convicted here.

Swiss officials announced last week that most of the money paid out by McGraw-Hill for the fake biography had been returned to the New York City publishers.

Mrs. Irving's husband, Clifford, is serving a 2½ - year term in the Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal Penitentiary for his part in the scheme.

Cutback Set At Taycheedah

35 to be Laid Off As Inmate Numbers Continue to Decline

TAYCHEEDAH, Wis. (AP) — The staff at Wisconsin's only women's prison will be cut by one-third and one of two main buildings will be closed effective Sept. 30, officials at the institution report.

Lewis McCauley, superintendent of the Wisconsin Home for Women at Taycheedah, said the cutbacks result from a declining inmate population and an attempt to trim the institution's budget.

He said there was no pressure from state officials to make the cutbacks, but "I'm sure they feel this is in order and I'm sure they'll be happy about it."

Numbers Dropped

The Governor's Task Force on Offender Rehabilitation has recommended replacing the state's prison facilities by 1975 with community-based treatment facilities.

McCauley said inmate numbers have dropped recently because of a decrease in new commitments to the home, increased leniency in granting parole and probation and fewer revocations of parole.

The average number of inmates at Taycheedah stood at 150 in 1970 and about 100 in 1971, while the average could drop to less than 75 for 1972. At present there are about 75 inmates.

The changes will reportedly cut the amount spent on salaries at the institution by about $350,000 from the total of $1.1 million spent in the 1971-72 fiscal year.

35 Employes

Termination notices have gone to 35 employes, nine of them at the professional or supervisory level. Plans are underway to close Neprud Hall which has housed between 30 and 40 inmates during the past year.

McCauley said a side effect of the cutbacks would be to free the building for another use by the state.

"I'm sure that whatever happens, it's going to be used," he said.

The employes being terminated have attended meetings at the institution to learn of severance rights and options for the future, but James Lizak described the experience as "traumatic" for many of them.

"You tend to think of state employment as permanent," Lizak, the personnel director who is among those being terminated, said.

Revolutionary Struggle Way of Life in China

By BARBARA W. TUCHMAN
Written for The Associated Pres

As prescribed by Mao 30 years ago, cultural and intellectual exercise exists only to serve the Revolution. As such it becomes propaganda. Its foundations in China are firm, its structure protective. It exhorts, reassures, and has an answer for everything.

This is the first of four stories by Prize-winning historian Barbara W. Tuchman, who has just returned from an extended visit in China.

On the basis that Marxism is "irrefutable truth" and Mao Tse-tung Thought the one and only "correct revolutionary line," it presumes an on-going struggle between "the two lines." The other line is revisionism, meaning the effort to revert to the "capitalist road" as represented by Liu Shao-chi, the veteran Communist and former President until his ouster in 1967, now the anti-Christ of the system.

This is the class struggle which is perpetual and never won because "bourgeois thinking" never gives up its effort to subvert the revolution, and is never defeated. If it were there would be no "struggle," which is essential to the system. Victory will only come with the final achievement of socialism, which like the Kingdom of Heaven or the Second Coming lies always ahead.

Maoist Principles

Meanwhile, the main Maoist principles for keeping the struggle going are: 1. Serve the People; this is the whole purpose of the society. 2. Increase production; all former "consumer" cities and communities must become producers and self-suppliers. 3. Self-reliance; the people down to the most local level must generate their own innovations and energies for the increase of production. 4. Continuing renewal of "revolutionary consciousness" and continuing guard against divorce from the reality of manual labor and the life of the masses. 5. Non-aggression and non-interference in the affairs of other states, based on the dictum that China can never be aggressive because aggression is incompatible with socialism. Non-interference is a rather more elastic matter.

Sixth and most recent — and weakest — is the principle that all states are equal in status, Albania no less than the Soviet Union, Yemen on a par with the United States, and China is the friend of all based on a firm distinction, where necessary, between "good" peoples and "bad" governments.

This convenient credo permits the new "friendship" with countries like the United States and Japan while maintaining an alert agasint the designs of imperialism and militarism, and at the same time reassures the Chinese people that all "peoples" are really on their side.

Western Systems

If one suggests to them that under the Western system of representative government, the idea of a chasm between bad government and good people is a delusion and that in fact democratic governments, despite protest and opposition, tend on the whole to reflect their electorates, the Chinese remain hapily unconvinced. They rest on Marxist dogma that the working class "masses" are ipso facto always right and thus cannot support what is wrong, like the war in Vietnam. If one suggests that America has no working class conscious of identity as such, they do not comprehend.

The media for communicating these six principles and their basic premise make up in persistence what they lack in variety.

The basic form is study and Mao Tse-tung Thought in school, neighborhood, office, commune and factory. At the steel smelting plant in Taiyuan, employing 50,000 workers, the study groups meet after work for 1½ hours four times a week with one session devoted to technical subjects and three to political thought and current affairs, occasionally varied by recreation and sport.

Reading Matter

When it comes to reading matter, there are two national newspapers, Peoples Daily and Workers Daily, distributed by mail subscription, plus various provincial papers. Content is more lectures than news, and anything but fresh. On July 6, an editorial in Peoples Daily, which it was thought worthwhile to reprint in the Peking Monthly Review, edited for foreigners, stated: "The extremely important instruction, 'Read and study seriously and have a good grasp of Marxism,' was issued by our great leader Chairman Mao after summing up the party's experience in the struggles between the two lines...Leading cadres of the party committees have warmly responded to Chairman Mao's call and conscientiously studied the works of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin and Chairman Mao's works. This is becoming common practice and has brought certain results."

There are two glossy magazines published in many languages and intended mainly for foreigners though eagerly read by the Chinese, and at least one popular magazine presumably obtained, like the newspapers, by mail for there are no newsstands except for occasional small street tables displaying a newspaper and a few pamphlets and Mao Thought booklets.

No News-Stands

To imagine an American or European city without its newsstands in streets, stores and subways is to visualize how striking is their lack in China. Wall newspapers mounted behind glass exist, some with newsprint, most given over mainly to photographs exhibiting various proletarian triumphs in harvesting, athletics, ship-building, barefoot-doctoring and other examples of "overfulfilling the quota."

Although TV exists to the extent of one or two hours of programming a day, I never saw a set outside the hotels for foreigners nor was ever shown one in factory, commune, school, street committee or other institution, much less a home. Radios, however, are prized: of the 80 households in the Chao Chang neighborhood in Loyang, 22 possessed radios, and young men walk in the parks carrying transistors.

Dull Bookstores

Bookstores including foreign language bookstores are almost as much a shock as the missing newsstand for instead of color and variety they display pile upon pile of little monotone booklets either of Marxist classics (judging by the remainder piles even loyal Chinese are not avidly interested in "The Critique of the Gotha Program." which is understandable) or Maoist Thought or illustrated story books based on the film of the opera of the ballet of The White-Haired Girl, which has been playing for 20 years, or The Red Detachment of Women or Dragon River or another of the familiar dramas whose theme is invariably the heroic collective triumph over landlords, Japanese, counter-revolutionaries and other evils.

That this fare needs some enrichment has evidently been recognized by the authorities, for the new editions, with suitable introductions, of the classic Chinese novels — Water Margins, Three Kingdoms and others — have appeared, as well as the works of some "bourgeois" Western economists. When these went on sale, the crush at the bookstores, according to foreign residents of Peking, was epic, and copies are now hard to come by, as they are always sold out.

22 Classes Dropped for Lack of Enrollment

OSHKOSH — Twelve off-campus evening credit classes offered by the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh College of Continuing Education had sufficient enrollment during the first session this week to assure their continuation for the entire fall semester, according to Robert R. Bolin, credit class coordinator.

Another 16 classes will be continued for a session on Tuesday through Thursday of next week, and on Monday, Sept. 11, to determine if the enrollment is sufficient for a continuation of that class.

Twenty-two other classes did not have sufficient enrollment at the first session to assure its being continued for the semester, Bolin said.

Police Question Six Youths in Oshkosh Blaze

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh police apprehended six Oshkosh youths between the ages of 8 and 10 for questioning in connection with a fire which caused an estimated $10,000 damage to a storage warehouse located at 584 Broad St. and formerly owned by the Dumphy Boat Co. about 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

No injuries were reported. The fire reportedly was started by the children, who had apparently entered the locked building and ignited loose building materials.

The fire damage was mostly confined to the central area of the warehouse, a single story metal - clad structure approximately 50 by 150 feet.

An adjacent warehouse containing furniture sustained smoke damage, but an estimate as to the extent was not available

The fire ws extinguished in about 15 minutes.

Mediterranean May Soon See Russian Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials predict the Soviet Union will send helicopter carriers and more intelligence-gathering ships into the Mediterranean to make up for the forced withdrawal of Russian reconnaissance planes from Egypt.

TU16 reconnaissance bombers flying from Egyptian bases had been used by the Russians to keep watch on movements of the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. These planes reportedly returned to Russia several weeks ago after Egyptian President Anwar Sadat ordered Soviet advisers and technicians out of his country.

Most of an estimated 15,000 to 18,000 Russian military men then in Egypt are reported to have left. But the Soviet navy still is using three Egyptian ports.

Pentagon intelligence authorities say the Russians still are adjusting to changes and the possibility that the Soviet navy eventually may have to move its base of Mediterranean operations.

"Reconnaissance will be a problem for them now," said one Pentagon expert.

To deal with this problem, officials said, the Russians probably will augment the 50 or so Soviet naval vessels in the Mediterranean with one or both of the Soviet Union's helicopter carriers, the Moskva and the Leningrad. Choppers from these vessels could then patrol in sight of U.S. warships

The Moskva and Leningrad normally are based in the Black Sea. They have sortied into the Mediterranean for limited periods, sometimes en route to exercises in the Atlantic. Up to now they have not been attached to the Soviet Mediterranean fleet for extended duty

In addition to helicopters, Pentagon officials said, the Soviet navy may add to the four or five AGI intelligence ships usually in the Mediterranean. AGIs, which look much like trawlers, are equipped with sophisticated electronic gear for surveillance and monitoring radio traffic

Meanwhile, U.S. intelligence sources said Soviet repair ships, submarine tenders, oilers and other auxiliaries still are moored in Alexandria, Mersa Matruh and Port Said. And Russian warships are being served in those Egyptian ports as before.

Fewer than 1,000 Russian support specialists are believed to have been stationed there, and sources said they assume some have left.

Departure from Port Said of a Soviet naval amphibious group in mid-August prompted some analysts to expect a Russian naval withdrawal from Egyptian ports. However, intelligence authorities say that amphibious group has returned to Port Said

One development in Soviet naval deployment still is unexplained. This involved the appearance of two OSA-class missile-firing patrol boats in the Mediterranean for the first time. Some analysts thought the patrol boats were destined for transfer to some Soviet client nation, such as Syria, but they remained in Russian hands, sources said.

Senior U.S. naval officials say Syria is about the only country around the rim of the Mediterranean which might provide port facilities to the Russian navy if it finally is ousted from Egypt. But while Syria has received considerable military aid from Russia, the Syrian government is said to be none too eager to provide naval bases for the Soviet Union.

Soviet admirals in recent years reportedly have tried to persuade Algerian leaders to allow the Russian navy to operate from Mers El Kabir, once a major French naval base. But American authorities say they are confident the proposal was rejected.

Pompidou Invited To Visit Peking

PARIS (AP) — President Georges Pompidou has announced that he will make an official trip to China at the invitation of the Peking government.

Speaking to French journalists at Elysee Palace, his official residence, Pompidou declined Monday to say specifically when he would make the trip. But he said it would be in the near future.

Teachers Strike in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Public school teachers in the nation's fourth largest city went out on strike today, refusing to give up what the School Board says is the shortest high school working day in the nation.

Affected are 13,000 teachers, 5,000 paraprofessional union members and 285,000 pupils, who are due to begin classes Thursday.

The teachers were to report for work today.

Bargainers for both sides agreed that the key dispute centers on the board's demand that secondary level teachers extend their work day from five hours to five hours, 40 minutes.

The board, $52 million in debt, has offered raises of $330 a year to the 5,000 city teachers now at top scale, but also has asked that other salaries be frozen and that 485 positions be phased out by adjustments in class size in an effort to save $11 million.

TO $17,000

The teachers, in a last of 400 demands, have asked for pay raises averaging 34 per cent on their scale that now ranges from $8,900 for a beginner to $17,000 for a veteran with a Ph.D.

Jack Soloff, negotiator for the board, said, "Senior high school teachers in Philadelphia have the shortest day of any in the United States. . .I feel the problem we face with the PFT (Philadelphia Federation of Teachers) crystalizes around this one issue."

John Ryan, the union's negotiator, said, "We're willing to negotiate on the salary package, but we'll definitely not negotiate on the longer high school day or larger class size."

The teachers are demanding a 25-student class size, based on enrollment. The school board wants to base the class size on attendance, which would increase the student ratio.

Won't Open

School Supt. Matthew Costanzo has indicated the city's 280 public schools would not remain open unless enough teachers showed up to work. Mary Mealey, president of a faction called the Philadelphia City Education Association, said her group with a "couple thousand members" would cross picket lines.

The executive chairman of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, Abe Belsky, said it would review the situation to see if fact-finding moves are necessary.

Efforts Were to Resume Today to separate the 12,300 ton C. E. Dant and the 9,000 ton Agean Sea. The Dant plowed into the other freighter early Monday in the Strait of Juan de Fuca, near Victoria, B.C. and the Canadian tugboat Sudbury II was dispatched to tow the vessels to Victoria. # Lake Rower Quits; Woman Gets Boat

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP) -Newswoman Marilyn Ames went out Sunday to cover the story of an unsuccessful attempt to row across Lake Michigan and wound up unexpectedly as owner of the boat involved.

The veteran newswoman, who covers Oceana County for the Muskegon Chronicle, paid $30 for a boat she swears is "worth well over $300."

As she explained it, "My office called me and asked me to go over to Ludington and talk to Tom Solem of Rockford, Ill., who was making his third try this year to row across the treacherous 60 miles." Solem, 35, a loader of railroad box cars, has his mind set on college and a career in newspaper work, he said.

He pulled up anchor Sunday and set out on his adventurous sail from Ludington to Sheboygan, Wis.—his third and probably final try of the season. The other two ended in a hurry when the weatherman dealt Solem nothing but high winds and high waves which caused him to get back to shore.

This time, Solem got out on the lake five miles out of Pentwater when he ran into rough going again. He signalled a passing Coho fishing boat Brandywyne, owned by Joe Kimmerley of Niles, and asked for a tow which was granted.

The fishing boat docked, pulling the 15-foot New England dory behind it—a dory equipped with everything from a compass to food and life preservers

"I talked with Solem and found him to be such a determined man — one convinced he could make the long row," said Mrs. Ames

Solem took aim on the goal of a 60-mile crossing in 24 hours but failed. He is convinced there will be another day.

Mrs. Ames, who met Solem for the first time Sunday, said she found him "a real sincere fellow."

She and her husband, Jim, accepted Solem's offer to sell his boat for $30 as he said he needed the money to help him enroll in a junior college in the Rockford area.

"We will store the boat in a big barn we have and Solem can buy it back when and if he so desires," she said.

'Rowdies' May Have Soured Wine Festival

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP) — The annual Los Gatos Wine and Cultural Festival, a two-year institution in this sleepy coastal foothill village, may become a thing of the past if the town's lady mayor has her way.

Last weekend, 25,000 festival-goers drank 800 cases of wine under a blazing sun in 90-degree temperatures. The result: Six arrests, two policemen injured and widespread vandalism including theft of two stuffed elephants valued at $24 from the Republican headquarters.

"It was the worst trouble we've ever had here," Mayor Ruth Cannon said recently.

"I'm not going to vote for it again unless these rowdies can be controlled."

The trouble, she said, was caused by motorcycle gangs who invaded the town Sunday afternoon, guzzling cheap wine from their own half-gallon jugs instead of politely sipping the fine wines supplied by 10 Santa Clara County vintners.

Roof Repairs Aided Thieves in Art Loss

MONTREAL (AP) — The three men who stole $2 million worth of art treasures from the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts got in through a section of the skylight that had been under repair, a museum spokesman said.

"The alarm was only partially functioning," said Bill Bantey, the museum's public relations director, after the robbery early Monday "If they had gone through an different section of the skylight, the alarm would have gone off."

The alarm did go off when the robbers opened a door to take out the first part of their booty. They fled, leaving behind 18 other paintings they had stacked.

"They left behind far more important works of art than they took," said Bantey.

The 18 paintings stolen included a Rembrandt landscape valued at $1 million and works by Courbet, Daumier, Delacroix and Gainesborough. The masked men also took 39 pieces of jewelry and figurines.

No arrests have been announced, but all border points were alerted to be on the lookout for the missing art. Interpol, the international police agency, was informed.

Masked Man Takes Jewels From Museum in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A man wearing a ski mask robbed the Field Museum of Natural History's gem collection early today of an undetermined amount of jewels, authorities said.

Police said the man was believed hiding in the museum on the downtown lakefront after its 6 p.m. closing time. A security guard said the man approached him, pulled out a gun and said: "Do as I tell you or I'll shoot you."

Two other guards were rounded up and all marched to the second-floor H. N. Higinbotham Hall where the gem collection cases were broken and the gems taken.

One guard said that after two minutes of lying on the floor face down, the guards became restless and asked if they could get up. By then, the robber was gone.

Post-War Boom Due On Wall Street If . . .

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The stock market will go up when the Vietnam war finally ends — if it follows the patterns set after previous wars of this bloody century and after the start of the Vietnam peace negotiations way, way back in 1968.

But the stock market will continue to go up only if the end of the Vietnam conflict is succeeded by a solid, sustained economic expansion which favors corporation profits, consumer confidence and general investment.

No matter what the stock market's intermediate fluctuations, though, it will evenually move to new all - time highs. This is what the stock market has always done in the past.

The Indochina war must at last be whimpering to an end. It doesn't seem conceivable that it can just go on and on. So what might the stock market do post-Vietnam? Here is the record, measured by the Dow-Jones average of industrial stocks.

After the World War I armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, the stock market rallied, but it couldn't hold the gains and within a week began plunging into a very steep decline. This reflected the fact that the U. S. transition from war to peace was so appallingly bungled that our economy down-spiraled into the "silk shirt" depression of 1920-21. Not until 1924 did the historic bull market of the 1920s take off.

On November 11, 1918, the stock market average was 85.01; a week later it was 79.87; the January 1921 average was 76.76; the January 1924 average was 100.66.

After V-J Day on Sept. 2, 1945, the stock market also soon gave way to a decline. The transition from war to peace after World War II, however, was comparatively smooth and the decline in stock prices was moderate. Again, the war was followed by the historic bull market of the 1950s.

On V-J Day, the stock market average was 173.91; a week later it was 177.03; the January 1946 average was 205.35; the January 1950 average was 201.98.

After the Korean armistice on July 26, 1953, stocks soared, and this time there was scarcely an interruption in the great upswing. For this time, the nation was anticipating a removal of detested wartime controls, an easing of tight money, the start of a business investment boom. The war's end was greeted with overwhelming relief by investors everywhere.

The day of the Korean armistice, the stock market average was 268.46; a week later it was 276.13; the January 1954 average was 292.85; the January 1955 average was 408.89.

After President Johnson's TV announcement on Mar. 31, 1968, that he was ready to de-escalate the war if Hanoi would come to the bargaining table, the stock market went into a virtually perpendicular upsurge — for at that time, the belief was that the negotiations would lead to peace and few observers believed we would still be at this stage of negotiations in 1972.

When the negotiations dragged on and became ever more difficult and when President Nixon's anti-inflation, tight-money policies of 1969 led into the economic recession of 1969-70, stock prices went into the sharpest decline since the 1930s. As measured by the Dow-Jones average, the market is still below the peak it reached in 1966.

The day of President Johnson's TV appearance, the stock market average was 840.67; a week later it was 884.42; the January 1969 average was 947.73; the May 1970 average was 631.16. Today it stands at approximately 970.

To summarize: news of peace is bullish.

Whether it continues bullish depends on the fundamental condition of the economy.

So whether you buy or hold stocks in anticipation of the end of the Vietnam nightmare must depend on whether you think the healthy economic upswing of 1972 will lead into broad, profitable economic upswings in 1973 and 1974.

But no matter what the swings, if you buy right and hold long enough, you'll come out on top.

Agency Proposed To Check Quality Of Health Care

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Despite protests by health professionals that they would rather police themselves, a staff paper by the Governor's Health Task Force has suggested creation of a statewide agency to monitor the quality of health care.

The proposal for a non-governmental but publicly accountable monitoring agency is to be discussed Friday when the task force meets.

Last December, state medical, dental and hospital associations formed a health care review corporation but the task force staff paper said though the idea was innovative, some criticism has been raised against it.

The corporation has said by establishing its own peer review group to check the quality of health care, it avoided imposing a burden on government.

However, the staff paper said, the corporation was nearly invisible to the public and was totally under control of the professionals it was to monitor.

The staff paper also said a state monitoring system would give consumers "clear pathways to resolve grievances."

Jim Nabors' Good Health Sickening

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Actor Jim Nabors reported Thursday that a routine physical examination at the Mayo Clinic showed him in good health.

"My doctor at the clinic told me I'm so healthy it's sickening," the television personality said.

He leaves Friday for an appearance at the New York State Fair in Syracuse and plans to return to his Los Angeles home Monday.

Strange Case of Liddy, Fired by Treasury, Hired by White House

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — G. Gordon Liddy, a central figure in the squalid Watergate case, was fired by the Treasury Department in July 1971 for insubordinate, unauthorized conduct on gun controls — and immediately found a cozy haven in the White House.

The official Nixon administration version of this strange story, both then and now, is that this was nothing but a routine transfer.

Evans

In fact, however, high Treasury officials were flabbergasted and furious when they learned the man they had fired quickly landed a coveted staff job on the White House Domestic Council. From there, Liddy went to the Nixon re-election committee — and subsequent notoriety — without ever having his troubles at the Treasury aired.

This background points up two important facts about Liddy who was fired from the re-election committee June 28 when he refused to answer Federal agents' questions about the June 17 break-in at the plush Watergate's Democratic national headquarters:

Free-Wheeling Record

First, Liddy has a record of free-wheeling without regard for the desires of his superiors; second, he has been protected and supported by senior officials at the White House and has their blessing to this day.

Liddy came to the Treasury in 1969 with a background in law enforcement and right-wing politics in upstate New York. As assistant district attorney in Dutchess County, ex-FBI agent Liddy ran for Congress in 1968 as a law-and-order candidate. Defeated in the Republican primary by Hamilton Fish, Liddy then ran an inactive campaign as a Conservative party nominee. His 9,000 votes nearly defeated Fish.

Nevertheless, freshman Rep. Fish endorsed Liddy's application for a job at the Treasury and so did other Republican politicians. Because of those endorsements and his 1968 role as Dutchess County chairman for Nixon-Agnew, Liddy was hired by Assistant Secretary Eugene Rossides as a special assistant. Although Nixon administration sources now claim Rossides brought Liddy into the Treasury, the fact is they did not even meet until 1969.

Won't Take Orders

Liddy quickly balked at taking orders, particularly when it came to politically volatile gun-control legislation. Rossides was trying to regulate the lethal "Saturday night special" pistols. But Liddy, an ardent gun fancier himself, was marching to a different drummer. High Treasury officials were angered when Liddy conferred privately and without authorization on gun controls with White House and Justice Department officials as well as anti-gun-control lobbyists from the National Rifle Assn. (NRA).

The last straw was the 100th anniversary convention of the NRA here April 4, 1971, when Liddy — without authorization or approval — delivered a speech praising NRA goals and indicating a helping hand against gun controls by the Nixon administration.

His Treasury superiors were outraged and that was the end of Liddy there. But he suffered not a day of unemployment. While in the Treasury, Liddy had worked closely with Egil (Bud) Krogh, top aide to White House domestic policy chief John Ehrlichman. Without even checking the Treasury, the White House elevated Liddy on July 19, 1971, to the lofty reaches of Ehrlichman's office, working under Krogh.

Unaware of Problems

Ehrlichman told us this week he was not aware of Liddy's problems at the Treasury. Krogh would not talk to us but relayed word that he, too, was unaware of the gun-control difficulty.

When the Nixon re-election committee opened up in late 1971, Krogh recommended Liddy as committee counsel. The campaign officials soon encountered the difficulties experienced by the Treasury: Liddy did not follow orders. Routine political assignments were undone.

But nobody in the Nixon campaign structure ever gets fired for such reasons. Liddy was shunted off to Nixon fund-raising operations headed by Maurice Stans, and there he found a happy home, establishing an intimate relationship with Stans which flourished until the Watergate caper.

But oddest of all in the strange case of G. Gordon Liddy are stubborn attempts by high Administration sources to put him in the best light — blaming his troubles at the Treasury on Rossides, denying he was fired, claiming his sudden elevation to the White House was a "rescue" operation to save a valued public official. The same mentality that saved Liddy in 1971 and still works for him may well, through continuing official silence, balloon the Watergate caper into major political scandal.
